Guatemala Faces Exodus Of Envoys Over Spreti Death

GUATEMALA (AP)— Guatemala is threatened with an exodus of ambassadors in the wake of the terrorist slaying of Count Karl von Spreti, the West German envoy.

Msgr. Gerolamo Prigione, the papal nuncio and dean of the diplomatic corps, said Monday night that nearly 70 per cent of the ambassadors "have said they are seriously considering asking their governments to reassign them or withdraw them from Guatemala."

Von Spreti was kidnaped last Tuesday by four members of the anti-government Rebel Armed Forces, or FAR, and was found shot to death Sunday night in a mud hut outside Guatemala City. The government had refused to meet the kidnapers' demands for the release of 22 jailed FAR members and $700,000 in ransom money.

The West German government in retaliation announced it would withdraw the rest of its embassy staff and indicated Guatemala's ambassador to West Germany, Antonio Gandara, was no longer welcome in Bonn.

An army spokesman said special protection was being given to all ambassadors.

The army continued its search for Von Spreti's abductors, patrolling streets and making house-to-house searches under the 30-day state of siege declared by President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro following the kidnaping. But there was no indication that the arrest of the kidnapers was near.

Countess von Spreti spent Monday at the funeral home beside her 63-year-old husband's body, which lay in a cedar casket surrounded by huge wreaths.

The body was to be transferred today to the National Palace to lie in state there until it is returned to West Germany.

Mendez Montenegro declared three days of national mourning and wrote West German Chancellor Willy Brandt that his government had done everything it could to achieve the ambassador's release. The government said to release the prisoners would violate the constitution.

Manila Site Of Earthquake; 3 Persons Dead

MANILA (AP) — At least five persons perished and more than 175 were injured today by a shattering earthquake that shook the central Philippines for nearly a minute.

Most of the known casualties were in Manila. There were fears that the toll would rise when reports come in from the Provinces.

Workers digging through the ruins of a three-story elementary school found four injured teachers and the child of one of them. All schools had been closed for the day because of a transit workers' strike, which fizzled out after one day Monday.

The quake at 1:34 p.m. also caved in a large portion of a high school roof, and other school buildings suffered lesser damage.

One wall at the Manila city jail crumbled and others cracked, but police said none of the 1,500 inmates was injured or escaped.

The three fatalities were a man hit by falling concrete and two young girls pinned under the rubble of a house wall.

Hospitals and infirmaries in the capital reported treating nearly 100 persons, most of whom were treated and released.

The city's tallest building, the 22-story Manila Hilton Hotel, had many cracks in its walls, and chunks of marble and plaster littered its stairwell.

Many office buildings in Manila were evacuated, clogging downtown streets with workers and shoppers trying to get home on jammed public transit facilities.

Some international communication links were cut and telephone service in some areas of Manila was interrupted.

In Naaga City, 165 miles to the south, a water tower burst.

The weather bureau said the quake lasted about 50 seconds and reached an intensity of seven in Manila on the Rossi-Forrel scale, which has a maximum of nine. The U.S. National Earthquake Center in Washington measured the force at 7.2 on the Richter scale of earthquake intensity.

Says Archives Holds Back JFK Death Evidence

CHICAGO (AP) — A suit filed in U.S. District Court contends the National Archives in Washington is withholding information which shows that the late President John F. Kennedy died as the result of a conspiracy and not at the hands of a lone assassin.

The suit filed Monday by legal researcher Sherman Skolnick, demands that the Warren Report be declared void.

The suit asserts that five conspirators planned to kill Kennedy at the Army Air Force football game in Chicago on Nov. 2, 1963. But the assassination attempt was rescheduled for Dallas, the suit said, when the President canceled his Chicago trip because of a cold.

The Warren Commission, appointed by then President Lyndon B. Johnson to investigate the assassination, said Kennedy was killed by a single man, Lee Harvey Oswald, and it could find no evidence of any conspiracy.

The suit states that "less than an hour before the President's scheduled arrival," and three weeks before the assassination, a lithographer, Thomas Arthur Vallee, was arrested in Chicago for a minor traffic violation. Vallee was charged with carrying a concealed weapon after police noticed a hunting knife on the front seat of the car.

Skolnick contends Vallee was one of the conspirators and was "a double for Lee Harvey Oswald." He claims documents now being suppressed show that the car driven by Vallee had New York license plates that were traceable to Oswald.

Skolnick initiated an investigation of two Illinois Supreme Court Justices last year and charged them with impropriety in their business dealings with a Chicago bank. The justices later resigned.

Quiz Army Doctor In Family Slayings

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — The Army says a doctor in its elite Green Berets is being "questioned as a suspect" in the slaying of his wife and two young daughters seven weeks ago.

The doctor, Capt. Jeffrey R. MacDonald, 26, of Patchogue, New York, had said that a hippie-like band of a girl and three men had killed the other members of his family in their Army post apartment and wounded him.

Advised Of Right

Army authorities said Monday they had advised Capt. MacDonald of his right to obtain legal counsel and to remain silent.

An Army spokesman said the captain had not been charged, but was confined to his quarters and could visit mess halls and other facilities only under escort.

He was relieved of his duties in the preventive medicine section at Ft. Bragg, home of the Green Beret Special Forces and the 82nd Airborne Division.

MacDonald has been in the Army since June 20, 1969.

Calls For Help

The bodies of MacDonald's wife, Coleen, also 26, and their daughters, Kimberly, 6, and Kristen, 2, were found before dawn Feb. 17 when military police responded to his telephone call for help.

MacDonald, who had been stabbed several times in the chest, lay next to the body of his wife in the master bedroom. The children were found in separate beds in other rooms.

Authorities said the word "Pig" had been scrawled in blood on the headboard of the master bed.

Blames Hippies

Medical authorities said Mrs. MacDonald and Kimberly had been bludgeoned and stabbed and Kristen had been stabbed.

MacDonald told investigators he had fallen asleeep while reading on a living room couch and when he awoke, he discovered in the room three men and a blonde girl wearing a floppy hat and muddy boots.

He said all were dressed as hippies and one of the men wore an Army field jacket.

The captan was hospitalized at Womack Army Hospital where it was discovered his wounds were not critical. He later attended a funeral service for his wife and children.

Lesser Drug Use Penalty Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee, calling marijuana traffic an $850 million a year business preying on the nation's young people, nevertheless suggested today reducing the penalty for first-time possession of the drug to no more than a week in jail.

Dope Traffic Cited

The House Select Committee on Crime said marijuana traffic "plays a major role in leading increasing numbers of young Americans into tragic drug dependence and into lives of crime and degradation."

But the panel's report, prepared for release today, called the present stiff and unevenly enforced penalties for possession of marijuana a threat to respect for law in general.

"The growing drug culture," said Chairman Claude Pepper, D-Fla., "is rapidly undermining respect for law and is doing serious damage to the ability of the criminal justice system to safeguard the lives and property of the American people."

"Savagely repressive and punitive laws cannot be defended as a solution to the marijuana problem," the 120-page report said.

Arrests Climb

It blamed marijuana arrests for a 322 per cent increase in all drug arrests from 1960 to 1968, when 167,177 persons were arrested, including 43,200 under 18 and 6,243 under 15.

But the report said supposedly documented reports that thousands of young people arrested for simple possession of marijuana have been jailed "are not true" and that the committee found judges seldom jail young people even for selling the drug.

The result of such practices, which it said discriminates against the violators who are jailed, has been widespread disrespect for law in general, the report said.

Ask Misdemeanor Rule

The committee recommended first offense possession of marijuana be made a misdemeanor. It suggested federal legislation be patterned after a Nebraska law which provides for a maximum seven-day jail sentence, segregation of drug violators from other prisoners and a requirement that the violators take a drug abuse education course.

The Nixon administration has also proposed reducing the present two-year minimum, 10-year maximum jail term for marijuana possession or use to a misdemeanor with a maximum one-year prison sentence.

Wide Discretion

In both cases judges would have wide discretion to impose lesser or no sentences or take such action as requiring the drug user to take an education course.

The report's figure of an annual marijuana traffic of $850 million is one of the first estimated, but the committee said it could be far higher.

Grand Jury Quits Kopechne Probe

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The Dukes County grand jury adjourned today after a special session without making any findings in its investigation of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's auto accident last July.

After the grand jury had been in session today only three-quarters of an hour, the foreman, Leslie H. Leland told the court, "we have no presentment to make" and Judge Wilfred J. Paquet adjourned the session.

The grand jury session had been called at the urging of the foreman to investigate the death of Miss Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, found dead of drowning in Sen. Kennedy's car after it plunged into a tidal pool last July 18.

Gets Probation

ALLEGAN (AP) — A 21-year-old Allegan youth has drawn 18 months probation after being convicted of negligent homicide in a traffic crash last October.

Circuit Judge Raymond Smith ordered Thomas Lent placed on probation at his sentencing Monday. Smith was charged after a three - vehicle crash in Otsego Township which claimed the life of Kay Skinner, 22, of Allegan.

Union Printers Hiking Pressure On N.Y. Times

NEW YORK (AP) — Union printers today increased their economic pressure on the New York Times in newspaper contract negotiations by lengthening the duration of chapel meetings to four hours on each shift.

The development came after mediator Theodore W. Kheel warned Monday of a possible newspaper shutdown unless the impasse in negotiations between the city's four major daily newspapers and 10 unions was broken by the weekend.

Members of the 10 unions have been working without contracts for a week but only the printers have taken any job action. They are considered the key to a settlement with the Times, the New York Post, the Daily News and the Long Island Press.

Since the contract expiration, the printers had been stopping work at the Times for about three hours each shift to hold chapel meetings. The union said the tactic was aimed at reducing the amount of advertising copy set.

Cancer Ruled Out In Sheppard Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coroner Robert A. Evans says an autopsy on Dr. Sam Sheppard turned up no visible signs of cancer.

While exact cause of death will not be determined until completion of chemical tests later this week, Dr. Evans said, there were no indications of injury.

He added that it was "obvious that Sheppard drank a great deal but I found no evidence to indicate he had consumed liquor recently."

Sheppard, whose murder trial more than 15 years ago created headlines, died Monday in his suburban home.

Speculation that he might have died of cancer arose after Attorney F. Lee Bailey, who obtained Sheppard's release from prison and second trial, disclosed that Sheppard told him three months ago he had the disease.

Fire Victim

CADILLAC (AP) — A six - year-old Cadillac girl, Margaret Louise Rogers, died Monday afternoon when a fire gutted her home.

Fire officials said she died of smoke inhalation. She was in the house alone during a school lunch break. Authorities could not immediately determine the cause of the blaze.

G. Harrold Carswell

Sen. Fulbright's Vote Seen As Key To Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foes of Judge G. Harrold Carswell's Supreme Court nomination zeroed in today on a handful of senators they say hold the key to reversing an initial setback in the bitter Senate fight.

Although losing 52 to 44 in a first-round vote Monday, the opposition maintained they still have a chance to defeat confirmation of the 50-year-old Tallahassee, Fla., judge in Wednesday's showdown vote.

Scott Confident

But Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and other key supporters said they are confident Carswell will be confirmed, although they conceded a tight margin.

Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, one of eight Republicans who voted to send the nomination back to the Judiciary Committee, told a newsman opponents can block confirmation if they get the vote of Arkansas Democrat J. W. Fulbright.

To Review Situation

Fulbright, who voted to return the nomination to committee, had said he would review the situation before deciding how to vote on confirmation.

The vote Monday on Indiana Democrat Birch Bayh's motion to recommit the nomination, and thus kill it, was not necessarily conclusive because three senators who voted against it—Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, and Robert W. Packwood, R-Ore.—already had announced they would vote against confirmation.

Mum On Final Vote

And a number of other senators, some of whom voted on both sides of the recommittal question, had declined to say how they stand on the showdown vote.

Thirty-three Republican senators were joined by 19 Democrats—most of them Southerners—in voting against Bayh's motion. Favoring it were 36 Democrats and eight Republicans.

The pressures from both sides on senators who have yet to take a stand is likely to be intense before the roll is called.

Agnew May Vote

Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., a Carswell supporter, said the outcome could depend on Vice President Spiro Agnew's vote. The Vice President presides over the Senate and votes in cease of a tie.

"It is now clear that it is a case of raw politics as far as most senators are concerned," Dole said. "It is no longer Carswell's fitness or experience but whether or not the liberals can hang another defeat on President Nixon and—more importantly—prevent President Nixon from establishing some balance on the Supreme Court."

The first Southern judge Nixon nominated for the court post, Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., of Greenville, S.C., was rejected 55 to 45 by the Senate last November.

96 Expected To Vote

An Associated Press survey of the 96 senators expected to be on hand for the Wednesday vote shows 44 for confirmation, 39 against and 13 uncommitted or unwilling to disclose their position.

At his home near Tallahassee, Carswell watched television reports of the Senate action but he declined comment pending the Wednesday confirmation vote.

L'Anse Girl, 26, Found In Water Of Portage Lake

HOUGHTON (AP) — Shirley Frosland, 26, of L'Anse, was found dead in Portage Lake Monday night.

A couple walking on the railroad track under the Portage Lake Lift Bridge discovered her body and called the Houghton County Sheriff's dehartment.

Miss Frosland had been reported missing Nov. 21, 1969. She apparently walked away from the St. Joseph Hospital where she was a patient. She was also a student attending Suomi College in Hancock at the time. Authorities were awaiting an autopsy report on the cause of death.

THIS EARLY MORNING VIEW shows the scene near Saugus, Calif., where four California Highway Patrolmen were shot and killed in a gun battle with two suspects they were going to question. One of the gunmen was later slain and another wounded by other police officers. (AP Wirephoto)

Minor Accident Started Reaction Fatal To Five

SAUGUS, Calif. (AP) — Police said today a minor car collision led to 12 hours of gunfire which left four highway patrolmen and another man shot to death.

Recovering in a hospital from a pistol wound in the chest was a 28-year-old man identified by police as one of the two principals in the lengthy shootout. The second man was dead, of an apparently self-inflicted shotgun blast in the head.

Wounded Man Booked

The wounded man was booked for investigation of murder under the name Russell Lowell Talbert, 28, of Winston-Salem, N.C., the name on identification papers he had on his person.

Winston-Salem police said, however, that a man of the same name in that city had reported his identification papers stolen in a burglary at his home. The FBI was asked to check the wounded man's fingerprints.

Complaint Issued

The police reconstruction of the events which ended with five men dead went like this:

Two officers in a Highway Patrol car received a complaint from a motorist that two men in a car pointed a shotgun at him after a collision on Interstate 5 Freeway about 35 miles north of Los Angeles.

The patrol car chased the two men and spotted their car parked outside a coffee shop here. The occupants of the car shot them down.

Another patrol car pulled up and also came under fire. One of the two officers in this car was killed immediately. His partner held off the gunmen for five minutes before falling mortally wounded

Two Men Flee Scene

The two men fled in their car but abandoned it when the tires went flat on a dead end street. They took to the surrounding hills.

One man, identified by police as Jack W. Twinning, 35, of Winston-Salem, took refuge in the home of Glenn S. Hoag but released him unharmed after a five-hour police siege. When police charged the house with tear gas grenades a shotgun blast rang out and the man fell dead—he "blew his head off," one deputy said.

Meanwhile the second man had exchanged shots with Dan Schwartz, 40, of Chicago, who was in a camper truck. Although wounded, the man fled in the vehicle. He was arrested a short distance away and taken to the rospital.

Flags At Half Staff

The dead highway patrolmen were Roger D. Gore and Walter C. Frago, both 23, George M. Aleyn, 24, and James E. Pence Jr., 25. They left four widows and seven children.

Flags flew at half staff in the state capital of Sacramento, site of California Highway Patrol headquarters. A spokesman said it was the first multiple killing of officers in the patrol's history.

German Measles May Alter Apollo 13 Plans

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 13 crew practiced descending to the moon today while medical specialists hurried blood tests to determine if the astronauts' exposure to German measles is going to delay the $375 million mission a month.

The space agency said it expected a report on the measles investigation late today or early Wednesday.

James A. Lovell Jr., Thomas K. Mattingly II and Fred W. Haise Jr. went ahead with their normal training schedule as if they were going to take off for the moon Saturday on schedule.

The astronauts have been exposed to German measles, usually a childhood ailment, through one of their backup pilots, astronaut Charles Duke, who broke out in a rash Sunday.

If tests show the immunity of any of the three is low, their chief physician probably will recommend that the launching be delayed a month.

Even if their immunity is high, doctors will be faced with a tough decision.

There is no medical experience in the progress of such a disease in a spacecraft environment.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, medical director for Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center, said: "We certainly would be concerned about launching them if there was a possibility they could develop the disease during the mission. It certainly could disable them during the flight."

If the launching is postponed, Lovell, Mattingly and Haise would have to wait a month for their moon trip. Saturday is the only favorable launch day in April for their intended landing area in the Fra Maure Highlands. The next opportunity is May 9.

Delay would be costly. When the Apollo 9 launch was postponed three days last year because of astronaut colds, the space agency estimated the extra cost of the mission at $500,000.

Disclosure that Duke had German measles, known medically as rubella, was made Monday. He had reported his condition to medical authorities Sunday night.

Officials said it was not known how or when Duke was exposed.

But the prime crew continued to practice in spaceship simulators, following a schedule that assumes a launching Saturday.

G. Harrold Carswell

L'Anse Girl, 26, Found In Water Of Portage Lake

HOUGHTON (AP) — Shirley Frosland, 26, of L'Anse, was found dead in Portage Lake Monday night.

A couple walking on the railroad track under the Portage Lake Lift Bridge discovered her body and called the Houghton County Sheriff's dehartment.

Miss Frosland had been reported missing Nov. 21, 1969. She apparently walked away from the St. Joseph Hospital where she was a patient. She was also a student attending Suomi College in Hancock at the time. Authorities were awaiting an autopsy report on the cause of death.

Sen. Fulbright's Vote Seen As Key To Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foes of Judge G. Harrold Carswell's Supreme Court nomination zeroed in today on a handful of senators they say hold the key to reversing an initial setback in the bitter Senate fight.

Although losing 52 to 44 in a first-round vote Monday, the opposition maintained they still have a chance to defeat confirmation of the 50-year-old Tallahassee, Fla., judge in Wednesday's showdown vote.

Scott Confident

But Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and other key supporters said they are confident Carswell will be confirmed, although they conceded a tight margin.

Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, one of eight Republicans who voted to send the nomination back to the Judiciary Committee, told a newsman opponents can block confirmation if they get the vote of Arkansas Democrat J. W. Fulbright.

To Review Situation

Fulbright, who voted to return the nomination to committee, had said he would review the situation before deciding how to vote on confirmation.

The vote Monday on Indiana Democrat Birch Bayh's motion to recommit the nomination, and thus kill it, was not necessarily conclusive because three senators who voted against it—Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, and Robert W. Packwood, R-Ore.—already had announced they would vote against confirmation.

Mum On Final Vote

And a number of other senators, some of whom voted on both sides of the recommittal question, had declined to say how they stand on the showdown vote.

Thirty-three Republican senators were joined by 19 Democrats—most of them Southerners—in voting against Bayh's motion. Favoring it were 36 Democrats and eight Republicans.

The pressures from both sides on senators who have yet to take a stand is likely to be intense before the roll is called.

Agnew May Vote

Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., a Carswell supporter, said the outcome could depend on Vice President Spiro Agnew's vote. The Vice President presides over the Senate and votes in cease of a tie.

"It is now clear that it is a case of raw politics as far as most senators are concerned," Dole said. "It is no longer Carswell's fitness or experience but whether or not the liberals can hang another defeat on President Nixon and—more importantly—prevent President Nixon from establishing some balance on the Supreme Court."

The first Southern judge Nixon nominated for the court post, Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., of Greenville, S.C., was rejected 55 to 45 by the Senate last November.

96 Expected To Vote

An Associated Press survey of the 96 senators expected to be on hand for the Wednesday vote shows 44 for confirmation, 39 against and 13 uncommitted or unwilling to disclose their position.

At his home near Tallahassee, Carswell watched television reports of the Senate action but he declined comment pending the Wednesday confirmation vote.

THIS EARLY MORNING VIEW shows the scene near Saugus, Calif., where four California Highway Patrolmen were shot and killed in a gun battle with two suspects they were going to question. One of the gunmen was later slain and another wounded by other police officers. (AP Wirephoto)

Minor Accident Started Reaction Fatal To Five

SAUGUS, Calif. (AP) — Police said today a minor car collision led to 12 hours of gunfire which left four highway patrolmen and another man shot to death.

Recovering in a hospital from a pistol wound in the chest was a 28-year-old man identified by police as one of the two principals in the lengthy shootout. The second man was dead, of an apparently self-inflicted shotgun blast in the head.

Wounded Man Booked

The wounded man was booked for investigation of murder under the name Russell Lowell Talbert, 28, of Winston-Salem, N.C., the name on identification papers he had on his person.

Winston-Salem police said, however, that a man of the same name in that city had reported his identification papers stolen in a burglary at his home. The FBI was asked to check the wounded man's fingerprints.

Complaint Issued

The police reconstruction of the events which ended with five men dead went like this:

Two officers in a Highway Patrol car received a complaint from a motorist that two men in a car pointed a shotgun at him after a collision on Interstate 5 Freeway about 35 miles north of Los Angeles.

The patrol car chased the two men and spotted their car parked outside a coffee shop here. The occupants of the car shot them down.

Another patrol car pulled up and also came under fire. One of the two officers in this car was killed immediately. His partner held off the gunmen for five minutes before falling mortally wounded.

Two Men Flee Scene

The two men fled in their car but abandoned it when the tires went flat on a dead end street. Thy took to the surrounding hills.

One man, identified by police as Jack W. Twinning, 35, of Winston-Salem, took refuge in the home of Glenn S. Hoag but released him unharmed after a five-hour police siege. When police charged the house with tear gas grenades a shotgun blast rang out and the man fell dead —he "blew his head off," one deputy said.

Meanwhile the second man had exchanged shots with Dan Schwartz, 40, of Chicago, who was in a camper truck. Although wounded, the man fled in the vehicle. He was arrested a short distance away and taken to the rospital.

Flags At Half Staff

The dead highway patrolmen were Roger D. Gore and Walter C. Frago, both 23, George M. Alleyn, 24, and James E. Pence Jr., 25. They left four widows and seven children.

Flags flew at half staff in the state capital of Sacramento, site of California Highway Patrol headquarters. A spokesman said it was the first multiple killing of officers in the patrol's history.

Soo Man Killed

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)— Bernard Miller, 22, of Sault Ste. Marie, was killed Monday night when he lost control of his automobile and it overturned on U.S. 2 about a mile and a half south of the Soo.

German Measles May Alter Apollo 13 Plans

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 13 crew practiced descending to the moon today while medical specialists hurried blood tests to determine if the astronauts' exposure to German measles is going to delay the $375 million mission a month.

The space agency said it expected a report on the measles investigation late today or early Wednesday.

James A. Lovell Jr., Thomas K. Mattingly II and Fred W. Haise Jr. went ahead with their normal training schedule as if they were going to take off for the moon Saturday on schedule.

The astronauts have been exposed to German measles, usually a childhood ailment, through one of their backup pilots, astronaut Charles Duke, who broke out in a rash Sunday.

If tests show the immunity of any of the three is low, their chief physician probably will recommend that the launching be delayed a month.

Even if their immunity is high, doctors will be faced with a tough decision.

There is no medical experience in the progress of such a disease in a spacecraft environment.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, medical director for Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center, said: "We certainly would be concerned about launching them if there was a possibility they could develop the disease during the mission. It certainly could disable them during the flight."

If the launching is postponed, Lovell, Mattingly and Haise would have to wait a month for their moon trip. Saturday is the only favorable launch day in April for their intended landing area in the Fra Maure Highlands. The next opportunity is May 9.

Delay would be costly. When the Apollo 9 launch was postponed three days last year because of astronaut colds, the space agency estimated the extra cost of the mission at $500,000.

Disclosure that Duke had German measles, known medically as rubella, was made Monday. He had reported his condition to medical authorities Sunday night.

Officials said it was not known how or when Duke was exposed.

But the prime crew continued to practice in spaceship simulators, following a schedule that assumes a launching Saturday.

DeVos, Pearson And Pryal Elected To City Council

An Escanaba banker, a businessman, and a pharmacist were elected to the city council in a light turnout of voters Monday.

Only 44 per cent or 3,179 of the city's 7,242 registered voters cast ballots. This compares to 63 per cent in 1968 and 52 per cent in 1966.

Two men were elected for terms of four years. They are:

● Ronald F. DeVos of 2515 Lake Shore Drive, a resident of Escanaba for five years, who is assistant cashier at the First National Bank & Trust Co.

● Albin S. Pearson Jr., 2525 1st Ave. S., president, A. Pearson Supply Co., a native of Escanaba, and also presently a member of the Escanaba Area Board of Education, a position he will resign.

Elected to the two-year unexpired term is:

● Richard J. Pryal, 204 N. 14th St., pharmacist and proprietor of the Goodman Drug Store. He has served on the Council by appointment for the past 15 months.

The votes cast in Monday's election will be canvassed on Thursday, and the "new" council will meet in the Civic Center at 7:30 p. m. Monday in organization session.

At that meeting will be the three new council members and the two hold - overs—Mayor Cecil B. Chase and Mayor Pro-tem Robert Bink.

To Elect Mayor

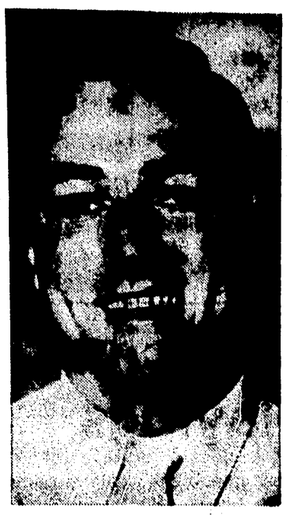
The council will elect a mayor and mayor pro-tem and if tradition is followed DeVos will be chosen as the mayor and presiding officer of the council because he polled the largest vote of any candidate on Monday.

The first regular meeting of the new council will be held on Thursday, April 17, at 8 p. m. in the Civic Center, and it will be immediately involved in a number of projects, programs and problems.

Major task before the council this spring is the 1970-71 city budget. Rising costs will bring higher budget needs and this in turn will call for additional revenues. The fiscal year will begin July 1.

Ronald F. DeVos

Albin S. Pearson Jr.



Richard J. Pryal

Another major problem facing the city is the financing of improvement and development of a water supply and sanitary sewer system, estimated to cost more than $6 million. This will be retired through user rates. About one-half the cost is anticipated from state and federal funds.

Retiring from the council this spring is Edward J. Cox who has served for 15 years; and Miles Dupuie, who was serving by appointment. Neither man was a candidate.

The New Members

New members of the council will bring to that body varied backgrounds.

DeVos was born in Chicago in 1931, graduated from high school there, attended the University of Illinois, and entered the field of banking in Chicago in 1960. He is active in civic affairs here, after coming to Escanaba in 1965. He is married and the father of two children.

Pearson has been actively identified with civic and community affairs for many years and is presently the president of the Escanaba Area Public School Board of Education. He is a graduate of Escanaba High School; belongs to service and fraternal organizations; is married and has four children.

Pryal as a council member by appointment has demonstrated a conscientious interest in city affairs and has taken an increasing leadership role. He was born in Escanaba in 1931, is an Escanaba High School graduate, served in the U. S. Navy, and graduated from Ferris Institute at Big Rapids.

EAST LANSING (AP)—James Daust, 35, has been chosen State Police Trooper of The Year by a three-man citizens co...mittee.

Daust, now serving at Bridgeport, was nominated for his work in establishment of a community youth center at Gaylord.

He is the ninth winner of the annual award provided by Dr. Carl Gerstacker, Midland, chairman of the board of Dow Chemical Co.

Daust, a native of L'Anse, joined the State Police in 1963. He received a plaque and a $500 award.

Other nominees were troopers James Rambo, 41, Sault Ste. Marie; Wesley Bean, 46, Iron Mountain; and Ronald Parkinson, 29, East Lansing.

Gladiolus Society To Meet Thursday

The Upper Peninsula Gladiolus Society will meet at the Wells Township Hall Thursday at 6 p. m. A potluck supper for members and guests will be served, followed by a business meeting.

A bulb auction, bake sale and white elephant sale will also be held.

Food for the potluck supper should be at the hall by 6 p. m. and anyone wishing further information should call Mrs. Robert Jensen, 786-2845. Those attending are asked to bring their own table service.

Hostesses will be Helen Jensen, Thelma Johnson, Beatrice Shehan and Josie Thorbahn.

Soil District Meets April 17

The Annual Meeting of the Delta County Soil Conservation District will be held Friday, April 17 at 8:00 p.m. at the Legion Hall in Perkins, announced Clarence Dittrich, chairman. The meeting was postponed from a previously planned date.

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton) will talk on "Pollution Control," reporting on Congressional activities, his own philosophy, and national goals as they relate to this area.

Two members will be elected to the District Board of Directors. Terms of Clarence Dittrich, chairman, of Hyde, and Elmer Lepisto, vice-chairman, of Rock, are expiring. Nominations will be received from the floor.

Presentation of a plaque honoring the Outstanding Conservationist for 1969, and a program commemorating the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Delta County Soil Conservation District also are scheduled. The first six directors elected to the Boards in 1950 and 1951 who still live in and own land in Delta County will be honored.

Entertainment will be by 4-H Club talent selected from county-wide 4-H program competition now in progress.

Inkster Chooses Negro Vs. White In Mayor Race

By The Associated Press

The racially split Detroit suburb of Inkster nominated a black man and a white man Monday to oppose each other for mayor May 18, while dozens of other municipalities chose officers to govern them for the next two to four years.

Negroes won city commission posts in both Battle Creek and Ypsilanti, leading the field in each instance.

A woman won a council spot at Walled Lake.

In a light turnout, Inkster voters nominated City Councilman John G. Mulhern, who is white, and Edward Bivens, a black former member of the Inkster School Board, from a primary field of five candidates for its run-off for mayor.

Both Mulhern and Bivens accused each other of fomenting "racism" in the campaign. Racial conflicts at the city's schools have raised tensions in the integrated community in recent months. Bivens led the field with 1,072 votes. Mulhern received 986 votes.

Council President Edward H. McNamara ousted Harvey W. Moelke in Livonia as mayor, a post Moelke had held eight years. The vote was McNamara 12,592 and Moelke 10,965.

Census Making Good Progress

District Manager Mrs. Robert Hansley today reported good progress in this area of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing.

Census takers started the house-to-house canvass April 1 to pick up questionnaires distributed earlier.

Mrs. Hansley pointed out that residents can speed up the count by having questionnaires filled out and ready for the census takers, saving time for both householder and census taker.

Answers should be made in pencil so that if a mistake is made, it can be erased. Most answers are to be made by blacking in a tiny circle beside the right answer. This makes a black dot which can be read by an electronic device at the Census Bureau, which will, in turn, speed up the processing of the information.

At every fifth houshold, the census taker asks additional questions covering population and housing characteristics which are being asked of a 20 per cent sample of the population.

Modular Homes Plant Will Be Built In U.P.

Happy Homes, Inc., a Michigan corporation, will construct a new manufacturing facility in Caspian, said R. S. Naeyaert of Warren, president of the firm.

The new 40,000 square foot facility will be used to manufacture modular homes and will be located in Caspian's Industrial Park.

Kenneth Sartorelli is vice president of manufacturing and Thomas Quayle is vice president of administration and sales of Happy Homes, Inc.

Early this year Sartorelli and Quayle resigned their positions with another modular home firm in order to actively put together an organization which they felt would move forward in the housing market for the Upper Peninsula.

People Problem Major Threat In World Pollution

A different form of pollution than we have been hearing about lately was the topic of a talk by Professor Paul Bradfield of Bay de Noc Community College to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday.

The pollution of which Prof. Bradfield spoke of was "people pollution."

After posing the question "do we have too many people on earth?", Bradfield explained that at the present rate of growth, there will be more than 15 billion on earth, now inhabited by 3 billion. Also at the present rate of growth, in 1700 years the total weight of the inhabitants will be greater than the weight of the earth itself.

Bradfield explained that there must be a leveling off period, and soon, but what is an optimum size for the world and how can this be accomplished? he asked.

The other pollutions that the earth is suffering were also discussed, such as water, air, and the solid pollution problems. Metal pollutants in the water have become more and more severe of late, such as the mercury problem around the larger cities.

Also, the United States is now operating on an oxygen deficit Bradfield stated, in that we are using more than the green plants can produce. The excess oxygen is produced by the plants of the ocean, but in a case of a severe shortage, our supply could be greatly diminished. The severity of the complete pollution problem is one that must be faced soon, according to Bradfield.

In other action, the Kiwanis Club has undertaken the responsibility of sponsoring the University of Michigan Men's Glee Club, with Lowell Sundstrom, Arol Beck and Jack Foster handling the co-chairmanship.

Tickets were distributed to the members and are available from them beginning today. The performance will be on Tuesday, May 5, at the Wm. W. Oliver Auditorium.

Hostesses will be Helen Jensen, Thelma Johnson, Beatrice Shehan and Josie Thorbahn.

Soil District Meets April 17

The Annual Meeting of the Delta County Soil Conservation District will be held Friday, April 17 at 8:00 p.m. at the Legion Hall in Perkins, announced Clarence Dittrich, chairman. The meeting was postponed from a previously planned date.

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton) will talk on "Pollution Control," reporting on Congressional activities, his own philosophy, and national goals as they relate to this area.

Two members will be elected to the District Board of Directors. Terms of Clarence Dittrich, chairman, of Hyde, and Elmer Lepisto, vice-chairman, of Rock, are expiring. Nominations will be received from the floor.

Presentation of a plaque honoring the Outstanding Conservationist for 1969, and a program commemorating the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Delta County Soil Conservation District also are scheduled. The first six directors elected to the Boards in 1950 and 1951 who still live in and own land in Delta County will be honored.

Entertainment will be by 4-H Club talent selected from county-wide 4-H program competition now in progress.

Inkster Chooses Negro Vs. White In Mayor Race

By The Associated Press

The racially split Detroit suburb of Inkster nominated a black man and a white man Monday to oppose each other for mayor May 18, while dozens of other municipalities chose officers to govern them for the next two to four years.

Negroes won city commission posts in both Battle Creek and Ypsilanti, leading the field in each instance.

A woman won a council spot at Walled Lake.

In a light turnout, Inkster voters nominated City Councilman John G. Mulhern, who is white, and Edward Bivens, a black former member of the Inkster School Board, from a primary field of five candidates for its run-off for mayor.

Both Mulhern and Bivens accused each other of fomenting "racism" in the campaign. Racial conflicts at the city's schools have raised tensions in the integrated community in recent months. Bivens led the field with 1,072 votes. Mulhern received 986 votes.

Council President Edward H. McNamara ousted Harvey W. Moelke in Livonia as mayor, a post Moelke had held eight years. The vote was McNamara 12,592 and Moelke 10,965.

Census Making Good Progress

District Manager Mrs. Robert Hansley today reported good progress in this area of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing.

Census takers started the house-to-house canvass April 1 to pick up questionnaires distributed earlier.

Mrs. Hansley pointed out that residents can speed up the count by having questionnaires filled out and ready for the census takers, saving time for both householder and census taker.

Answers should be made in pencil so that if a mistake is made, it can be erased. Most answers are to be made by blacking in a tiny circle beside the right answer. This makes a black dot which can be read by an electronic device at the Census Bureau, which will, in turn, speed up the processing of the information.

At every fifth houshold, the census taker asks additional questions covering population and housing characteristics which are being asked of a 20 per cent sample of the population.

Modular Homes Plant Will Be Built In U.P.

Happy Homes, Inc., a Michigan corporation, will construct a new manufacturing facility in Caspian, said R. S. Naeyaert of Warren, president of the firm.

The new 40,000 square foot facility will be used to manufacture modular homes and will be located in Caspian's Industrial Park.

Kenneth Sartorelli is vice president of manufacturing and Thomas Quayle is vice president of administration and sales of Happy Homes, Inc.

Early this year Sartorelli and Quayle resigned their positions with another modular home firm in order to actively put together an organization which they felt would move forward in the housing market for the Upper Peninsula.

People Problem Major Threat In World Pollution

A different form of pollution than we have been hearing about lately was the topic of a talk by Professor Paul Bradfield of Bay de Noc Community College to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday.

The pollution of which Prof. Bradfield spoke of was "people pollution."

After posing the question "do we have too many people on earth?", Bradfield explained that at the present rate of growth, there will be more than 15 billion on earth, now inhabited by 3 billion. Also at the present rate of growth, in 1700 years the total weight of the inhabitants will be greater than the weight of the earth itself.

Bradfield explained that there must be a leveling off period, and soon, but what is an optimum size for the world and how can this be accomplished? he asked.

The other pollutions that the earth is suffering were also discussed, such as water, air, and the solid pollution problems. Metal pollutants in the water have become more and more severe of late, such as the mercury problem around the larger cities.

Also, the United States is now operating on an oxygen deficit Bradfield stated, in that we are using more than the green plants can produce. The excess oxygen is produced by the plants of the ocean, but in a case of a severe shortage, our supply could be greatly diminished. The severity of the complete pollution problem is one that must be faced soon, according to Bradfield.

In other action, the Kiwanis Club has undertaken the responsibility of sponsoring the University of Michigan Men's Glee Club, with Lowell Sundstrom, Arol Beck and Jack Foster handling the co-chairmanship.

Tickets were distributed to the members and are available from them beginning today. The performance will be on Tuesday, May 5, at the Wm. W. Oliver Auditorium.

1st Ship Loads At Port Inland

PORT INLAND—The 1970 shipping season opened here today with the arrival of the steamer Nicolet at 6:45 a. m.

The Boland-Cornelius vessel began loading an hour after its arrival at the port, about 22 miles east of Manistique. It will carry about 7,000 tons of flux stone to Inland Steel's East Chicago, Ind., harbor port when it departs sometime this afternoon.

The French-named ship is captained by Irishman James Gallagher.

Vice President and General Manager John W. Moffat said the E. J. Block, an Inland vessel, is anchored in the harbor and will begin loading flux stone, also for Indiana harbor, as soon as the Nicolet clears. The Block arrived minutes after the Nicolet.

Another steamer, the Manake, also a Boland-Cornelius vessel of the Buffalo, N. Y., American Steamship firm, is scheduled to arrive later this evening.

Moffat said all indications point to a good season of the Gulliver plant of Inland Lime & Stone Co.

Scout Roundtable Slated Thursday

The Red Buck District, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its regular monthly Leaders Roundtable at the James T. Jones School in Gladstone on Thursday.

An evening meal will be served at 7, followed by the regular business meeting. Boy Scout Troop 466 of Gladstone will host the event.

Theme discussion, ideas and suggestions for the month of May will include: Cub Scouts — "Mother Nature's Backyard;" Webelos — "Naturalist" and Boy Scouts — "Fishing Fun" highlighted by a father-son fishing derby.

Information on the annual Recognition Dinner will also be given and the Order of the Arrow chapter meeting will be held in conjunction with this Roundtable.

All registered scouters and cubbers, den leaders and assistants, institutional representatives and committee members are invited to attend.

There were 492 railway accidents which killed 236 persons in India between Feb. 1 and July 31, 1969, reported Railway Minister Ram Subhag Singh.

AN EFFIGY representing the Department of Natural Resources was hung with the sign "D.N.R. Keep Out" over County Road 483 near the entrance to Fairport, a small community at the tip of the Garden Peninsula. Residents of the area are bitter because of DNR restrictions on commercial fishing. Five Plead Innocent To Fairport Counts

Five more men charged in connection with the commercial fishing incident at Fairport a week ago pleaded innocent to charges Monday in District Court.

All were released on personal recognizance bonds ranging from $100 to $500 for appearance Friday at which time Judge Dean Shipman is expected to set dates for trials and preliminary examinations.

The judge gave the men until Friday to obtain legal counsel.

The five men who appeared Friday and the charges against them were:

Lloyd Ranguette, Fairport, disorderly person; hindering and obstructing officers in performance of their duties;

Roger Tallman, Munising, disorderly person; failing to exhibit commercial fishing license on demand of offciers; violation of commercial fishing license provisions;

Norman Casey, Fairport, drunk and disorderly; hindering and obstructing officers;

Patrick Casey, Fairport, hindering and obstructing officers;

Royal Tallman, Munsing, disorderly person; hindering and obstructing officers.

Two other persons who appeared in District Court last Friday—Emil D. Vetter Jr., Fairport, and Leslie Ranguette, Fairport—also are expected to appear in court Friday to have trial and preliminary examination dates set.

Hindering and obstructing officers in performanuce of their duties is a Circuit Court offense.

Besides the seven men charged, another person is being sought, officers said.

All of the men were charged after a confrontation between Department of Natural Resources officers, commercial fishermen and residents of the area last Tuesday at Fairport.

Ice, Cold Slow Ore Movement

A cold and backward spring, plus harbors and channels choked with ice is making the movement of ore out of Escanaba a slow process.

The Chicago & North Western Railway reports that continued cold weather has caused ore to freeze in chunks in the stockpile and in the cars, making loading slow and difficult.

The ore is being moved, however, although the number of boats being loaded out is fewer than had been anticipated when shipping started some 10 days ago.

Vessels have been standing off the harbor at the edge of the Little Bay de Noc ice field because they are unable to turn farther in. The Coast Guard cutters failed in breaking up the mass of ice in the bay so that it moved out when the wind was favorable from the north.

The ore boat Walter A. Sterling, flagship of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. is loading today at Escanaba after being rerouted when ice conditions prevented her from going to Marquette.

Marquette's harbor is still heavy with ice, northwest winds have shoved huge ice fields into Whitefish Bay to make passage difficult into Lake Superior, and only two carriers have reached Superior at the head of Lake Superior —the Joseph Thompson and George Murphy. Fourteen vessels were reported stuck or slowed in Whitefish Bay.

Ice conditions are said by the Coast Guard to be the most difficult since 1951.

Nels Johnson Taken By Death

Nels Johnson, 89, of Rte. 1, Escanaba died at the Superior Memorial Hospital in Superior at 5 a.m. Monday. He had made his home in Superior with his son, Roy, for the past four years.

He was born June 5, 1880 in Sweden and came to Escanaba in 1898. He began farming in the Danforth area in 1917 and owned and operated the Cloverland Dairy until his retirement in 1953.

He is survived by four sons, Iver of Milwaukee, Felix and Elmer of Rte. 1, Escanaba and Roy of Superior; one daughter, Mrs. Edith Olson of Venice, Calif.; 10 grandchildren, 16 great grandchildren and one brother, Swan, of Escanaba.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p.m. Wednesday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home with the Rev. Karl J. Hammar officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Griffith, Hart Vote Party Line On Carswell

WASHINGTON (AP) —Michigan's two U.S. Senators split along party lines Monday on the unsuccessful vote to send the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell back to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Voting not to send the nomination back was Republican Robert P. Griffin, senate minority whip. The motion lost 52-44.

In favor was Sen. Philip A. Hart, Michigan's senior senator, a Democrat.

Scout Training Course Offered

A Cub Scout Leader training course will be offered Saturday, April 11, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the First United Presbyterian Church by the training committee of the Red Buck District, Boy Scouts of America.

The morning session will include "The Cub Scout Program" and "Program Planning" and should be attended by both pack officials and den leaders and their assistants. The afternoon session will be divided into two groups. Pack officials will take "Pack Management and Pack Meeting," while den leaders and assistants will be offered "The Den Meeting and "Den Operation."

Participants are asked to bring a lunch and coffee will be provided by the training committee. Those having make-up sessions to complete are invited to attend, as well as unit leaders and assistants, den leaders and assistants, institutional representatives and committee men.

Lions Launch Fund Campaign

The Escanaba Lions Club Monday launched its annual Radio Day campaign to benefit the club's sight and blind and community service activities.

Kickoff of the fund-raising program came as the club was visited by District Gov. Ralph Anderson of Escanaba and T. Ralph Alexander of Birmingham, district governor of a three-county district in southeastern lower Michigan.

Dennis Foltman, Lions president, announced that the annual Radio Day in cooperation with station WDBC in Escanaba will be held Tuesday, May 5. On that day, Lions club members "take over" the station.

Solicitation of local businessmen for support will begin immediately. Publication and distribution of the club's 1970 "E-Z-See Phone Roll," a quick reference guide to local businesses, will follow the Radio Day program.

Alexander, who serves 63 clubs in District 11-2-A, said this was his first visit to an Upper Peninsula Lions Club and expressed interest in the club's Radio Day program.

Speaker for the meeting was James Utt, an industrial engineer at Harnischfeger Corp. who also is a practicing hypnotist. Utt described how hypnosis is used in various professions, including medicine, dentistry and athletics.

Deadline Nearing For Studded Tires

DETROIT (AP) — Motorists using metal-studded snow tires must remove them by May 1 or face misdemeanor penalties of 90 days in jail and a $100 fine.

Studded tires gouge pavement, causing damage according to the Automobile Club of Michigan. The tires may be used again Nov. 1.

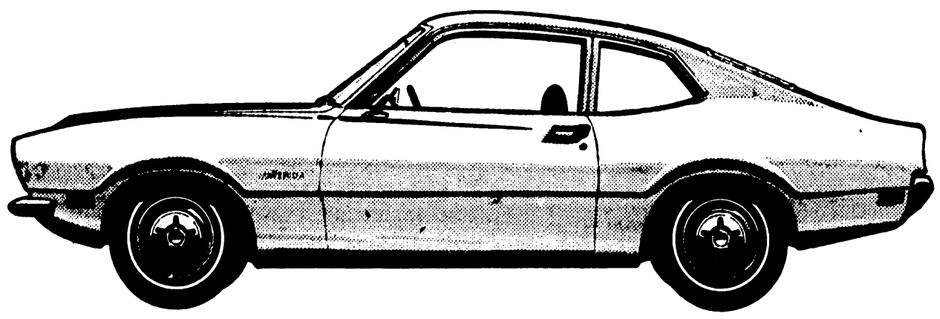
MAVERICK. $1995*...it's a little gas.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the base Maverick model. White sidewall tires are not included, they are $36 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges and state and local taxes vary, they are not included, nor is extra equipment that is specially required by state laws.



Our little Maverick is America's best selling small car. The reason is simple—solid value. Maverick is simple to drive. Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage. Simple to park. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle than the leading import. Simple to service. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications. You save time and money. Simple to repair. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself. Simple to own. Save right from the start—the Simple Machine is your Ford Dealer's lowest priced car.

For a little more...it's a GRABBER!

The new Maverick Grabber has all the same features as our Simple Machine but we've added an extra sporty flare to it. Here's what Grabber gives you: 1 Racy bodyside tape stripes, choice of five hot Grabber colors, 14-in. whitewall tires and wheel trim rings. High excitement, yes. High price, no. 2 200 CID Six and 3-speed fully synchronized manual transmission. Lots of pep, but not hard to tune. Grabber adds to your fun, not your mechanical problems. 3 Dual racing mirrors. But no high "muscle car" insurance rates. 4 Three-spoke woodgrained steering wheel just like the racing cars. But no hard, stiff ride. Grabber's sprung for comfort, not for the track. 5 Black-painted hood and grille. Grabber puts on a great front, but maintenance costs are low. Service is fast and simple. With lots you can do yourself. 6 Rear deck-lid spoiler. Even an economy car can dream, can't it?

MAVERICK Grabber

THE NEW MAVERICK GRABBER IS AT YOUR FORD DEALER'S NOW.

For more information about Maverick, see your Ford Dealer or write: Maverick Catalog, Dept. N-21, P.O. Box 1509, Dearborn, Michigan 48121.

Vessels have been standing off the harbor at the edge of the Little Bay de Noc ice field because they are unable to turn farther in. The Coast Guard cutters failed in breaking up the mass of ice in the bay so that it moved out when the wind was favorable from the north.

The ore boat Walter A. Sterling, flagship of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. is loading today at Escanaba after being rerouted when ice conditions prevented her from going to Marquette.

Marquette's harbor is still heavy with ice, northwest winds have shoved huge ice fields into Whitefish Bay to make passage difficult into Lake Superior, and only two carriers have reached Superior at the head of Lake Superior —the Joseph Thompson and George Murphy. Fourteen vessels were reported stuck or slowed in Whitefish Bay.

Ice conditions are said by the Coast Guard to be the most difficult since 1951.

Nels Johnson Taken By Death

Nels Johnson, 89, of Rte. 1, Escanaba died at the Superior Memorial Hospital in Superior at 5 a.m. Monday. He had made his home in Superior with his son, Roy, for the past four years.

He was born June 5, 1880 in Sweden and came to Escanaba in 1898. He began farming in the Danforth area in 1917 and owned and operated the Cloverland Dairy until his retirement in 1953.

He is survived by four sons, Iver of Milwaukee, Felix and Elmer of Rte. 1, Escanaba and Roy of Superior; one daughter, Mrs. Edith Olson of Venice, Calif.; 10 grandchildren, 16 great grandchildren and one brother, Swan, of Escanaba.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p.m. Wednesday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home with the Rev. Karl J. Hammar officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Griffith, Hart Vote Party Line On Carswell

WASHINGTON (AP) —Michigan's two U.S. Senators split along party lines Monday on the unsuccessful vote to send the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell back to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Voting not to send the nomination back was Republican Robert P. Griffin, senate minority whip. The motion lost 52-44.

In favor was Sen. Philip A. Hart, Michigan's senior senator, a Democrat.

Lions Launch Fund Campaign

The Escanaba Lions Club Monday launched its annual Radio Day campaign to benefit the club's sight and blind and community service activities.

Kickoff of the fund-raising program came as the club was visited by District Gov. Ralph Anderson of Escanaba and T. Ralph Alexander of Birmingham, district governor of a three-county district in southeastern lower Michigan.

Dennis Foltman, Lions president, announced that the annual Radio Day in cooperation with station WDBC in Escanaba will be held Tuesday, May 5. On that day, Lions club members "take over" the station.

Solicitation of local businessmen for support will begin immediately. Publication and distribution of the club's 1970 "E-Z-See Phone Roll," a quick reference guide to local businesses, will follow the Radio Day program.

Alexander, who serves 63 clubs in District 11-2-A, said this was his first visit to an Upper Peninsula Lions Club and expressed interest in the club's Radio Day program.

Speaker for the meeting was James Utt, an industrial engineer at Harnischfeger Corp. who also is a practicing hypnotist. Utt described how hypnosis is used in various professions, including medicine, dentistry and athletics.

Deadline Nearing For Studded Tires

DETROIT (AP) — Motorists using metal-studded snow tires must remove them by May 1 or face misdemeanor penalties of 90 days in jail and a $100 fine.

Studded tires gouge pavement, causing damage according to the Automobile Club of Michigan. The tires may be used again Nov. 1.

MAVERICK. $1995*...it's a little gas.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the base Maverick model. White sidewall tires are not included, they are $30 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges and state and local taxes vary, they are not included, nor is extra equipment that is specially required by state laws.

Our little Maverick is America's best selling small car. The reason is simple—solid value. Maverick is simple to drive. Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage. Simple to park. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle than the leading import. Simple to service. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications. You save time and money. Simple to repair. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself. Simple to own. Save right from the start—the Simple Machine is your Ford Dealer's lowest priced car.

For a little more...it's a GRABBER!

The new Maverick Grabber has all the same features as our Simple Machine but we've added an extra sporty flare to it. Here's what Grabber gives you: ❶ Racy bodyside tape stripes, choice of five hot Grabber colors, 14-in. whitewall tires and wheel trim rings. High excitement, yes. High price, no. ❷ 200 CID Six and 3-speed fully synchronized manual transmission. Lots of pep, but not hard to tune. Grabber adds to your fun, not your mechanical problems. ❸ Dual racing mirrors. But no high "muscle car" insurance rates. ❹ Three-spoke woodgrained steering wheel just like the racing cars. But no hard, stiff ride. Grabber's sprung for comfort, not for the track. ❺ Black-painted hood and grille. Grabber puts on a great front, but maintenance costs are low. Service is fast and simple. With lots you can do yourself. ❻ Rear deck-lid spoiler. Even an economy car can dream, can't it?

On All Levels

The responses to the City Council of Escanaba on air pollution seem to reflect quite accurately the sentiment in the state on the environmental degradation.

Gov. William Milliken, Acting Lt. Gov. Thomas Schweigert and Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) answered five questions posed by the City Council, which had been prodded by the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air to take some position relative to the county air pollution control ordinance before the Board of Commissioners. Council evaded the issue directly by deciding to ask the state if it thought the state was doing a good job enforcing the state law and whether or not the state thought the state law was effective. That move was sort of like the Council asking the Council if it thought the Council was doing a good job on Council business, but the query went out anyway.

The responses, except for that of Varnum, generally came back as one would expect — not critical, not controversial and not very constructive.

Gov. Milliken relied on the State Air Pollution Control Commission to develop the answers and reported the present air pollution control statute "is effective and substantial progress is being made in the control of significant sources of pollution which for the present at least are the most critical sources to attack." The governor, however, admitted that the state is "undermanned, especially in reference to covering all minor and local sources of air pollution."

Schweigert, also relying on the State Air Pollution Control Commission, agreed with Milliken that "substantial progress" toward control is being accomplished. He cites "economic considerations, employment factors and social implications that can occur as a result of precipitous, unreasonable action" and that Michigan should "move ahead in the control of our environment as rapidly as possible without the destruction of Michigan's economic and social base."

Varnum agreed with the main ideas of Milliken and Schweigert as might be expected (all three are Republicans) but expands his view as far as local situations are concerned, perhaps reflecting the concerns that have been voiced in the Escanaba area.

"Here in Michigan the level of acceptable air quality varies widely from one part of the state to another," he said. "Level of pollution that might be tolerable to Detroit would probably be considered a disaster in Escanaba. For this reason, a local air pollution ordinance would seem to make sense. It is also likely that quicker detection and better enforcement would be possible under local air pollution ordinances. For these reasons, I endorse the idea of local ordinances for the control of air pollution and I intend to introduce a bill in the legislature to encourage county air pollution ordinances by providing the enabling legislation."

The question Varnum deals with in his endorsement of local ordinances is what apparently has stalled action by the Board of Commissioners in Delta County. Presently, a county ordinance may not be enforceable over individual cities and townships within a county. If that's the case, it would serve little purpose to pass an ordinance that legally couldn't be enforced or could be enforced in Escanaba, for example, and not in Gladstone.

As Milliken says, the state is undermanned and must focus on the major problems first in this new era of environmental concern. Eventually, the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission may have the staff and time to begin working on the minor and local problems, but some communities may not be satisfied to wait. Additionally, like Varnum says, areas in the Upper Peninsula should not be required to accept standards from Detroit.

In the overall picture, there is need for the broader concerns as expressed by Milliken and Schweigert, but there also is need for the local approach as endorsed by Varnum. The environmental problems are huge and if pollution is to be halted it's going to take a supreme effort on all levels of government, industry and citizenry.

Image Tarnished

Sen. Edmund Muskie, the affable Democrat from Maine who hopes to ride the pollution issue into the White House, might first clean up his own backyard, more accurately the Prestile Stream, before he lectures the rest of the country on the virtues of clean water.

The Washington Star, after investigation, reported that Muskie's image is tarnished with some of the folks back home, and with his Canadian neighbors. Muskie some years back helped get Prestile Stream reclassified so that industrial wastes could be dumped into it from a potato plant. It became so polluted that Canada was forced to dam it at the border.

Undeterred, Muskie is now working on plans to pollute the Bay of Fundy by helping his old friends from the potato plant to establish an oceanic port and oil refinery at Machiasport. The Washington Star points out that huge oil tankers would have to navigate in 16-foot high tides, through numerous reefs and in almost constant fogs.

A wreck could endanger the Maine shoreline, a principal attraction in the state's $400 million annual tourist trade, and the Georges Bank fishing grounds where 40 per cent of American commercial fish are caught. Even if no tanker ever piled up, however, freights often spill oil, which would present almost continuous pollution. The oil port and refinery might, in effect, wreck other valuable industries which count on relatively pure water.

Muskie is in somewhat the same position as the longhairs who have suddenly latched on to the pollution issue. They demand that industry clean up the water and air while they pollute the atmosphere with the smell of their bathless bodies.

The senator from Maine should oppose pollution even when pollution helps his friends. By supporting the port-refinery he stands to dirty up the environment and his own image.

Strike, Strike, Strike Ahead For The Nation?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Richard Nixon continues to come through in the clutch.

He took the sting out of the Vietnamese issue by his policy of combining "Vietnamization" of the war with gradual withdrawal of the U.S. ground soldiers, or "grunts" — and, as a result, the recent round of protests aimed at the nation's draft centers fell quite flat. The promise of a voluntary army has tended to silence the Spocks and the Coffins.

And now the masterly Nixon state paper on the subject of integration in the schools has removed still another problem from the temper-tantrum area in which people were unable to think clearly about combining good education with the fostering of racial tolerance.

If all goes well with the Nixon program, we shall be moving toward the tolerable society, one in which people are protected in their personal and legal rights without being forced to love each other by compulsion. De jure school segragation will get no quarter from the White House, but money that might have been spent on "buying buses, tires and gasoline to transport young children miles away from their neighborhood schools" will be allotted to providing better education where people live, with special provision for poverty-impacted areas.

The South has been assured that it is no longer a pariah region; the North has been reminded that it could do better about ending de facto segregation by encouraging a black exodus from the ghetto as well as a white. We aren't moving on the double-quick to Utopia, but we are, so one hopes, on the way toward becoming a less hyprocritical nation.

* * *

But if President Nixon has done wonders in defusing the big social issues of the Johnson era, he still has Old Man Economics to give him a plaguey time.

The way the postal crisis was handled will live to haunt him. Since the mailmen had so obviously been underpaid, the White House could hardly have fired every postal worker who broke the law that forbids strikes by public employes. There is a practical justice as well as a legal justice, and popular sentiment was on the side of practical justice for the mailmen.

The Mayor of Atlanta could get away with dismissing his refractory municipal workers, but Nixon has considerably more than a single city on his mind.

But even if it is understandable that the postmen should get amnesty plus an economic settlement, what happened must inevitably create a terrible precedent. The postal workers may now think that they can get what they want out of their federal employer without having to accept a public mail corporation. The chances for obtaining good postal reform have diminished.

Why should the bosses of a victorious mail carriers union now accept a postal reform that would deny them the right to bargain for a union shop? Or the right to strike in the future?

* * *

And who, in the federal establishment, will be the next to try the illegal resort to a work stoppage to get their way?

The air traffic controllers, who make considerably more money than the mailmen will ever make, have discovered what a "sick-out" can do. The Internal Revenue staff, made giddy by reading some of the richer income tax figures, might be moved to a sick-out on some crucial April 15. It wouldn't help the fight on inflation if nobody were around for a while to process tax returns.

This looks like the year of the strike. Or the year of the continuing wage increase. In either case, it doesn't look very propitious for lower prices.

What is predictable is that Nixon will take some temporary relaxation in the war on inflation for the sake of winning in November. He can't afford a recession at election time.

The impulse will be to see to it that the automobile workers of Michigan are fat and happy, even at the cost of an inflationary wage increase. The law of democratic politics is that inflation can only be fought in the year after the election, not the year before.

This is cynical, but in Nixon's favor it may be said that he is at least willing to fight inflation up to a point. A zigzag war on inflation is better than no war at al'

Dollar Gets New Life, Worth 90 Cents Today

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — After five years of reporting a steady decline in the power of the dollar we are, mercifully, going to start afresh with figures that won't hurt nearly as much.

We are, that is, going to declare the dollar of 1967 as being worth 100 cents. During the past 10 years we have measured the value of our dollar in terms of the period 1957-1959 equalling 100 per cent. That made things look real bad.

Once Worth 78 Cents

For example, some distressing calculations reveal that at the close of 1969 the dollar was equal to only a bit more than 78 cents in terms of 1957-1959. But in terms of 1967 it was worth more than 90 cents.

What can be said of the rose —a rose is a rose is a rose—cannot be said of the dollar. A dollar is as good as the base against which it is measured. And since inflation is a fact of life, there is a tendency for the dollar to be worth less as it is measured against a more distant base.

Base Period Same

The government isn't changing the base period simply to get a fresh start or to disguise the deterioration in buying power, although inevitably those will be among the effects.

The real reason, it explained, is that statistics must remain pertinent for its economic indicators, such as the consumer price index and the index of industrial production. The base, therefore, is updated every decade.

A good thing perhaps. How would you feel if the government used 1939 as the base period and you were constantly reminded that the Federal Reserve Note in your pocket was worth less than 38 cents?

The fact of the matter is that inflation is rarely absent from the economy in times of expansion. During recessions, of course, the dollar tends to hold its value, but the problem then is that too few people have enough of them.

As an economy expands it demands more workers and raw materials, and that usually means higher prices. More money gets into circulation also, and that permits customers to bid up prices.

The result is that while an economy booms, the value of its money sometimes slips. This often goes unnoticed while the purchasing power of workers continues to grow, the result of earning enough dollars to offset the erosion.

Questions Arise

The question that more and more economists are wrestling with today is: Can inflation and dollar erosion be avoided?

Theoretically, inflation isn't inevitable. In practice, however, an inflation-free economy appears very difficult to obtain. In the past decade it was received only from early 1961 to late 1964. Then prices took off.

The surest way to control the upward spiral of prices would be to toss the country into a depression. But that, of course, is not only impractical but unthinkable madness.

Inflation Danger Exists

Nevertheless, the dangers of continued inflation are considered so great that the Nixon administration did turn the country in that direction by forcing reductions in spending and demand.

Naturally it never intended to bring the economy all the way to its knees, but it clearly was willing to risk a recession, and by some measures the nation has been in one for several months now.

If recessions bring dollar stability, however, they also bring unemployment, which cannot be tolerated for long. The Employment Act of 1946 commits this country to a so-called full employment policy.

Disturbances Likely

Moreover, if any administration is willing to trade too many jobs for price stability in this day and age it is bound not only to be run out of office but to see its eviction attended by violent social disturbances.

You can bet on it: If the decision is between a little inflation and a little recession, almost any administration of the future will accept inflation—and dollar erosion.

In the year 2000 it is entirely possible that the 100-cent dollar of 1970 will be worth about 65 cents. You won't necessarily be aware of it though, because it will be measured in terms of the 1990 dollar.

Probe Fire Cause In Iron Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — Investigators are asking the cause of an estimated $50,000 fire which destroyed a paint shop, apartments and a Secretary of State license plate office Saturday night.

The fire broke out shortly before 8 p.m. at Zambon's Paint Shop and Snowmobile Sales on Iron Mountain's North Side. The city's entire 14 - man firefighting force kept the blaze from spreading to a portion of the building where snowmobiles are stored.

However, the paint shop on the main floor and some apartments and secretary of state's office on the second floor of the two-story wood frame structure were destroyed.

Three firemen were treated for minor injuries.

MAost players bid naturally and have the suits they bid, but there is no denying that some artificial bids can be extremely effective when the right hand comes along.

For example, I use a highly specialized singleton - showing bid in some sequences to describe a particular type of hand, and this unusual bid has many times served me well in tournament play, as it did in the nationals staged in Minneapolis in 1968.

I was North and jumped to three hearts in response to my partner's diamond overcall. This bid, by special arrangement, indicated the values for a jump raise to three diamonds and also guaranteed a singleton heart.

My partner, Dorothy Hayden, did not have much of an overcall — especially in view of my previous pass — but she realized that her hand had grown tremendously with the implied diamond raise and the singleton-showing heart bid. Accordingly, she jumped to five diamonds.

West led a club, taken in dummy with the jack. East won the heart return and led back a club. After ruffing a heart in dummy, Mrs. Hayden played a spade to her ace and ruffed another heart to produce this position:

Had Mrs. Hayden now trumped a club with the eight in order to ruff still another heart in dummy, she would have lost a trump trick eventually to West's seven. Foreseeing this danger, she led dummy's jack of spades instead, and as a result she could not be stopped from making the contract.

Rolls Royce Horns Turns Some Heads

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in your reply to the Michigan reader who asked about the effectiveness of powdered deer horns as an aphrodisiac. You advised him to try fog horns, bass horns, shoe horns, pointing out that the results would be the same — zero.

May I tell you about a horn that really works? And you don't have to go to the trouble of powderng it. I refer to the Rolly Royce horn. No woman can resist it. It turns them on every time!—Lansing Lover.

Dear Lover: By the time most guys get to the point in life where they can afford a Rolls Royce, nothing else works. Thanks for the suggestion.

Dear Ann Landers: I got out of prison last July after five terrible years. It seemed like one hundred. Some of my friends kept in touch with me but my wife and two daughters did not. I wrote them seven letters and didn't get an answer. Then I wrote to my brother and asked him to find out if my wife and girls received my letters. Within a week I got an answer. My wife and daughters didn't want to have anything more to do with me. One month later my wife sued me for divorce.

Yesterday I received a letter from my oldest daughter. She is being married in June and wants me to give her away at the wedding. I think they only want me there for appearances. Oh yes, I ought to tell you I've made a nice comeback and have a good job and a bright future. What should I do? — Deeply Hurt

Dear Ann Landers: Here's a message from a dirty old man —age 22. I'm a college senior and the point of view I express here reflects the thinking of a lot of guys.

There is nothing so ludicrous as a chick in a thigh-high mini, sitting on a chair or sofa, tugging at her skirt, trying to pull it down to cover her status of respectability. She blushes ten shades of red and asks with eyes big as saucers, 'Am I sitting all right?" Or, "Is anything showing?"

If they don't want anything to show why don't they buy a skirt with some material in it? More than once I've gotten a dirty look because I was caught popping an eyeball.

Please tell the Great Pretenders who feign insult to come off it. The reason they go half naked is because they want to create a little unrest. Tell them that act should have been cancelled when they accepted the hike of the hem and said "To hell with decency." — U of Illinois

GOP Divided Over Meat Import Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nixon administration officials are divided over whether meat import regulations should be relaxed to provide a break for consumers, particularly low income families.

On one side is the Agriculture Department, which argues that present rising prices are an indication of the cost of raising and marketing livestock. Import restrictions are needed to sustain domestic farm production, the department says.

Arguing on behalf of opening the way for more cheap imported meat to deflate current prices are the Council of Economic Advisers and presidential consumer adviser Virginia Knauer.

The Agriculture Department says the price increases should slacken soon.

But economists outside the department, mindful of the sharp meat price increases which surprised USDA analysts last year, aren't so sure.

The responses to the City Council of Escanaba on air pollution seem to reflect quite accurately the sentiment in the state on the environmental degradation.

Gov. William Milliken, Acting Lt. Gov. Thomas Schweigert and Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) answered five questions posed by the City Council, which had been prodded by the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air to take some position relative to the county air pollution control ordinance before the Board of Commissioners. Council evaded the issue directly by deciding to ask the state if it thought the state was doing a good job enforcing the state law and whether or not the state thought the state law was effective. That move was sort of like the Council asking the Council if it thought the Council was doing a good job on Council business, but the query went out anyway.

The responses, except for that of Varnum, generally came back as one would expect — not critical, not controversial and not very constructive.

Gov. Milliken relied on the State Air Pollution Control Commission to develop the answers and reported the present air pollution control statute "is effective and substantial progress is being made in the control of significant sources of pollution which for the present at least are the most critical sources to attack." The governor, however, admitted that the state is "undermanned, especially in reference to covering all minor and local sources of air pollution."

Schweigert, also relying on the State Air Pollution Control Commission, agreed with Milliken that "substantial progress" toward control is being accomplished. He cites "economic considerations, employment factors and social implications that can occur as a result of precipitous, unreasonable action" and that Michigan should "move ahead in the control of our environment as rapidly as possible without the destruction of Michigan's economic and social base."

Varnum agreed with the main ideas of Milliken and Schweigert as might be expected (all three are Republicans) but expands his view as far as local situations are concerned, perhaps reflecting the concerns that have been voiced in the Escanaba area.

"Here in Michigan the level of acceptable air quality varies widely from one part of the state to another," he said. "Level of pollution that might be tolerable to Detroit would probably be considered a disaster in Escanaba. For this reason, a local air pollution ordinance would seem to make sense. It is also likely that quicker detection and better enforcement would be possible under local air pollution ordinances. For these reasons, I endorse the idea of local ordinances for the control of air pollution and I intend to introduce a bill in the legislature to encourage county air pollution ordinances by providing the enabling legislation."

The question Varnum deals with in his endorsement of local ordinances is what apparently has stalled action by the Board of Commissioners in Delta County. Presently, a county ordinance may not be enforceable over individual cities and townships within a county. If that's the case, it would serve little purpose to pass an ordinance that legally couldn't be enforced or could be enforced in Escanaba, for example, and not in Gladstone.

As Milliken says, the state is undermanned and must focus on the major problems first in this new era of environmental concern. Eventually, the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission may have the staff and time to begin working on the minor and local problems, but some communities may not be satisfied to wait. Additionally, like Varnum says, areas in the Upper Peninsula should not be required to accept standards from Detroit.

In the overall picture, there is need for the broader concerns as expressed by Milliken and Schweigert, but there also is need for the local approach as endorsed by Varnum. The environmental problems are huge and if pollution is to be halted it's going to take a supreme effort on all levels of government, industry and citizenry.

Image Tarnished

Sen. Edmund Muskie, the affable Democrat from Maine who hopes to ride the pollution issue into the White House, might first clean up his own backyard, more accurately the Prestile Stream, before he lectures the rest of the country on the virtues of clean water.

The Washington Star, after investigation, reported that Muskie's image is tarnished with some of the folks back home, and with his Canadian neighbors. Muskie some years back helped get Prestile Stream reclassified so that industrial wastes could be dumped into it from a potato plant. It became so polluted that Canada was forced to dam it at the border.

Undeterred, Muskie is now working on plans to pollute the Bay of Fundy by helping his old friends from the potato plant to establish an oceanic port and oil refinery at Machiasport. The Washington Star points out that huge oil tankers would have to navigate in 16-foot high tides, through numerous reefs and in almost constant fogs.

A wreck could endanger the Maine shoreline, a principal attraction in the state's $400 million annual tourist trade, and the Georges Bank fishing grounds where 40 per cent of American commercial fish are caught. Even if no tanker ever piled up, however, freights often spill oil, which would present almost continuous pollution. The oil port and refinery might, in effect, wreck other valuable industries which count on relatively pure water.

Muskie is in somewhat the same position as the longhairs who have suddenly latched on to the pollution issue. They demand that industry clean up the water and air while they pollute the atmosphere with the smell of their bathless bodies.

The senator from Maine should oppose pollution even when pollution helps his friends. By supporting the port-refinery he stands to dirty up the environment and his own image.

Strike, Strike, Strike Ahead For The Nation?

By JOHN CHAMEBRLAIN

Richard Nixon continues to come through in the clutch.

He took the sting out of the Vietnamese issue by his policy of combining "Vietnamization" of the war with gradual withdrawal of the U.S. ground soldiers, or "grunts" — and, as a result, the recent round of protests aimed at the nation's draft centers fell quite flat. The promise of a voluntary army has tended to silence the Spocks and the Coffins.

And now the masterly Nixon state paper on the subject of integration in the schools has removed still another problem from the temper-tantrum area in which people were unable to think clearly about combining good education with the fostering of racial tolerance.

If all goes well with the Nixon program, we shall be moving toward the tolerable society, one in which people are protected in their personal and legal rights without being forced to love each other by compulsion. De jure school segragation will get no quarter from the White House, but money that might have been spent on "buying buses, tires and gasoline to transport young children miles away from their neighborhood schools" will be allotted to providing better education where people live, with special provision for poverty-impacted areas.

The South has been assured that it is no longer a pariah region; the North has been reminded that it could do better about ending de facto segregation by encouraging a black exodus from the ghetto as well as a white. We aren't moving on the double-quick to Utopia, but we are, so one hopes, on the way toward becoming a less hyprocritical nation.

★ ★ ★

But if President Nixon has done wonders in defusing the big social issues of the Johnson era, he still has Old Man Economics to give him a plaguey time.

The way the postal crisis was handled will live to haunt him. Since the mailmen had so obviously been underpaid, the White House could hardly have fired every postal worker who broke the law that forbids strikes by public employes. There is a practical justice as well as a legal justice, and popular sentiment was on the side of practical justice for the mailmen.

The Mayor of Atlanta could get away with dismissing his refractory municipal workers, but Nixon has considerably more than a single city on his mind.

But even if it is understandable that the postmen should get amnesty plus an economic settlement, what happened must inevitably create a terrible precedent. The postal workers may now think that they can get what they want out of their federal employer without having to accept a public mail corporation. The chances for obtaining good postal reform have diminished.

Why should the bosses of a victorious mail carriers union now accept a postal reform that would deny them the right to bargain for a union shop? Or the right to strike in the future?

And who, in the federal establishment, will be the next to try the illegal resort to a work stoppage to get their way?

The air traffic controllers, who make considerably more money than the mailmen will ever make, have discovered what a "sick-out" can do. The Internal Revenue staff, made giddy by reading some of the richer income tax figures, might be moved to a sick-out on some crucial April 15. It wouldn't help the fight on inflation if nobody were around for a while to process tax returns.

This looks like the year of the strike. Or the year of the continuing wage increase. In either case, it doesn't look very propitious for lower prices.

What is predictable is that Nixon will take some temporary relaxation in the war on inflation for the sake of winning in November. He can't afford a recession at election time.

The impulse will be to see to it that the automobile workers of Michigan are fat and happy, even at the cost of an inflationary wage increase. The law of democratic politics is that inflation can only be fought in the year after the election, not the year before.

This is cynical, but in Nixon's favor it may be said that he is at least willing to fight inflation up to a point. A zigzag war on inflation is better than no war at al'

Dollar Gets New Life, Worth 90 Cents Today

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — After five years of reporting a steady decline in the power of the dollar we are, mercifully, going to start afresh with figures that won't hurt nearly as much.

We are, that is, going to declare the dollar of 1967 as being worth 100 cents. During the past 10 years we have measured the value of our dollar in terms of the period 1957-1959 equalling 100 per cent. That made things look real bad.

Once Worth 78 Cents

For example, some distressing calculations reveal that at the close of 1969 the dollar was equal to only a bit more than 78 cents in terms of 1957-1959. But in terms of 1967 it was worth more than 90 cents.

What can be said of the rose —a rose is a rose is a rose—cannot be said of the dollar. A dollar is as good as the base against which it is measured. And since inflation is a fact of life, there is a tendency for the dollar to be worth less as it is measured against a more distant base.

Base Period Same

The government isn't changing the base period simply to get a fresh start or to disguise the deterioration in buying power, although inevitably those will be among the effects.

The real reason, it explained, is that statistics must remain pertinent for its economic indicators, such as the consumer price index and the index of industrial production. The base, therefore, is updated every decade.

A good thing perhaps. How would you feel if the government used 1939 as the base period and you were constantly reminded that the Federal Reserve Note in your pocket was worth less than 38 cents?

The fact of the matter is that inflation is rarely absent from the economy in times of expansion. During recessions, of course, the dollar tends to hold its value, but the problem then is that too few people have enough of them.

As an economy expands it demands more workers and raw materials, and that usually means higher prices. More money gets into circulation also, and that permits customers to bid up prices.

The result is that while an economy booms, the value of its money sometimes slips. This often goes unnoticed while the purchasing power of workers continues to grow, the result of earning enough dollars to offset the erosion.

Questions Arise

The question that more and more economists are wrestling with today is: Can inflation and dollar erosion be avoided?

Theoretically, inflation isn't inevitable. In practice, however, an inflation-free economy appears very difficult to obtain. In the past decade it was received only from early 1961 to late 1964. Then prices took off.

The surest way to control the upward spiral of prices would be to toss the country into a depression. But that, of course, is not only impractical but unthinkable madness.

Inflation Danger Exists

Nevertheless, the dangers of continued inflation are considered so great that the Nixon administration did turn the country in that direction by forcing reductions in spending and demand.

Naturally it never intended to bring the economy all the way to its knees, but it clearly was willing to risk a recession, and by some measures the nation has been in one for several months now.

If recessions bring dollar stability, however, they also bring unemployment, which cannot be tolerated for long. The Employment Act of 1946 commits this country to a so-called full employment policy.

Disturbances Likely

Moreover, if any administration is willing to trade too many jobs for price stability in this day and age it is bound not only to be run out of office but to see its eviction attended by violent social disturbances.

You can bet on it: If the decision is between a little inflation and a little recession, almost any administration of the future will accept inflation—and dollar erosion.

In the year 2000 it is entirely possible that the 100-cent dollar of 1970 will be worth about 65 cents. You won't necessarily be aware of it though, because it will be measured in terms of the 1990 dollar.

Probe Fire Cause In Iron Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — Investigators are asking the cause of an estimated $50,000 fire which destroyed a paint shop, apartments and a Secretary of State license plate office Saturday night.

The fire broke out shortly before 8 p.m. at Zambon's Paint Shop and Snowmobile Sales on Iron Mountain's North Side. The city's entire 14 - man firefighting force kept the blaze from spreading to a portion of the building where snowmobiles are stored.

However, the paint shop on the main floor and some apartments and secretary of state's office on the second floor of the two-story wood frame structure were destroyed.

Three firemen were treated for minor injuries.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	1 ♣	1 ♦
Pass	3 ♥ (!)	Dble	5 ♦

Opening lead—ten of clubs.

MAost players bid naturally and have the suits they bid, but there is no denying that some artificial bids can be extremely effective when the right hand comes along.

For example, I use a highly specialized singleton - showing bid in some sequences to describe a particular type of hand, and this unusual bid has many times served me well in tournament play, as it did in the nationals staged in Minneapolis in 1968.

I was North and jumped to three hearts in response to my partner's diamond overcall. This bid, by special arrangement, indicated the values for a jump raise to three diamonds and also guaranteed a singleton heart.

My partner, Dorothy Hayden, did not have much of an overcall — especially in view of my previous pass — but she realized that her hand had grown tremendously with the implied diamond raise and the singleton-showing heart bid. Accordingly, she jumped to five diamonds.

West led a club, taken in dummy with the jack. East won the heart return and led back a club. After ruffing a heart in dummy, Mrs. Hayden played a spade to her ace and ruffed another heart to produce this position:

Had Mrs. Hayden now trumped a club with the eight in order to ruff still another heart in dummy, she would have lost a trump trick eventually to West's seven. Foreseeing this danger, she led dummy's jack of spades instead, and as a result she could not be stopped from making the contract.

Rolls Royce Horns Turns Some Heads

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in your reply to the Michigan reader who asked about the effectiveness of powdered deer horns as an aphrodisiac. You advised him to try fog horns, bass horns, shoe horns, pointing out that the results would be the same — zero.

May I tell you about a horn that really works? And you don't have to go to the trouble of powderng it. I refer to the Rolly Royce horn. No woman can resist it. It turns them on every time!—Lansing Lover.

Dear Lover: By the time most guys get to the point in life where they can afford a Rolls Royce, nothing else works. Thanks for the suggestion.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: I got out of prison last July after five terrible years. It seemed like one hundred. Some of my friends kept in touch with me but my wife and two daughters did not. I wrote them seven letters and didn't get an answer. Then I wrote to my brother and asked him to find out if my wife and girls received my letters. Within a week I got an answer. My wife and daughters didn't want to have anything more to do with me. One month later my wife sued me for divorce.

Yesterday I received a letter from my oldest daughter. She is being married in June and wants me to give her away at the wedding. I think they only want me there for appearances. Oh yes, I ought to tell you I've made a nice comeback and have a good job and a bright future. What should I do? — Deeply Hurt

Dear D. H.: A man with your background should know the importance of buildng bridges instead of walls. Your family has extended a hand of friendship. Accept it.

Dear Ann Landers: Here's a message from a dirty old man —age 22. I'm a college senior and the point of view I express here reflects the thinking of a lot of guys.

There is nothing so ludicrous as a chick in a thigh-high mini, sitting on a chair or sofa, tugging at her skirt, trying to pull it down to cover her status of respectability. She blushes ten shades of red and asks with eyes big as saucers, 'Am I sitting all right?" Or, "Is anything showing?"

If they don't want anything to show why don't they buy a skirt with some material in it? More than once I've gotten a dirty look because I was caught popping an eyeball.

Please tell the Great Pretenders who feign insult to come off it. The reason they go half naked is because they want to create a little unrest. Tell them that act should have been cancelled when they accepted the hike of the hem and said "To hell with decency." — U of Illinois

Dear U: Amen, Brother, Amen.

GOP Divided Over Meat Import Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nixon administration officials are divided over whether meat import regulations should be relaxed to provide a break for consumers, particularly low income families.

On one side is the Agriculture Department, which argues that present rising prices are an indication of the cost of raising and marketing livestock. Import restrictions are needed to sustain domestic farm production, the department says.

Arguing on behalf of opening the way for more cheap imported meat to deflate current prices are the Council of Economic Advisers and presidential consumer adviser Virginia Knauer.

The Agriculture Department says the price increases should slacken soon.

But economists outside the department, mindful of the sharp meat price increases which surprised USDA analysts last year, aren't so sure.

Mrs. Larry Bryant

Christine Olson, Larry Bryant Exchange Vows

The First United Presbyterian Church of Escanaba was the setting Saturday, March 21 for the wedding of Christine Olson, 410 S. 12th St. and Larry Bryant of 25311 Parkwood Drive, Huntington Woods, Mich. The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Henry Olson of Escanaba.

Organza, Lace

The bride's gown was of silk organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace, styled with a sheer yoke with a ruffled Victorian collar and Bishop sleeves. A mantilla of pearls and crystals caught her veil and she carried a cascade arrangement of white iris, gardenias and freezia.

The bridal attendants included, the maid of honor, Vicky Simonson and bridesmaids, the Misses Diane, Susan and Jenny Vogt.

They wore Victorian styled Wedgewood blue gowns with white lace emphasizing the fitted bodices and high necklines. They carried white colonial bouquets of baby mums and gardenias.

Mothers' Attire

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Gerald Olson, wore an aqua ensemble with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Gordon Bryant's gown was of spring green silk accented by a white orchid corsage and white accessories. The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. James Christie and Mrs. Henry Olson, were also presented corsages.

Best man was Tom Traynor of Southgate, Mich. and ushers were Rick Bryant of Detroit, Tom Nos of Alma and Gerry Olson of Escanaba.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents Friday evening in the King George Room of the House of Ludington. Menus printed in silver were mementos of the evening.

Reception

The reception was held in the Emerald Room of the House of Ludington which was in festive array for the occasion. After the reception, the bride threw her bouquet from the hotel stairway and it was caught by Diane Vogt. Tom Traynor, the best man, caught the bride's garter, thrown by the bridegroom.

Following the reception, the bridal pair flew to New York City for their wedding trip and they have now resumed their studies at Alma College, Alma.

With Minis, Maxis, Who Needs Costumes?

DETROIT (AP) — Monk's robes, Arabian togas, pirate pants, Apache shirts, and 400 Santa Claus suits are slow-moving items on the MoTown fashion scene.

That's the unfortunate assessment of an unhappy short, balding man with a shaggy, brown-and-silver mustache who says he used to rent a hundred costumes a week.

Murray Kane, 54, is selling the family business of 52 years, Costume Novelty Shop at 1452 Farmer, including a suit of armor and a dusty gorilla outfit, because business has turned bad.

"Hell, we used to rent a hundred costumes a week. Every week," Kane shrugged, stopping a walk through the shop at a trunk marked "Gay 90 Dresses." "Now we're lucky to get 20. I'd say business has fallen off 70 per cent in the last five years.

Kane's father opened the shop after arriving in Detroit as a Russian immigrant 52 years ago and Murray Kane didn't easily decide to sell out. Every lock, stock and barrel bears a memory.

"We've costumed some of the big ones," he says. "Burgess Meredith, Tallulah Bankhead, Molly Picon, Soupy Sales. We outfitted Jimmy Jewell — You know, the guy who invented the Lone Ranger over WXYZ radio. But it's all changed now."

In a few weeks all Kane's costumes will have been sold and he'll be an employe of a Detroit distributor for a plastic-coated carbon paper.

He plunks a Chinese mandoline and then scans rows of Kaiser Wilhelm helmets, Elizabethan crowns and plumed, medieval armor.

"How do you throw it away?" he asked.

Sander Levin Says Milliken More Like Caboose Than Engine

LANSING (AP) — Sander Levin, a Democrat who wants to be governor, told newsmen recently Republican Gov. Wm. Milliken has been "more the caboose than the engine of government."

Levin, a state senator from Berkley and one of three announced candidates for the Democratic nomination, said the basic question is one of leadership.

Levin charged Milliken has been slow to take stands on important issues, waiting until the issues become popular.

He said abortion reform was an example, that Michigan could have taken strides last year if Milliken had "raised his voice one decibel."

Levin said he would spell out during the campaign where he differs with Milliken's positions on specific issues. He acknowledged that he and the governor "agree on some things."

Both, for instance, support a wide-ranging pollution control bill which recently received a House committee's recommendation.

Levin was asked about his refusal to go along with the other Democratic candidates on a plan to limit primary campaign expenses to $50,000 each. The proposal was made jointly by Zolton Ferency, the party's 1966 candidate against George Romney, and Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit.

Levin said "it costs more than $50,000 to adequately reach the public in three or four months." Based on 1968 figures, Levin added, that amount of money would buy only 30 one-minute ads on television in Detroit.

Levin said he felt he was "much better able to govern" than either Ferency or Montgomery, based on his record.

He also said he felt there should be a black candidate on the Democratic state ticket this year, but he was not ready to identify favorites for specific positions.

Commenting on recent troubles at the University of Michigan, Levin said he felt school president Robben Fleming handled the situation "with intelligence and restraint."

American Troop Reduction Noted

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command has announced that American troop strength in Vietnam dropped another 9,200 men last week, to 439,400. It is the lowest level in three years and results from continuance of President Nixon's third-phase withdrawal now nearing its final week.

The U.S. Command also announced that a detachment representing the 1st Infantry Division will fly Tuesday from Bien Hoa Air Base to the United States, completing the division's departure from Vietnam.

The 2,290-mile Volga River is Europe's longest river and the fifteenth longest in the world.

Controversial Issues Face State Lawmakers

LANSING (AP) — Fresh from a week-long spring break and champing at the campaign bit, Michigan lawmakers returned to Lansing today with some of the most controversial issues of the session yet to come.

Among top items on the list are abortion reform, taxes and spending — how much does who get and where is it coming from.

Little formal work is expected on the Legislature's first day in session this month, however, because of a scheduled visit by George Price, premier of Belize —a nation formerly part of British Honduras.

To Address Legislature

Price is to address a joint session of the Legislature Tuesday afternoon. His country is Michigan's "sister state" in the Partners of Alliance Program.

Neither House nor Senate is expected to act this week on the massive $1.2 billion state school aid bill or companion tax measure. The school aid proposal, which includes $22 million for parochiaid, passed the Senate at a substantially lower total.

The Senate still faces action on the House-approved amendments to the bill, but Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, has indicated there will be no action immediately.

Play Waiting Game

Senators are waiting to see what the House does with the so - called "Spencer-Ryan" tax proposal that would help pay for the school aid total—some $271 million over the total recommended by Gov. William Milliken.

The governor, who refuses to endorse any boost in the state income tax this year, turns thumbs down on the tax idea developed by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, and House Speaker William A. Ryan, D - Detroit, because of the increases it includes.

Ryan has indicated the tax proposal will not be acted upon in the lower chamber immediately. Backers still are trying to round up votes.

Abortion Reform

Meanwhile, the abortion reform question, although not yet officially before the entire Senate, already is turning into a battle.

Milliken has endorsed a sweeping reform measure that would allow a woman pregnant for three months or less to decide whether or not to have an abortion. Her doctor would be the only consultant involved.

Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, has introduced a bill incorporating nearly all Milliken's specifications. Amendments could turn the Bursley bill into an exact copy of what the governor said he would support.

Statement Criticized

But Milliken's abortion reform statement drew blasts from Sen. James Fleming of Jackson, a Republican who led the anti - abortion faction last year when the Senate turned down a reform measure.

Senate minority leader George Fitzgerald, D - Grosse Pointe, also entered the abortion fight shortly before the Easter recess. Fitzgerald, a staunch Roman Catholic, called for the Legislature to work on "bread-and-butter" issues, such as those dealing with labor, instead of concentrating on "glamour" topics like abortion reform.

Measures Studied

Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn, says her Health, Social Services and Retirement Committee will begin work immediately on the question—deciding which of eight pending reform bills should be reported for floor action.

"We're going to come up with a good bill — maybe two — and we're going to be ready to answer all the questions and arguments," she says.

Left nearly unmentioned on legislative floors, meanwhile, are appropriations bills which must be passed by the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

Committees At Work

Intensive committee work has continued for weeks, but fiscal experts appear reluctant to write anything into law until they know where the money will come from.

Milliken's proposed cigarette tax increase and so - called tax "loophole" package have cleared the Legislature, practically assuring an added $65-$70 million for the state treasury.

But the governor said in his budget message that $143 million would be needed to enact all his spending recommendations.

His third proposed tax, involving partial repeal of the property tax credit on the income tax, remains stuck in the House.

All that — and a primary election just four months off.

Federal Meat Inspection Asked By Michigan Solons

By JACQUELINE KORONA

LANSING (AP)—Some Michigan legislators are tempted to dump the state's meat inspection program into the lap of the federal government.

"The Feds make the rules—let them pay for enforcing them," says one.

But State Department of Agriculture people, many operating in meat slaughtering and processing industries, don't want that to happen. Neither does the federal government.

Plants May Close

The department argues that federal inspection could mean closing of up to 50 per cent of Michigan's 192 slaughterhouses and 437 processing plants, while state inspection could keep them open and still provide high quality meat for consumers.

Debate revolved around a bill, now pending in the House Appropriations Committee, which would provide for state inspection of processing plants.

Michigan officials now inspect slaughterhouses, as well as the animals before and after they're killed. But they say they don't have the funds or manpower to fully inspect the processing plants.

Inspection Set

Federal regulations, however, call for states to have full slaughterhouse and processing plant inspection by next Dec. 15 to gain matching funds for their programs.

If both inspections are not in motion by Dec. 15, federal officials are to take over.

"If we turn this over to the federal government, we would lose any local control and many state industries are so small they could not meet the absolute federal requirements and would have to go out of business," says Dr. Charles Cole, assistant state veterinarian.

"Under federal supervision, there would be no provisions to allow any adjustment in facilities and equipment," he said.

Federal Requirement

For instance, Cole said, federal requirements call for 16-foot bleed rails and five-foot doors.

With a cooperative agreement, under which the federal government would pay half the $2.6 million program that would be carried out by Michigan, the state department director "has the right to waive requirements on facilities and equipment, so long as it does not interfere with a clean, wholesome product," Cole says.

Romney's Picture Ordered Off 1970 Election Ballot

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Republican officials have announced that the likeness of former Gov. George Romney would be removed from the party's 1970 ballot vignette.

The vignette, which appears over the column of GOP candidate names on a ballot, had carried the pictures of Romney and Abraham Lincoln.

State party chairman William McLaughlin reported today, however, that the vignette would carry only the picture of Lincoln and the word "Republican" across the top, beginning with the August primary election.

Gov. William Milliken supported the move earlier this year. State Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, who is battling Romney's wife Lenore for the party nomination for U.S. Senate this fall, had asked for the change.

"For the past several months, we have received inquiries regarding the 1970 vignette," McLaughlin said in an official statement which included no mention of Romney.

"These inquiries, coupled with discussions on the subject with people within the party, led us to a determination that there was ample interst in a change."

McLaughlin said the party commissioned its advertising agency early in January to create a new vignette.

"Authorization of the state central committee, as required by law, came last week," he reported.

"Because of the uncertainty of the mails," McLaughlin added, "we polled the 76 members by phone and, with one exception, (they) were unanimous in their approval of the new design."

Sander Levin Says Milliken More Like Caboose Than Engine

LANSING (AP) — Sander Levin, a Democrat who wants to be governor, told newsmen recently Republican Gov. Wm. Milliken has been "more the caboose than the engine of government."

Levin, a state senator from Berkley and one of three announced candidates for the Democratic nomination, said the basic question is one of leadership.

Levin charged Milliken has been slow to take stands on important issues, waiting until the issues become popular.

He said abortion reform was an example, that Michigan could have taken strides last year if Milliken had "raised his voice one decibel."

Levin said he would spell out during the campaign where he differs with Milliken's positions on specific issues. He acknowledged that he and the governor "agree on some things."

Both, for instance, support a wide-ranging pollution control bill which recently received a House committee's recommendation.

Levin was asked about his refusal to go along with the other Democratic candidates on a plan to limit primary campaign expenses to $50,000 each. The proposal was made jointly by Zolton Ferency, the party's 1966 candidate against George Romney, and Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit.

Levin said "it costs more than $50,000 to adequately reach the public in three or four months." Based on 1968 figures, Levin added, that amount of money would buy only 30 one-minute ads on television in Detroit.

Levin said he felt he was "much better able to govern" than either Ferency or Montgomery, based on his record.

He also said he felt there should be a black candidate on the Democratic state ticket this year, but he was not ready to identify favorites for specific positions.

Commenting on recent troubles at the University of Michigan, Levin said he felt school president Robben Fleming handled the situation "with intelligence and restraint."

Federal Meat Inspection Asked By Michigan Solons

"The Feds make the rules—let them pay for enforcing them," says one.

But State Department of Agriculture people, many operating in meat slaughtering and processing industries, don't want that to happen. Neither does the federal government.

Plants May Close

The department argues that federal inspection could mean closing of up to 50 per cent of Michigan's 192 slaughterhouses and 437 processing plants, while state inspection could keep them open and still provide high quality meat for consumers.

Debate revolved around a bill, now pending in the House Appropriations Committee, which would provide for state inspection of processing plants.

Michigan officials now inspect slaughterhouses, as well as the animals before and after they're killed. But they say they don't have the funds or manpower to fully inspect the processing plants.

Mrs. Harold Anderson

Women Voters Pick President

Mrs. Harold Anderson was elected president of the Escanaba League of Women Voters at its annual meeting Monday night. She is library director of the Gladstone School and Public Library and is active in both school and library affairs.

Born in Ishpeming, Mrs. Anderson received her BS degree with distinction from Northern Michigan University and is presently completing requirements for a master's degree in library science at Western Michigan University.

She has been active in the MEA, having served as president of Region 17. In 1969 she received the outstanding teacher award of Region 17. She is listed in the 6th edition of "Who's Who of American Women." Mrs. Anderson also serves on the Delta County Library Board.

She is married to Harold Anderson, a teacher in the Gladstone High School, and has four sons.

Mrs. Anderson succeds Mrs. William Taylor.

Pinecrest Notes Rising Costs In Annual Report

The Pinecrest Board of Trustees in annual meeting recently heard Gene L. Marcantonio, administrator, review financial and statistical data covering the operations of Pinecrest Medical Care Facility in 1969.

Gross operating expenditures amounted to $1,080,862. compared to $1,062,838. in 1968 or an increase of almost 2 per cent. Patient care costs per patient day in 1969 amounted to $18.47 compared to $18.11 per patient day last year. The cost for medical services provided in 1969 was 22 cents per day the same as in 1968.

A wage increase negotiated with Pinecrest Employes Union plus the increased cost of health and welfare benefits accounted for the increase in expenditures in 1969.

Revenues in 1969 have increased approximately 8½ per cent over 1968, including special deficit appropriation granted by the three owner counties, Delta, Dickinson and Menominee.

Medicaid provided the largest amount of revenues for operation or $947,624, or 79½ per cent, while Medicare provided 3 per cent or $36,775.

It took $9.07 per patient day for nursing services in 1969 compared to $8.74 in 1968. All other ancillary services such as diversional therapy, physical therapy, X-ray and pharmacy amounted to approximately 74 cents per patient day in 1969 compared to 92 cents in 1968.

The patient occupancy in 1969 was 98.4 per cent compared to 98.3 per cent for 1968. Of the total days provided in 1969, 20,048 days of care were provided to Delta County residents at a cost to the county of $1.12 per patient day.

In 1969, 58 persons were admitted. Marcantonio said care is provided for 3 persons over 100 years of age and 20 persons over 90 years old, 72 are 80 years or older, while 42 are 70 years or older, 7 are age 65 to 69 and 17 are under 65 years of age.

In other business conducted by the Pinecrest Board of Trustees, Edward Murphy of Gladstone and a member of the Delta County Social Services Board was elected chairman, while Walter Veraghen of Powers and a member of the Menominee County Social Services Board was elected vice-chairman and Cliff Johnson of Kingsford and a member of the Dickinson County Social Services Board was elected to the office of Secretary.

Icefields Delay Shipping Season On Whitefish Bay

MARQUETTE — A few fishermen, braving what appeared to be dangerously thin ice, still were trying to hook lake trout in the upper harbor Sunday.

Their activities went undisturbed as the start of the iron ore shipping season, tentatively scheduled for Sunday or Monday, was delayed by monstrous icefields in Whitefish Bay.

The steamer Walter A. Sterling, flagship of the Cleveland-Cliffs fleet, was rerouted to Escanaba because of the ice barrier in the eastern end of Lake Superior after starting up the lakes for Marquette and the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad loading dock at Presque Isle.

Railroad officials received word that another ship was headed this way, but didn't know when to expect it.

Conditions in Whitefish — where the ice extends far out into the lake north of Whitefish Point — were reported as the most severe since 1951.

Northwesterly winds have been blowing icefields from westerly Lake Superior and the Canadian shore toward the Whitefish Bay area.

AS PART OF A joint effort, Ralph Hamilton (left) who is patient affairs officer at Newberry State Hospital, and Fred Woelffer, claims representative of the Escanaba Social Security office, examine hospital records. Hamilton is formerly of Escanaba.

Social Security Aid To Patients

Despite efforts of the Social Security Administration to keep people informed of changes, some people are missing out on social security benefits, it is reported by Social Security.

Newberry State Hospital patients require additional attention, according to Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba and Dr. Cecil Baker, medical superintendent of the hospital, and they are getting it.

With the cooperation of the hospital staff, the Social Security Administration is re-screening hospital records of patients who are not presently receiving benefit payments to see if any of the recent laws reducing work requirements for younger workers or new disabled widow rules would entitled additional patients to social security checks.

The hospital is presently receiving social security benefits on behalf of over 350 patients amounting to over $200,000 a year. In addition, approximately 200 more patients have informal or legal guardians receiving and disbursing benefits in their behalf.

The importance of spending money and funds for new clothing in the day to day progress and rehabilitation of hospital patients cannot be stressed enough, Dr. Baker stated, and social security benefits are a source of these funds.

In addition, any funds over and above immediate patient needs are used to defray hospital costs and reduce the tax burden of Michigan residents.

Briefly Told

There will be public High School religion Wednesday, at 7 p.m. at Holy Name High School.

Gene S. Bezzi, 20, of Rapid River Rte. 1 was arrested by Escanaba police at 12:54 a.m. today at the Sportsman's tavern and charged with being a minor consuming. Police also reported they are citing the licensee, Paul LaPorte, to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for serving a minor.

Escanaba firemen were called to the Jerome Bernier residence at 913 Washington Ave., where a garage fire damaged one wall at 9:45 p.m. Monday. Earlier in the evening they were called to the Econ-o-wash at 703 Ludington when a pilot light was mistaken for an open flame.

Robert Constantineau, DAV Field Service Officer, will be at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center Thursday from 11:30 a.m. until 2 p.m. Disabled veterans and widows of disabled veterans can contact him at this time.

Bark River United Methodist WSCS will hold its regular meeting at the church Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Parent-Teacher Conferences Set

Parent - teacher conferences are scheduled at the Gladstone Elementary Schools for grades 1-6 Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Gerald Danhoff, elementary principal, said "The elementary staff feels it is very important to have these conferences to enable teachers to communicate with every parent on the progress of each child within the district." Each conference will be limited from 10-15 minutes.

Staff members will be able to present parents information concerning student progress to date, possible promotion or retention, policies of the district, and general information about testing done during the school year, Danhoff said.

Children will attend regular classes in the mornings on Thursday and Friday. Students who ride the bus will be returned after school closes at the regular noon dismissal time and no hot lunch will be served to the elementary students on these days, Danhoff said.

Kindergarten students will attend regular classes on Thursday and Friday as they will not be involved in the conferences.

School To Host Suomi Singers

The Suomi Singers, a vocal and instrumental group of 31 students from Suomi College at Hancock, will appear at the Gladstone High School at 2:15 p. m. Thursday.

The Singers, directed by Kathleen K. Holyoak, will present patriotic, folk, novelty, pop, and sacred vocal and instrumental music. The group sings, using solo and sextet arrangements, guitar and drum accompaniments, and changes of costume to communicate good news through music as a joyful experience.

An international 1969 tour of the Suomi Singers to Canada was applauded at schools and churches.

Suomi is a fully accredited regional Lutheran junior college, the only pirvate college in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Students from Suomi are on their 24th annual spring tour.

Events

WSCS Meeting

The WSCS of Memorial United Methodist Church will hold their regular meeting at the church at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Wallace Cameron and Mrs. Lewis Empson will be hostesses, Mrs. Paul Cowen will lead the devotions and Mrs. William Verhelst will present the program.

Powers-Spalding

Pre-Kindergarten

Pre-registration for kindergarten students who will begin school in the fall of 1970 will be held at the Powers-Spalding Public School on Monday, April 20. Parents whose last names begin with the letters A through P should bring their youngsters to school between 8:30 and 11:30 a.m. Parents whose last names begin with the letters R through Z should come in between 1 and 3:30 p.m. A child must be 5 years old on or before Dec. 1, 1970 to be eligible for enrollment this fall.

Speech-Hearing Clinic Successful Endeavor

The pre-school Speech and Hearing Clinic, conducted by the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District, has been rated a success by the Coordinator of Speech and Hearing, Dave Featheringill.

The clinic which was originally designed to run for one week, had to be extended to two weeks and then to three weeks because of "parent interest."

During the three week clinic, 172 pre-school children, ranging in age from 6½ months to 6 years old, were evaluated for speech, language and hearing problems. Of the 172 evaluated, 78 were found to have a significant problem in one or more of the areas tested.

Thirty-five of the 78 children were found to have a significant language problem that requires consideration before kindergarten placement.

A summer program has been planned for these children. The six week program will run from June 15 to July 25. Program centers are tentatively scheduled for the Flat Rock, Gladstone, Escanaba, Rapid River, Bark River-Harris, Manistique and Big Bay de Noc areas.

The program is parent-child oriented and is designed to help the parent help the child at home. During the six weeks, the child and parent would attend two hours per day, five days a week, for the six week program. At the end of the six weeks, it is expected that the parent would continue the program for the remainder of the summer.

Those parents and children eligible for the program will be contacted some time during the first week of May when final scheduling will take place. Also included as part of the summer program will be those children repeating kindergarten because of speech and language problems.

Mrs. Harold Anderson

Women Voters Pick President

Mrs. Harold Anderson was elected president of the Escanaba League of Women Voters at its annual meeting Monday night. She is library director of the Gladstone School and Public Library and is active in both school and library affairs.

Born in Ishpeming, Mrs. Anderson received her BS degree with distinction from Northern Michigan University and is presently completing requirements for a master's degree in library science at Western Michigan University.

She has been active in the MEA, having served as president of Region 17. In 1969 she received the outstanding teacher award of Region 17. She is listed in the 6th edition of "Who's Who of American Women." Mrs. Anderson also serves on the Delta County Library Board.

She is married to Harold Anderson, a teacher in the Gladstone High School, and has four sons.

Mrs. Anderson succeds Mrs. William Taylor.

Pinecrest Notes Rising Costs In Annual Report

The Pinecrest Board of Trustees in annual meeting recently heard Gene L. Marcantonio, administrator, review financial and statistical data covering the operations of Pinecrest Medical Care Facility in 1969.

Gross operating expenditures amounted to $1,080,862, compared to $1,062,838, in 1968 or an increase of almost 2 per cent. Patient care costs per patient day in 1969 amounted to $18.47 compared to $18.11 per patient day last year. The cost for medical services provided in 1969 was 22 cents per day the same as in 1968.

A wage increase negotiated with Pinecrest Employes Union plus the increased cost of health and welfare benefits accounted for the increase in expenditures in 1969.

Revenues in 1969 have increased approximately 8½ per cent over 1968, including special deficit appropriation granted by the three owner counties, Delta, Dickinson and Menominee.

Medicaid provided the largest amount of revenues for operation or $947,624, or 79½ per cent, while Medicare provided 3 per cent or $36,775.

It took $9.07 per patient day for nursing services in 1969 compared to $8.74 in 1968. All other ancillary services such as diversional therapy, physical therapy, X-ray and pharmacy amounted to approximately 74 cents per patient day in 1969 compared to 92 cents in 1968.

The patient occupancy in 1969 was 98.4 per cent compared to 98.3 per cent for 1968. Of the total days provided in 1969, 20,048 days of care were provided to Delta County residents at a cost to the county of $1.12 per patient day.

In 1969, 58 persons were admitted. Marcantonio said care is provided for 3 persons over 100 years of age and 20 persons over 90 years old, 72 are 80 years or older, while 42 are 70 years or older, 7 are age 65 to 69 and 17 are under 65 years of age.

In other business conducted by the Pinecrest Board of Trustees, Edward Murphy of Gladstone and a member of the Delta County Social Services Board was elected chairman, while Walter Veraghen of Powers and a member of the Menominee County Social Services Board was elected vice-chairman and Cliff Johnson of Kingsford and a member of the Dickinson County Social Services Board was elected to the office of Secretary.

AS PART OF A joint effort, Ralph Hamilton (left) who is patient affairs officer at Newberry State Hospital, and Fred Woelffer, claims representative of the Escanaba Social Security office, examine hospital records. Hamilton is formerly of Escanaba.

Social Security Aid To Patients

Despite efforts of the Social Security Administration to keep people informed of changes, some people are missing out on social security benefits, it is reported by Social Security.

Newberry State Hospital patients require additional attention, according to Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba and Dr. Cecil Baker, medical superintendent of the hospital, and they are getting it.

With the cooperation of the hospital staff, the Social Security Administration is re-screening hospital records of patients who are not presently receiving benefit payments to see if any of the recent laws reducing work requirements for younger workers or new disabled widow rules would entitled additional patients to social security checks.

The hospital is presently receiving social security benefits on behalf of over 350 patients amounting to over $200,000 a year. In addition, approximately 200 more patients have informal or legal guardians receiving and disbursing benefits in their behalf.

The importance of spending money and funds for new clothing in the day to day progress and rehabilitation of hospital patients cannot be stressed enough, Dr. Baker stated, and social security benefits are a source of these funds.

In addition, any funds over and above immediate patient needs are used to defray hospital costs and reduce the tax burden of Michigan residents.

Icefields Delay Shipping Season On Whitefish Bay

MARQUETTE — A few fishermen, braving what appeared to be dangerously thin ice, still were trying to hook lake trout in the upper harbor Sunday.

Their activities went undisturbed as the start of the iron ore shipping season, tentatively scheduled for Sunday or Monday, was delayed by monstrous icefields in Whitefish Bay.

The steamer Walter A. Sterling, flagship of the Cleveland-Cliffs fleet, was rerouted to Escanaba because of the ice barrier in the eastern end of Lake Superior after starting up the lakes for Marquette and the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad loading dock at Presque Isle.

Railroad officials received word that another ship was headed this way, but didn't know when to expect it.

Conditions in Whitefish — where the ice extends far out into the lake north of Whitefish Point — were reported as the most severe since 1951.

School To Host Suomi Singers

The Suomi Singers, a vocal and instrumental group of 31 students from Suomi College at Hancock, will appear at the Gladstone High School at 2:15 p. m. Thursday.

The Singers, directed by Kathleen K. Holyoak, will present patriotic, folk, novelty, pop, and sacred vocal and instrumental music. The group sings, using solo and sextet arrangements, guitar and drum accompaniments, and changes of costume to communicate good news through music as a joyful experience.

An international 1969 tour of the Suomi Singers to Canada was applauded at schools and churches.

Suomi is a fully accredited regional Lutheran junior college, the only pirvate college in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Students from Suomi are on their 24th annual spring tour.

Events

WSCS Meeting

The WSCS of Memorial United Methodist Church will hold their regular meeting at the church at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Mrs. Wallace Cameron and Mrs. Lewis Empson will be hostesses, Mrs. Paul Cowen will lead the devotions and Mrs. William Verhelst will present the program.

Briefly Told

Lynn L. Richards, Rte. 1 Gladstone, was ticketed by the Gladstone City Police for reckless driving.

Division Title Won By Knicks

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Barnett, the wondrous Old Man of the New York Knicks, was skirting friendly, verbal pokes about his age and stamina.

"It's performance that counts, not my age," said the National Basketball Association veteran who's on the verge of 34. "I believe I've still got five more years in this league."

Believe, believe. He looked as agile as a startled gazelle Monday night, scoring 29 points to pace New York's 127-114 victory over Baltimore that gave the Knicks their Eastern Division semifinal series, four games to three.

The victory, before a rowdy full house of 19,500 at Madison Square Garden, shot the Knicks into the Eastern finals against Milwaukee. The best-of-7 series starts Saturday afternoon in New York.

Phoenix, holding a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 Western semifianls with Los Angeles, hosts the Lakers in the only NBA action tonight.

Barnett, guarded by Baltimore's magnificent Earl Monroe, admittedly went for the basket often "to try to put Monroe on defense more ... and maybe affect his offensive game."

Monroe wound up with a game-high 32 points, but his performance wasn't enough to offset the Knicks' well balanced effort that had Barnett crowing, "It was a heck of a team game."

The Knicks' Willis Reed agreed: "We came to play, asking ourselves if we wanted to start our vacations early ... or continue the playoffs.

"It was the best all-around game we've played in the playoffs. I wasn't going so well, so Guy hit others who had the hot hand."

Dave DeBusschere, the Knicks' graceful forward, was one of them. He scored 29 points, 18 in the second half as the Knicks blew Baltimore off the court.

Tigers Win Opener Behind Lolich, 5-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit lefthander Mickey Lolich, winner of 19 games in 1969, says he developed a new pitch this spring. Check with the Washington Senators if you want to know if its effective.

Lolich, filling in for the suspended Tiger ace Denny McLain, shut out the Senators 5-0 Monday in a drawn out affair played in a cold drizzle and partly in front of President Nixon.

"I call it the classified pitch," Lolich said in the dressing room after the game, adding jokingly that he would not say more about it because "The hitters may incriminate me."

Lolich said he threw the new pitch often during the rain-delayed game in which he struck out 10 while twice working his way out of bases-loaded jams.

He also said he couldn't remember when he had as much stuff on the ball as he did during the 3-hour, 43-minute affair, although he didn't know the reason for it.

"I had great stuff," he said. "The fast ball was running all over the place and the curve ball was fantastic. I would throw a curve ball at the outside and it would break three feet.

"It was a matter of getting adjusted to all that stuff," he said. "If I had that much stuff all the time, it would be great."

The Tigers got off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Willie Horton drilled a bases-loaded double down the left field line. They shoved across the three other runs in the late innings while Nixon watched.

The President had turned over the ceremonial chore of throwing out the first ball to his son-in-law, David Eisenhower, because of a crucial Senate vote on the nomination of G. Harrold Carswell to the Supreme Court.

After Nixon scored an impressive victory in a 52-44 vote, the Pres dent turned up at the ballpark in the fifth inning to join David, his two daughters, Julie and Tricia, and his wife, Pat.

After the game, Nixon — a Washington fan-waved to the Senators as he left the park and wished them better luck during the rest of the year.

Detroit manager Mayo Smith said the victory wasn't an easy one and he was especially concerned about the number of men the Tigers left on base, 17, one less than a major league mark.

The two teams stranded a total of 29, also only one shy of the major league record.

"We've got to do better than that," Smith said, "but if we keep playing the way we have lately, we will be all right."

Washington manager Ted Williams was disappointed his team was shut out but blamed much of it on Lolich and the cold weather.

Mickey Lolich

"Lolich was tough today," Williams said, "but we've got to hit better than that. It was a cold day and it's tough to hit in this kind of weather.

"The ball didn't go today but it will be going when the sun burns off the cold. The ball has a lot of jack in it."

"It all amounted to us not making any runs and Lolich pitching a real good game," said Williams.

Ladies' Dartball Season Closes

The tournament crown for the Ladies Dartball Championship was won by the First Lutheran Church of Gladstone last week, when they defeated the Presbyterian Church of Escanaba, two out of three games. In winning the title, First Lutheran, defeated Central Methodist, while Presbyterian drew a bye into the final round.

The league crown was won by Christ the King Lutheran Church of Escanaba, which defeated Calvary Lutheran of Rapid River in a playoff game, winning two out of three games.

All persons interested in attending the banquet are reminded that the banquet will be held April 11, at 6:30 p.m. at Memorial Methodist Church of Gladstone.

Softball

There will be a saftball meeting on Thursday at 7:30 at the Jolly Roger Bar. All team managers, representatives of teams and the league officers are asked to be present. Any new teams interested in joining the league are also invited.

Hockey Playoff Schedule Ready

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stanley Cup quarter-final playoffs will begin April 8 with all four series running parallel, the National Hockey League announced Monday.

The quarter-finals will begin Wednesday night with Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis and Oakland at Pittsburgh. The teams will meet again at the same sites April 9. The teams then shift sites for games April 11 and .2.

If more than four games are required, game No. 5 will be played April 14 in the city in which the series started, then shift sites again for game No. 6 on April 16. If a seventh game is required it will be played in the city where the series started either April 18 or 19.

Here's the way the four series lineup at a glance:

April 8 and 9—Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis, Oakland at Pittsburgh.

April 11 and 12—Chicago at Detroit, Boston at New York, St. Louis at Minnesota, Pittsburgh at Oakland.

April 14 (if necessary)—Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis, Oakland at pittsburgh.

April 16 (if necessary)—Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis, Oakland at Pittsburgh.

Sports In Brief

Six Tiger pitchers had perfect 1.000 fielding averages in 1969. The hurlers to go errorless were Bob Reed, Fred Scherman, Gary Taylor, Fred Lasher, Tom Timmerman and Daryl Patterson.

Michigan State senior halfback Don Highsmith played in three post-season bowl games. He saw action in the Blue-Gray, American Bowl and Senior Bowl contests.

Apprentice jockey Charlie Maffeo rode a record total of 66 winners at the recent Tropical Park meeting.

Minnesota's Williams Arena is the largest college-owned basketball facility in the world. It seats 18,025 but held 20,176 for a 1955 game with Iowa.

Cincinnati Raps Expos, Merritt Hurls 3-Hitter

CINCINNATI (AP) — Everyone has conceded the Cincinnati Reds have hitting power and, at least for the first game of the season, they also came up with the pitching which was so sadly lacking in 1969.

They put the power and the pitching together for a 5-1 victory Monday over the Montreal Expos in the 1970 National League opener before 30,124 fans, shivering from a cold wind and dampened by intermittent rain.

Jim Merritt pitched 6 1-3 innings of hitless ball before Rusty Staub slammed a triple, and the lefthander wound up with a three-hitter.

"I had fantastic control," Merritt aid. "That was the biggest thing going for me."

Merritt, who struck out eight and walked only two, has never hurled a no-hitter and commented that "I've always said that I wouldn't worry about a no-hitter until I have one out to go."

Catcher John Bench said that "this is early in the year but his control was pure July. He made only two or three bad pitches in the whole game."

The performance seemed even more outstanding since he fractured the right elbow the day before he was to leave for spring training and he saw only very limited action in exhibition games.

On the offense, Cincinnati lived up to its reputation of being a strong hitting club as Lee May, rookie Bernie Carbo and Bobby Tolan blasted homers to produce a four-run fourth inning—all the runs the Reds needed although May hit a sacrifice fly the next inning for the final tally.

"Everybody in both leagues knows they can hit the ball," said Montreal pitcher Joe Sparma who was touched for all five runs. "That wasn't a shock to me."

Bench opened the fourth with a double. May blasted one over the scoreboard that had to be a tape-measure job. It went over into Western avenue and through a runway that leads under Interstate-75.

Police and a few kids pursued it.

Carbo followed with his home run and, after two went out, Tolan knocked his into the right field edge of the right field bleachers.

A triple by Pete Rose and May's sacrifice fly produced the Reds last run.

Staub, a confirmed major - leaguer, broke Merritt's no-hit spell with a booming triple off the right centerfield wall and scored on Ron Fairly's single.

The Reds left immediately after the game for Los Angeles where they will play the Dodgers tonight with Gary Nolan of the Reds going against Claude Osteen. Osteen hails from Reading, a Cincinnati suburb, and once was with the Reds.

NHL To Study Rules Revision

MONTREAL (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said Monday the league's governors will probably take action at the annual meeting in June to change the system for determining playoff positions.

Campbell commented in the wake of an uproar over the tactics used in Sunday's windup games by New York and Montreal, who were deadlocked for the fourth and final playoff spot in the NHL Eastern Division.

Under NHL rules teams tied in game points at the end of the season break the tie by comparing their goals scored records.

New York won the playoff spot but the Rangers pulled goalie Ed Giacomin in an attempt to pile up goals against Detroit even though it would have meant giving up goals to the Red Wings. Montreal did the same thing later Sunday in an effort to outscore New York.

"The clubs were doing the right thing under existing regulations," said Campbell. "It is up to the governors to make any changes."

He said he would include his thoughts on the subject in a report to the governors in June. "I'm sure it will be subject for consideration then."

The NHL president suggested one solution might be to adopt a system similiar to the Canadian Football League, which breaks ties by considering the record of games between the deadlocked teams. If that fails, the CFL considers the scoring offense and scoring defense records between the teams in question and as a last resort, the over-all points scored and yielded.

Black Hawks Elated Over Winning Title

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks' stunning rise from the cellar to a championship in one season turned out to be one of the great uphill battles in hockey history.

Not only did they have to win their last two games from the defending champion Montreal Canadiens, but with only a quarter of the season remaining, the Hawks were in fifth place only one step away from the basement in the Eastern Division of the National Hockey League.

At the time they were worried they might not even make the Stanley Cup playoffs. But they kept plugging away, climbng notch by notch until they finally captured the whole show with a stunning 10-2 victory over the Canadiens Sunday night.

How did they do it? Coach Billy Reay starts out singing the laurels of Tony (Zero) Esposito whose goal tending feats earned him a record 15 shutouts and the Vezina Trophy.

"Then, too, there's the Pit Martin line, the kids, the willingness of the veterans and the acquisition of defenseman Bill White," said Reay, who was carried off the ice on the shoulders of his players Sunday night.

As the Hawks paraded Reay around the ice, the fans were shouting the refrain "We're No. 1, we're No. 1." A year ago the same fans were singing "Good Bye Billy."

"We weren't that bad a year ago," reflected Reay in trying to explain the Hawks' tremendous comeback. "Goal tending was our big problem and our defensive work wasn't the greatest."

Esposito took care of the goal tending and the rebuilding of the defense began with the shifting of veteran Doug Mohns from forward to defense. Rookie Keith Magnuson added a new dimension on defense and when Pat Stapleton suffered a knee injury, the Hawks acquired White in a trade with Los Angeles.

Along with Magnuson and Esposito, the Hawks also relied heavily on rookie forwards Cliff Koroll and Jerry Pinder and defenseman Paul Shmyr.

"Everyone figured the kids would collapse under pressure in the final drive," said Reay. "But instead of collapsing they kept getting stronger.

Canadiens Are Upset By Being Eliminated

DETROIT (AP) — Amid conflicting reports about who is and isn't mad about the Detroit Red Wings' performance in losing 9-5 against New York Sunday, the Wings prepare to take on Chicago in the Stanley Cup playoffs Wednesday and Thursday nights.

One Detroit columnist says CBS officials may have second thoughts about renewing the National Hockey League's television contract because of what he called "a black eye" suffered by the game.

A competing columnist wrote today that "nothing could be farther from the truth" and "CBS was estatic over the Rangers making the playoffs" because New York is the top television market in the country. However, he added, The Montreal Canadiens, the NHL team that New York beat out of the playoffs by piling up so many last - game goals against the Wings, "are incensed over the Red Wings' performance..."

The crux of the controversy is the way the league determines who will get into the playoffs. All else being equal, as in the case of the Rangers and Canadiens who finished with equal defeats, ties and victories, the deciding factor is who scored most points in the season. New York's drubbing of the Red Wings's second - line which played most of Sunday's game gave the Rangers a 246-to-244 season edge over Montreal.

Meanwhile, in Chicago the Black Hawks are more interested in what lies ahead than who's telling the truth about last Sunday. They want to take the Stanley Cup with them when they switch from the NHL Eastern Division to the Western Division under the expansion program of the 1970-71 season.

"We're not going over there as second - rate citizens," crowed general manager Tommy Ivan after the Hawks 10-2 win over Montreal Sunday night to give them the Eastern Division crown.

The Hawks, who became the first team in NHL history to climb from last to first, haven't won the Stanley Cup since 1961.

"This club is ready," said Stan Mikita. "Three years ago I was more elated and we had a bigger celebration because it was the first time we had won the championship. This time we'll hold off the big celebration for later.

"The last time we won it big," continued Mikita. "When the playoffs started, we were flat and Toronto didn't have much trouble with us. But this year we've had to battle all the way. We're mentally sharp and in good shape physically, too."

Bobby Hull, who like Mikita is a holdover from the 1961 Stanley Cup champions, feels the Hawks can go all the way this time.

"This is the greatest team I've ever played with," said the Golden Jet. "We might have had better individuals in other years but for hustle, spirit and pride this has to be one of the greatest teams in league history."

Pit Martin, the big hero in the Black Hawk resurgence who climaxed it with a hat trick in the final victory, claims, "We're No. 1 and we're going to stay that way. The way we're playing now, there's no reason why we can't go all the way."

Manager Preston Gomez of the San Diego Padres broke into organized baseball with the 1944 Washington Senators. He played eight games and spent the rest of his playing days as a minor league shortstop.

Division Title Won By Knicks

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Barnett, the wondrous Old Man of the New York Knicks, was skirting friendly, verbal pokes about his age and stamina.

"It's performance that counts, not my age," said the National Basketball Association veteran who's on the verge of 34. "I believe I've still got five more years in this league."

Believe, believe. He looked as agile as a startled gazelle Monday night, scoring 29 points to pace New York's 127-114 victory over Baltimore that gave the Knicks their Eastern Division semifinal series, four games to three.

The victory, before a rowdy full house of 19,500 at Madison Square Garden, shot the Knicks into the Eastern finals against Milwaukee. The best-of-7 series starts Saturday afternoon in New York.

Phoenix, holding a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 Western semifianls with Los Angeles, hosts the Lakers in the only NBA action tonight.

Barnett, guarded by Baltimore's magnificent Earl Monroe, admittedly went for the basket often "to try to put Monroe on defense more ... and maybe affect his offensive game."

Monroe wound up with a game-high 32 points, but his performance wasn't enough to offset the Knicks' well balanced effort that had Barnett crowing, "It was a heck of a team game."

The Knicks' Willis Reed agreed: "We came to play, asking ourselves if we wanted to start our vacations early ... or continue the playoffs.

"It was the best all-around game we've played in the playoffs. I wasn't going so well, so Guy hit others who had the hot hand."

Dave DeBusschere, the Knicks' graceful forward, was one of them. He scored 29 points, 18 in the second half as the Knicks blew Baltimore off the court.

There will be a saftball meeting on Thursday at 7:30 at the Jolly Roger Bar. All team managers, representatives of teams and the league officers are asked to be present.Any new teams interested in joining the league are also invited.

Hockey Playoff Schedule Ready

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stanley Cup quarter-final playoffs will begin April 8 with all four series running parallel, the National Hockey League announced Monday.

The quarter-finals will begin Wednesday night with Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis and Oakland at Pittsburgh. The teams will meet again at the same sites April 9. The teams then shift sites for games April 11 and .2.

If more than four games are required, game No. 5 will be played April 14 in the city in which the series started, then shift sites again for game No. 6 on April 16. If a seventh game is required it will be played in the city where the series started either April 18 or 19.

Here's the way the four series lineup at a glance:

April 8 and 9—Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis, Oakland at Pittsburgh.

April 11 and 12—Chicago at Detroit, Boston at New York, St. Louis at Minnesota, Pittsburgh at Oakland.

April 14 (if necessary)—Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis, Oakland at pittsburgh.

April 16 (if necessary)—Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis, Oakland at Pittsburgh.

Sports In Brief

Six Tiger pitchers had perfect 1.000 fielding averages in 1969. The hurlers to go errorless were Bob Reed, Fred Scherman, Gary Taylor, Fred Lasher, Tom Timmerman and Daryl Patterson.

Michigan State senior halfback Don Highsmith played in three post-season bowl games. He saw action in the Blue-Gray, American Bowl and Senior Bowl contests.

Apprentice jockey Charlie Maffeo rode a record total of 66 winners at the recent Tropical Park meeting.

Minnesota's Williams Arena is the largest college-owned basketball facility in the world. It seats 18,025 but held 20,176 for a 1955 game with Iowa.

Cincinnati Raps Expos, Merritt Hurls 3-Hitter

CINCINNATI (AP) — Everyone has conceded the Cincinnati Reds have hitting power and, at least for the first game of the season, they also came up with the pitching which was so sadly lacking in 1969.

They put the power and the pitching together for a 5-1 victory Monday over the Montreal Expos in the 1970 National League opener before 30,124 fans, shivering from a cold wind and dampened by intermittent rain.

Jim Merritt pitched 6 1-3 innings of hitless ball before Rusty Staub slammed a triple, and the lefthander wound up with a three-hitter.

"I had fantastic control," Merritt aid. "That was the biggest thing going for me."

Merritt, who struck out eight and walked only two, has never hurled a no-hitter and commented that "I've always said that I wouldn't worry about a no-hitter until I have one out to go."

Catcher John Bench said that "this is early in the year but his control was pure July. He made only two or three bad pitches in the whole game."

The performance seemed even more outstanding since he fractured the right elbow the day before he was to leave for spring training and he saw only very limited action in exhibition games.

On the offense, Cincinnati lived up to its reputation of being a strong hitting club as Lee May, rookie Bernie Carbo and Bobby Tolan blasted homers to produce a four-run fourth inning—all the runs the Reds needed although May hit a sacrifice fly the next inning for the final tally.

"Everybody in both leagues knows they can hit the ball," said Montreal pitcher Joe Sparma who was touched for all five runs. "That wasn't a shock to me."

Bench opened the fourth with a double. May blasted one over the scoreboard that had to be a tape-measure job. It went over into Western avenue and through a runway that leads under Interstate-75.

Police and a few kids pursued it.

Carbo followed with his home run and, after two went out, Tolan knocked his into the right field edge of the right field bleachers.

A triple by Pete Rose and May's sacrifice fly produced the Reds last run.

Staub, a confirmed major - leaguer, broke Merritt's no-hit spell with a booming triple off the right centerfield wall and scored on Ron Fairly's single.

The Reds left immediately after the game for Los Angeles where they will play the Dodgers tonight with Gary Nolan of the Reds going against Claude Osteen. Osteen hails from Reading, a Cincinnati suburb, and once was with the Reds.

NHL To Study Rules Revision

MONTREAL (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said Monday the league's governors will probably take action at the annual meeting in June to change the system for determining playoff positions.

Campbell commented in the wake of an uproar over the tactics used in Sunday's windup games by New York and Montreal, who were deadlocked for the fourth and final playoff spot in the NHL Eastern Division.

Under NHL rules teams tied in game points at the end of the season break the tie by comparing their goals scored records.

New York won the playoff spot but the Rangers pulled goalie Ed Giacomin in an attempt to pile up goals against Detroit even though it would have meant giving up goals to the Red Wings. Montreal did the same thing later Sunday in an effort to outscore New York.

"The clubs were doing the right thing under existing regulations," said Campbell. "It is up to the governors to make any changes."

He said he would include his thoughts on the subject in a report to the governors in June. "I'm sure it will be subject for consideration then."

The NHL president suggested one solution might be to adopt a system similiar to the Canadian Football League, which breaks ties by considering the record of games between the deadlocked teams. If that fails, the CFL considers the scoring offense and scoring defense records between the teams in question and as a last resort, the over-all points scored and yielded.

Canadiens Are Upset By Being Eliminated

DETROIT (AP) — Amid conflicting reports about who is and isn't mad about the Detroit Red Wings' performance in losing 9-5 against New York Sunday, the Wings prepare to take on Chicago in the Stanley Cup playoffs Wednesday and Thursday nights.

One Detroit columnist says CBS officials may have second thoughts about renewing the National Hockey League's television contract because of what he called "a black eye" suffered by the game.

A competing columnist wrote today that "nothing could be farther from the truth" and "CBS was estatic over the Rangers making the playoffs" because New York is the top television market in the country. However, he added, The Montreal Canadiens, the NHL team that New York beat out of the playoffs by piling up so many last - game goals against the Wings, "are incensed over the Red Wings' performance..."

The Hawks, who became the first team in NHL history to climb from last to first, haven't won the Stanley Cup since 1961.

"This club is ready," said Stan Mikita. "Three years ago I was more elated and we had a bigger celebration because it was the first time we had won the championship. This time we'll hold off the big celebration for later.

Manager Preston Gomez of the San Diego Padres broke into organized baseball with the 1944 Washington Senators. He played eight games and spent the rest of his playing days as a minor league shortstop.

Tigers Win Opener Behind Lolich, 5-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit lefthander Mickey Lolich, winner of 19 games in 1969, says he developed a new pitch this spring. Check with the Washington Senators if you want to know if its effective.

Lolich, filling in for the suspended Tiger ace Denny McLain, shut out the Senators 5-0 Monday in a drawn out affair played in a cold drizzle and partly in front of President Nixon.

"I call it the classified pitch," Lolich said in the dressing room after the game, adding jokingly that he would not say more about it because "The hitters may incriminate me."

Lolich said he threw the new pitch often during the rain-delayed game in which he struck out 10 while twice working his way out of bases-loaded jams.

He also said he couldn't remember when he had as much stuff on the ball as he did during the 3-hour, 43-minute affair, although he didn't know the reason for it.

"I had great stuff," he said. "The fast ball was running all over the place and the curve ball was fantastic. I would throw a curve ball at the outside and it would break three feet.

"It was a matter of getting adjusted to all that stuff," he said. "If I had that much stuff all the time, it would be great."

The Tigers got off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Willie Horton drilled a bases-loaded double down the left field line. They shoved across the three other runs in the late innings while Nixon watched.

The President had turned over the ceremonial chore of throwing out the first ball to his son-in-law, David Eisenhower, because of a crucial Senate vote on the nomination of G. Harrold Carswell to the Supreme Court.

After Nixon scored an impressive victory in a 52-44 vote, the President turned up at the ballpark in the fifth inning to join David, his two daughters, Julie and Tricia, and his wife, Pat.

After the game, Nixon — a Washington fan-waved to the Senators as he left the park and wished them better luck during the rest of the year.

Detroit manager Mayo Smith said the victory wasn't an easy one and he was especially concerned about the number of men the Tigers left on base, 17, one less than a major league mark.

The two teams stranded a total of 29, also only one shy of the major league record.

"We've got to do better than that," Smith said, "but if we keep playing the way we have lately, we will be all right."

Washington manager Ted Williams was disappointed his team was shut out but blamed much of it on Lolich and the cold weather.

Mickey Lolich

"Lolich was tough today," Williams said, "but we've got to hit better than that. It was a cold day and it's tough to hit in this kind of weather.

"The ball didn't go today but it will be going when the sun burns off the cold. The ball has a lot of jack in it."

"It all amounted to us not making any runs and Lolich pitching a real good game," said Williams.

Black Hawks Elated Over Winning Title

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks' stunning rise from the cellar to a championship in one season turned out to be one of the great uphill battles in hockey history.

Not only did they have to win their last two games from the defending champion Montreal Canadiens, but with only a quarter of the season remaining, the Hawks were in fifth place only one step away from the basement in the Eastern Division of the National Hockey League.

At the time they were worried they might not even make the Stanley Cup playoffs. But they kept plugging away, climbng notch by notch until they finally captured the whole show with a stunning 10-2 victory over the Canadiens Sunday night.

How did they do it? Coach Billy Reay starts out singing the laurels of Tony (Zero) Esposito whose goal tending feats earned him a record 15 shutouts and the Vezina Trophy.

"Then, too, there's the Pit Martin line, the kids, the willingness of the veterans and the acquisition of defenseman Bill White," said Reay, who was carried off the ice on the shoulders of his players Sunday night.

As the Hawks paraded Reay around the ice, the fans were shouting the refrain "We're No. 1, we're No. 1." A year ago the same fans were singing "Good Bye Billy."

"We weren't that bad a year ago," reflected Reay in trying to explain the Hawks' tremendous comeback. "Goal tending was our big problem and our defensive work wasn't the greatest."

Esposito took care of the goal tending and the rebuilding of the defense began with the shifting of veteran Doug Mohns from forward to defense. Rookie Keith Magnuson added a new dimension on defense and when Pat Stapleton suffered a knee injury, the Hawks acquired White in a trade with Los Angeles.

Along with Magnuson and Esposito, the Hawks also relied heavily on rookie forwards Cliff Koroll and Jerry Pinder and defenseman Paul Shmyr.

"Everyone figured the kids would collapse under pressure in the final drive," said Reay. "But instead of collapsing they kept getting stronger.

Esky Bowlers Shine Sunday At Green Bay

GREEN BAY — Escanaba Bowlers were one of the top attractions Sunday afternoon in the annual Press-Gazette Individual Bowling Championships at the Fox River Lanes.

Dolores Annear swept into sixth place in the women's standings with a 535-52—587, including the best women's game to date, a 235. Her 235 game and 535 series were both season highs for her, as her best previous effort was a 530 in the Holiday Bowl's Thursday Night League.

Mrs. Annear's 235 game was built around eight strikes, including four straight in the opening four frames.

Tom Gregoire was high among the men with a 556-92—648, which included a big 231 game. Following Gregoire were Ed McCarthy, 542-72—614; Jack Annear, 517-92—609; Ed Larche, 505-56—561; Bob Corriveau, 510-48—558 and Ray Moran, 446-108—554.

Other top women scorers were Millie Jensen, 449-120—569; Romona Abel, 471-94—565; Ruth Stade, 431-120—551; Gaye Corriveau, 424-106—530; Parma Martineau, 422-98—520; Pat McCarthy 415-90—505 and Vera Issacson of Gladstone, 425-80—505.

Split pickers were Bud Stade, 5-6 and 3-10; Ed Larche 5-10 and 3-10; Bob Corriveau 9-10 and 3-10 and Marian Tibergien of Gladstone, 4-5 and 3-10.

In addition, Dolores Annear, Carol Gregoire and Pat McCarthy won steak dinners for getting four strikes in succession.

Brewers Go On Display In Season Opener Today

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The second edition of "the Milwaukee story" unveiled here today when the Milwaukee Brewers and the California Angeles squared off to open their 1970 American League baseball season.

More than 30,000 fans were expected to be on hand for Milwaukee's first American League team since 1901, and the city's first major league team since the Braves fled to Atlanta after the 1965 season.

Baseball also rolled out its big guns for the opener, including Commissioner and Mrs. Bowie Kuhn and the Angels' big brass.

The opener caps a flurry of activity that started just a week ago today when Seattle bankruptcy referee Sidney C. Volinn gave permission to the Brewers to buy the financially-embarrassed Seattle Pilots.

The purchase ended a five-year search by Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club Inc. for a major league franchise. The organization was formed after the National League gave the Braves permission to abscond to Atlanta.

But a court order stayed the Braves' move for one year and the Hank Aaron-led team still drew 555,584 fans.

Brewers officials said Monday the shortness of time may prevent a complete sell-out of the 47,000-seat County Stadium. Because of the court action, which was not completed until Thursday, single-game tickets did not go on sale until Friday.

Allan H. (Bud) Selig, Brewers president, announced Monday night that 3,349 season tickets had been sold, in addition to 19,275 single-game tickets for games today and Wednesday.

The frenzied pace to prepare for the opening of the season was noted by Brewers general manager Marvin Milkes, who said: "We have four months of work to do in four days."

The "dream came true" ends an arduous search by Selig and his group. The Brewers first applied unsuccessfully for American and National League expansion franchises in August, 1965.

Then the corporation sponsored an exhibition game between the Chicago White Sox and the Minnesota Twins in 1968 that drew a crowd of 51,144, the largest sports audience ever at County Stadium.

In 1968, the White Sox played nine American League season games in Milwaukee, then upped their schedule here in 1969 to 11 championship games.

Following the 1968 season, the corporation applied for a National League expansion franchise, and once again was turned down.

When the Pilots were toppled by financial problems, the Brewers went to the rescue, buying the Seattle club for a reported $10.8 million.

The baseball team arrived in its new home Sunday night, with the players being welcomed by an estimated 8,000 persons.

Beard, Hill To Challenge Establishment In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Two of golf's emerging superstars, Frank Beard and Dave Hill, are ready to challenge the pro game's establishment for the coveted green jacket that goes to the winner of the Masters.

Those two, tour veterans in their early 30's, came into their own last year and, as much as anyone else dominated the pro tour. Neither, however, has won a major title.

But now, they say, they're ready.

"I guess you could say it's more of an obsession with me now than ever before," said the soft-spoken Beard, a relatively bland, colorless character in the mold of a Billy Casper.

Like Casper, about the only thing outstanding about him is his golf game. It brought him to titles in 1969 along with $177,000 that made him the leading money winner.

"Sure, I'm shooting for it, more than ever before," the flamboyant, outspoken Hill said after a practice round Monday. "I've been off for four weeks just practicing for it."

Hill, a thin, dark young man who came up from the caddie ranks and spent years of obscurity on the tour, won three events last year, captured the Vardon Trophy for the best stroke average and was second on the money list.

Both are among the favorites in this first of the world's four major championships, a 72-hole test that begins Thursday on the famed Augusta National Golf Club course.

And each said his game is whipping into shape.

"I'm playing pretty good right now," said Beard, a Louisville, Ky., native who took one of his rare week's off just prior to the Masters to rest.

"I'm playing a lot better than I have in some time," he said. "Maybe not as good as I'd like to, but better.

"Yes, you could say I'm gunning for tis one. It's not that I'm doing anything differently, but with the accomplishments I was fortunate enough to achieve last year, well, winning a major title or possibly the Vardon Trophy is about all that's left.

"So my desire for a major title has increased. That sort of thing does as the years go by."

Hill, sporting a new pair of granny, wire-rimmed glasses — "It's a whole new world for ol' Davy out there now that he can see it"—has been in Augusta since Friday sharpening his considerable skills.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Don McCafferty was named head coach of the Baltimore Colts today after serving 11 seasons as an offensive aide of the National Football League team.

Former NBA Cage Star, Stokes, Dies

CINCINNATI (AP) — A long, "courageous" battle has ended for former National Basketball Association star Maurice Stokes who had lived basketball from his hospital bed since being stricken by encephalities in 1958.

"He was always watching or listening to games," Jack Twyman, Stokes' guardian and one-time teammate said of the "Mighty Mo" who died Monday from a heart attack. "We talked a lot about the days when he was an active player."

Stokes, 36, was named the NBA's rookie of the year in the 1955 season when he played for the old Rochester Royals who moved to Cincinnati in 1958. He was headed toward becoming one of the sport's greats when he was stricken following an injury in a game.

Encephalaties, a brain injury, left him parlyzed and bedridden most of the time but he managed to regain the ability to feed himself, write, and type.

"You'll never know, meet or read about anybody as courageous as Maurice," Twyman said. "I never heard the man complain in 12 years of lying on his back.

"To everybody that knew Maurice it was a great loss and he was a great man. "I'm better for having know him. It's hard to put down on paper the way I feel. Ernest Hemingway couldn't do it."

"Stokes averaged over 15 points a game and 15 rebounds in his last season. He was selected to the all-NBA second team all three years.

Before turning pro, Stokes played at St. Francis College in Loretto, Pa.

Only a few weeks ago, he received one of the thrills of his life. He was voted by fans to the Cincinnati Royals' Hall of Fame.

Visitation will be at the auditorium at Good Samaritan Hospital from 6 to 9 p. m. Wednesday. Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated Thursday at the St. Francis College chapel and burial will be in the Franciscan Community Cemetery on campus.

He is survived by his mother, a brother and a sister.

Ishpeming Pair Second In ABC

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Two Ishpeming, Mich., brothers — Bob and Don Maki — whose combined age is 37 rolled their way into second place of regular doubles standings of the American Bowling Congress Tournament Monday by registering 1,310.

Bob, a 17-year-old senior at Ishpeming High who has been bowling only two years, racked up a 682 series for his highest ever and Don contributed a 628.

Leroy Langanger of Minneapolis, Minn., grabbed sixth place in regular singles by posting 688, Langanger also is 20 years old.

The leaders after Monday afternoon competition included Frito Lay's Potato Chips, Lansing, Mich., in first place among regular teams, with 3,057 points, followed by AAA Trucking Corp., Scranton, Pa., with 3,052.

Among the regular singles, Lee Anderson of Muskegon, Mich., stood in third place with 711 points.

In regular all-events, Paul Moore, Warren, Mich., was fourth with 1,947 points.

All-State Star To Attend NMU

MARQUETTE (AP)—All-State football player Bruce Remington of Bay City Central has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Northern Michigan University. Remington, a 6-foot-1, 192-pound fullback, ranks No. 1 in his graduating class.

NMU, meanwhile, has announced that Mike Matter of Royal Oak and Tom Schwab of Waukegan, Ill., will cocaptain next year's swimming team.

Boys' Table Tennis Champ Is Crowned

Glenn Wangerin captured the 1970 Intermediate Boys Table Tennis Championships at the Bonifas Civic Center last night when he defeated Dave Moberg 16-21, 21-17 and 23-21 in the title contest. Wangerin had previously defeated Mike Olson 21-16, 21-17; and Bill Tellefson 21-15, 24-22.

Moberg took second by defeating Dan Possi 21-8, 21-10; and Tom Kangas 21-13, 21-14; before bowing to Wangerin.

Third place went to Bill Tellefson, who defeated Dan Bougie 21-8, 21-11; lost to Wangerin; and then defeated Tom Kangas 21-12, 21-15 in the consolation match.

Kangas took fourth by defeating Bob Nygaard 21-19, 17-21, 21-17 before bowing to Moberg and Tellefson.

Table Tennis competition will continue at the Bonifas Civic Center tonight with the Junior Boy's tournament beginning at 6:30 p.m. Senior Men's competition will be held on Wednesday, and the Girls Open on Thursday. Entries will be accepted until tournament time.

Esky Bowlers Shine Sunday At Green Bay

GREEN BAY — Escanaba Bowlers were one of the top attractions Sunday afternoon in the annual Press-Gazette Individual Bowling Championships at the Fox River Lanes.

Dolores Annear swept into sixth place in the women's standings with a 535-52—587, including the best women's game to date, a 235. Her 235 game and 535 series were both season highs for her, as her best previous effort was a 530 in the Holiday Bowl's Thursday Night League.

Mrs. Annear's 235 game was built around eight strikes, including four straight in the opening four frames.

Tom Gregoire was high among the men with a 556-92—648, which included a big 231 game. Following Gregoire were Ed McCarthy, 542-72—614; Jack Annear, 517-92—609; Ed Larche, 505-56—561; Bob Corriveau, 510-48—558 and Ray Moran, 446-108—554.

Other top women scorers were Millie Jensen, 449-120—569; Romona Abel, 471-94—565; Ruth Stade, 431-120—551; Gaye Corriveau, 424-106—530; Parma Martineau, 422-98—520; Pat McCarthy 415-90—505 and Vera Issacson of Gladstone, 425-80—505.

Split pickers were Bud Stade, 5-6 and 3-10; Ed Larche 5-10 and 3-10; Bob Corriveau 9-10 and 3-10 and Marian Tibergien of Gladstone, 4-5 and 3-10.

In addition, Dolores Annear, Carol Gregoire and Pat McCarthy won steak dinners for getting four strikes in succession.

Bovin, Smith Elected To Commission Seats

Douglas Bovin, incumbent commissioner and a Holy Name High School teacher, and William Smith, owner of the Shorewood Motel, won election to three-year terms on the City Commission in Gladstone's Municipal election Tuesday.

Bovin polled a total of 562 votes to lead the field of five candidates. Smith ran a close second with 526 votes.

They were followed by Thomas Elegeert Jr. with 477, Elmer Caron with 375 and Constance Verhamme with 227.

Bovin, 1607 Lake Shore Dr., was first named to the commission two years ago to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank Stupak. He won election last year to complete the remainder of the unexpired term and now has been elected to his first full term.

Smith has been a resident of Gladstone since purchasing the Shorewood Motel nearly three years ago. This was his first try at an elective office in the city.

Use Machines

A total of 47.9 per cent of the 2,353 registered voters in the city turned out at the polls with 1,127 residents voting for the first time on the city's new voting machines and under a reorganized two-precinct system.

Election officials reported there were 51 absentee ballots tallied.

The new commission will hold its reorganization meeting to elect a mayor and mayor pro-tem at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the City Hall.

Workers Reduced

Little difficulty with the voting machines was noted in the voting as demonstration machines were set up to assist voters before entering the polling machines. City officials noted that only 10 workers, including two to demonstrate the machines, were needed to conduct the election, compared with 16 under the four-precinct, paper ballot system. Results were available at 8:30 p.m. Monday night, well in advance of the time they were reported when paper ballots had to be counted.

Newcomer, Incumbent Voted To City Council

Douglas Rose

Thor Reque

City voters chose newcomer Douglas Rose and incumbant Thor Reque to four-year terms on the City Council in Monday's Municipal election.

Rose proved to be the top voter getter, leading the field of four candidates with 546 votes. Reque was second with 528.

Daniel C. Barber placed third with 439 votes and Raymond Krusic was fourth with 324.

Reque and Rose will be seated next Monday night. Rose could be the Council's choice for mayor for the next two years since the honorary title sometimes goes to the leading candidate in each election.

Rose, 26, is a switchman with General Telephone Co. and has been a resident of Manistique since 1967. He resides at 111 Intake Park Rd. This was his first try for elective office.

Reque, a retired schoolteacher who is being returned for a second term on the city council, lives at 631 Oak St.

More than half of the city's 2,224 registered voters stayed home during the election. A total of 981 voters went to the polls, according to City Clerk Ralph Ekstrom. There were 55 absentee ballots tallied.

The Board of Canvassers meets tonight in the courthouse to certify the result.

An unofficial breakdown of the vote, by precincts:

	Precinct 1 Lincoln School	Precinct 2 Youth Center	Precinct 3 Lakeside School	TOTALS (Including Absentees)
Barber	179	104	140	439
Krusic	151	88	78	324
Rose	281	113	172	576
Reque	179	130	197	528

Legal War Near End?

Schools May Get State's $127,000

The Manistique Area public schools' lengthy legal battle with the State Department of Education may be resolved with the district some $127,000 richer in back state aid payments.

The schools and their legal counsel, Herbert and Wood, were notified Monday that the Michigan Supreme Court had denied the State Department of Education's right to appeal a ruling in favor of the district.

The department filed for an appeal last August after a State Court of Appeals decision that the Manistique district should be reimbursed for additional 1966-67 and 1967-68 state aid payments. The suit originally was filed in May, 1968, in the Court of Appeals in Lansing.

Attorney William F. Hood, now a circuit judge, represented the district.

Challenge State

The hassel arose when the area schools challenged the State Department of Education on its interpretation of the state's 1965 School Reorganization Act. Manistique was the only school district in the state to file a suit questioning the interpretation.

At issue was a provision stipulating that each reorganized district not receive less state aid as a total district than it would have received in the same year had it not reorganized. Through voter approval, Manistique became a consolidated district July 25, 1966, joining with every township in the county except Inwood and Seney.

Can Seek Hearing

Shortly after the favorable Appeals decision, the Attorney General's office offered to settle the matter with a $7,000 plus payment based, they said, on their interpretation of the judgment. The district then filed a request with the Appeals Court for reimbursement based on $126,376 which was approved.

The State Department of Education may yet apply for a rehearing on its application for rights for appeal before the State Supreme Court. There has been no indication that such action is contemplated. The application must be filed before April 19.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital over the weekend were Genevra Ruggles, Melvin Dixon, David Marks, Timothy Rose, Patricia Stapleton and Fern Streeter.

Discharged were Conrad Jahn, Carl Anderson, Edith Mortenson, Albert Kokesh, Joseph VanDyke, Melvin Dixon, Sonja Gehrett and baby, Ronald Rosie, Steven Wayne, Patricia Stapleton and Demaris Jewett.

Hit, Run Driver Injures Cyclist

An 18-year old youth was injured and required hospitalization afer a motorcycle he was riding was struck by a hit-and-run driver at 11:30 Monday morning.

Public Safety officers said Leon A. Brunner, 120 S. Mackinac Ave., was riding his cycle across the Siphon Bridge and turning onto E. Elk St. when an unknown motorist pulled from the stop sign at E. Elk and River Sts. and struck the cycle on its right side. The motorist did not stop after the mishap.

The boy was taken by city police to the hospital. The accident is under investigation by city officers.

Guatemala Faces Exodus Of Envoys Over Spreti Death

GUATEMALA (AP)— Guatemala is threatened with an exodus of ambassadors in the wake of the terrorist slaying of Count Karl von Spreti, the West German envoy.

Msgr. Gerolamo Prigione, the papal nuncio and dean of the diplomatic corps, said Monday night that nearly 70 per cent of the ambassadors "have said they are seriously considering asking their governments to reassign them or withdraw them from Guatemala."

Von Spreti was kidnaped last Tuesday by four members of the anti-government Rebel Armed Forces, or FAR, and was found shot to death Sunday night in a mud hut outside Guatemala City. The government had refused to meet the kidnapers' demands for the release of 22 jailed FAR members and $700,000 in ransom money.

The West German government in retaliation announced it would withdraw the rest of its embassy staff and indicated Guatemala's ambassador to West Germany, Antonio Gandara, was no longer welcome in Bonn.

An army spokesman said special protection was being given to all ambassadors.

The army continued its search for Von Spreti's abductors, patrolling streets and making house-to-house searches under the 30-day state of siege declared by President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro following the kidnaping. But there was no indication that the arrest of the kidnapers was near.

Countess von Spreti spent Monday at the funeral home beside her 63-year-old husband's body, which lay in a cedar casket surrounded by huge wreaths.

The body was to be transferred today to the National Palace to lie in state there until it is returned to West Germany.

Mendez Montenegro declared three days of national mourning and wrote West German Chancellor Willy Brandt that his government had done everything it could to achieve the ambassador's release. The government said to release the prisoners would violate the constitution.

Manila Site Of Earthquake; 3 Persons Dead

MANILA (AP) — At least five persons perished and more than 175 were injured today by a shattering earthquake that shook the central Philippines for nearly a minute.

Most of the known casualties were in Manila. There were fears that the toll would rise when reports come in from the Provinces.

Workers digging through the ruins of a three-story elementary school found four injured teachers and the child of one of them. All schools had been closed for the day because of a transit workers' strike, which fizzled out after one day Monday.

The quake at 1:34 p.m. also caved in a large portion of a high school roof, and other school buildings suffered lesser damage.

One wall at the Manila city jail crumbled and others cracked, but police said none of the 1,500 inmates was injured or escaped.

The three fatalities were a man hit by falling concrete and two young girls pinned under the rubble of a house wall.

Hospitals and infirmaries in the capital reported treating nearly 100 persons, most of whom were treated and released.

The city's tallest building, the 22-story Manila Hilton Hotel, had many cracks in its walls, and chunks of marble and plaster littered its stairwell.

Many office buildings in Manila were evacuated, clogging downtown streets with workers and shoppers trying to get home on jammed public transit facilities.

Some international communication links were cut and telephone service in some areas of Manila was interrupted.

In Naaga City, 165 miles to the south, a water tower burst.

The weather bureau said the quake lasted about 50 seconds and reached an intensity of seven in Manila on the Rossi-Forrel scale, which has a maximum of nine. The U.S. National Earthquake Center in Washington measured the force at 7.2 on the Richter scale of earthquake intensity.

Says Archives Holds Back JFK Death Evidence

CHICAGO (AP) — A suit filed in U.S. District Court contends the National Archives in Washington is withholding information which shows that the late President John F. Kennedy died as the result of a conspiracy and not at the hands of a lone assassin.

The suit filed Monday by legal researcher Sherman Skolnick, demands that the Warren Report be declared void.

The suit asserts that five conspirators planned to kill Kennedy at the Army Air Force football game in Chicago on Nov. 2, 1963. But the assassination attempt was rescheduled for Dallas, the suit said, when the President canceled his Chicago trip because of a cold.

The Warren Commission, appointed by then President Lyndon B. Johnson to investigate the assassination, said Kennedy was killed by a single man, Lee Harvey Oswald, and it could find no evidence of any conspiracy.

The suit states that "less than an hour before the President's scheduled arrival," and three weeks before the assassination, a lithographer, Thomas Arthur Vallee, was arrested in Chicago for a minor traffic violation. Vallee was charged with carrying a concealed weapon after police noticed a hunting knife on the front seat of the car.

Skolnick contends Vallee was one of the conspirators and was "a double for Lee Harvey Oswald." He claims documents now being suppressed show that the car driven by Vallee had New York license plates that were traceable to Oswald.

Skolnick initiated an investigation of two Illinois Supreme Court Justices last year and charged them with impropriety in their business dealings with a Chicago bank. The justices later resigned.

Quiz Army Doctor In Family Slayings

FT. BRAGG, N.C. (AP) — The Army says a doctor in its elite Green Berets is being "questioned as a suspect" in the slaying of his wife and two young daughters seven weeks ago.

The doctor, Capt. Jeffrey R. MacDonald, 26, of Patchogue, New York, had said that a hippie-like band of a girl and three men had killed the other members of his family in their Army post apartment and wounded him.

Advised Of Right

Army authorities said Monday they had advised Capt. MacDonald of his right to obtain legal counsel and to remain silent.

An Army spokesman said the captain had not been charged, but was confined to his quarters and could visit mess halls and other facilities only under escort.

He was relieved of his duties in the preventive medicine section at Ft. Bragg, home of the Green Beret Special Forces and the 82nd Airborne Division.

MacDonald has been in the Army since June 20, 1969.

Calls For Help

The bodies of MacDonald's wife, Coleen, also 26, and their daughters, Kimberly, 6, and Kristen, 2, were found before dawn Feb. 17 when military police responded to his telephone call for help.

MacDonald, who had been stabbed several times in the chest, lay next to the body of his wife in the master bedroom. The children were found in separate beds in other rooms.

Authorities said the word "Pig" had been scrawled in blood on the headboard of the master bed.

Blames Hippies

Medical authorities said Mrs. MacDonald and Kimberly had been bludgeoned and stabbed and Kristen had been stabbed.

MacDonald told investigators he had fallen asleeep while reading on a living room couch and when he awoke, he discovered in the room three men and a blonde girl wearing a floppy hat and muddy boots.

He said all were dressed as hippies and one of the men wore an Army field jacket.

The captan was hospitalized at Womack Army Hospital where it was discovered his wounds were not critical. He later attended a funeral service for his wife and children.

Sen. Fulbright's Vote Seen As Key To Issue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foes of Judge G. Harrold Carswell's Supreme Court nomination zeroed in today on a handful of senators they say hold the key to reversing an initial setback in the bitter Senate fight.

Although losing 52 to 44 in a first-round vote Monday, the opposition maintained they still have a chance to defeat confirmation of the 50-year-old Tallahassee, Fla., judge in Wednesday's showdown vote.

Scott Confident

But Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and other key supporters said they are confident Carswell will be confirmed, although they conceded a tight margin.

Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, one of eight Republicans who voted to send the nomination back to the Judiciary Committee, told a newsman opponents can block confirmation if they get the vote of Arkansas Democrat J. W. Fulbright.

To Review Situation

Fulbright, who voted to return the nomination to committee, had said he would review the situation before deciding how to vote on confirmation.

The vote Monday on Indiana Democrat Birch Bayh's motion to recommit the nomination, and thus kill it, was not necessarily conclusive because three senators who voted against it—Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, and Robert W. Packwood, R-Ore.—already had announced they would vote against confirmation.

Mum On Final Vote

And a number of other senators, some of whom voted on both sides of the recommittal question, had declined to say how they stand on the showdown vote.

Thirty-three Republican senators were joined by 19 Democrats—most of them Southerners—in voting against Bayh's motion. Favoring it were 36 Democrats and eight Republicans.

The pressures from both sides on senators who have yet to take a stand is likely to be intense before the roll is called.

Agnew May Vote

Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., a Carswell supporter, said the outcome could depend on Vice President Spiro Agnew's vote. The Vice President presides over the Senate and votes in cease of a tie.

"It is now clear that it is a case of raw politics as far as most senators are concerned," Dole said. "It is no longer Carswell's fitness or experience but whether or not the liberals can hang another defeat on President Nixon and—more importantly—prevent President Nixon from establishing some balance on the Supreme Court."

The first Southern judge Nixon nominated for the court post, Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., of Greenville, S.C., was rejected 55 to 45 by the Senate last November.

96 Expected To Vote

An Associated Press survey of the 96 senators expected to be on hand for the Wednesday vote shows 44 for confirmation, 39 against and 13 uncommitted or unwilling to disclose their position.

At his home near Tallahassee, Carswell watched television reports of the Senate action but he declined comment pending the Wednesday confirmation vote.

Lesser Drug Use Penalty Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House committee, calling marijuana traffic an $850 million a year business preying on the nation's young people, nevertheless suggested today reducing the penalty for first-time possession of the drug to no more than a week in jail.

Dope Traffic Cited

The House Select Committee on Crime said marijuana traffic "plays a major role in leading increasing numbers of young Americans into tragic drug dependence and into lives of crime and degradation."

But the panel's report, prepared for release today, called the present stiff and unevenly enforced penalties for possession of marijuana a threat to respect for law in general.

"The growing drug culture," said Chairman Claude Pepper, D-Fla., "is rapidly undermining respect for law and is doing serious damage to the ability of the criminal justice system to safeguard the lives and property of the American people."

"Savagely repressive and punitive laws cannot be defended as a solution to the marijuana problem," the 120-page report said.

Arrests Climb

It blamed marijuana arrests for a 322 per cent increase in all drug arrests from 1960 to 1968, when 167,177 persons were arrested, including 43,200 under 18 and 6,243 under 15.

But the report said supposedly documented reports that thousands of young people arrested for simple possession of marijuana have been jailed "are not true" and that the committee found judges seldom jail young people even for selling the drug.

The result of such practices, which it said discriminates against the violators who are jailed, has been widespread disrespect for law in general, the report said.

Ask Misdemeanor Rule

The committee recommended first offense possession of marijuana be made a misdemeanor. It suggested federal legislation be patterned after a Nebraska law which provides for a maximum seven-day jail sentence, segregation of drug violators from other prisoners and a requirement that the violators take a drug abuse education course.

The Nixon administration has also proposed reducing the present two-year minimum, 10-year maximum jail term for marijuana possession or use to a misdemeanor with a maximum one-year prison sentence.

Wide Discretion

In both cases judges would have wide discretion to impose lesser or no sentences or take such action as requiring the drug user to take an education course.

The report's figure of an annual marijuana traffic of $850 million is one of the first estimated, but the committee said it could be far higher.

Grand Jury Quits Kopechne Probe

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The Dukes County grand jury adjourned today after a special session without making any findings in its investigation of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's auto accident last July.

After the grand jury had been in session today only three-quarters of an hour, the foreman, Leslie H. Leland told the court, "we have no presentment to make" and Judge Wilfred J. Paquet adjourned the session.

The grand jury session had been called at the urging of the foreman to investigate the death of Miss Mary Jo Kopechne, 28, found dead of drowning in Sen. Kennedy's car after it plunged into a tidal pool last July 18.

Gets Probation

ALLEGAN (AP) — A 21-year-old Allegan youth has drawn 18 months probation after being convicted of negligent homicide in a traffic crash last October.

Circuit Judge Raymond Smith ordered Thomas Lent placed on probation at his sentencing Monday. Smith was charged after a three - vehicle crash in Otsego Township which claimed the life of Kay Skinner, 22, of Allegan.

Union Printers Hiking Pressure On N.Y. Times

NEW YORK (AP) — Union printers today increased their economic pressure on the New York Times in newspaper contract negotiations by lengthening the duration of chapel meetings to four hours on each shift.

The development came after mediator Theodore W. Kheel warned Monday of a possible newspaper shutdown unless the impasse in negotiations between the city's four major daily newspapers and 10 unions was broken by the weekend.

Members of the 10 unions have been working without contracts for a week but only the printers have taken any job action. They are considered the key to a settlement with the Times, the New York Post, the Daily News and the Long Island Press.

Since the contract expiration, the printers had been stopping work at the Times for about three hours each shift to hold chapel meetings. The union said the tactic was aimed at reducing the amount of advertising copy set.

L'Anse Girl, 26, Found In Water Of Portage Lake

HOUGHTON (AP) — Shirley Frosland, 26, of L'Anse, was found dead in Portage Lake Monday night.

A couple walking on the railroad track under the Portage Lake Lift Bridge discovered her body and called the Houghton County Sheriff's dehartment.

Miss Frosland had been reported missing Nov. 21, 1969. She apparently walked away from the St. Joseph Hospital where she was a patient. She was also a student attending Suomi College in Hancock at the time. Authorities were awaiting an autopsy report on the cause of death.

Cancer Ruled Out In Sheppard Death

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coroner Robert A. Evans says an autopsy on Dr. Sam Sheppard turned up no visible signs of cancer.

While exact cause of death will not be determined until completion of chemical tests later this week, Dr. Evans said, there were no indications of injury.

He added that it was "obvious that Sheppard drank a great deal but I found no evidence to indicate he had consumed liquor recently."

Sheppard, whose murder trial more than 15 years ago created headlines, died Monday in his suburban home.

Speculation that he might have died of cancer arose after Attorney F. Lee Bailey, who obtained Sheppard's release from prison and second trial, disclosed that Sheppard told him three months ago he had the disease.

Fire Victim

CADILLAC (AP) — A six - year-old Cadillac girl, Margaret Louise Rogers, died Monday afternoon when a fire gutted her home.

Fire officials said she died of smoke inhalation. She was in the house alone during a school lunch break. Authorities could not immediately determine the cause of the blaze.

THIS EARLY MORNING VIEW shows the scene near Saugus, Calif., where four California Highway Patrolmen were shot and killed in a gun battle with two suspects they were going to question. One of the gunmen was later slain and another wounded by other police officers. (AP Wirephoto)

Minor Accident Started Reaction Fatal To Five

SAUGUS, Calif. (AP) — Police said today a minor car collision led to 12 hours of gunfire which left four highway patrolmen and another man shot to death.

Recovering in a hospital from a pistol wound in the chest was a 28-year-old man identified by police as one of the two principals in the lengthy shootout. The second man was dead, of an apparently self-inflicted shotgun blast in the head.

Wounded Man Booked

The wounded man was booked for investigation of murder under the name Russell Lowell Talbert, 28, of Winston-Salem, N.C., the name on identification papers he had on his person.

Winston-Salem police said, however, that a man of the same name in that city had reported his identification papers stolen in a burglary at his home. The FBI was asked to check the wounded man's fingerprints.

Complaint Issued

The police reconstruction of the events which ended with five men dead went like this:

Two officers in a Highway Patrol car received a complaint from a motorist that two men in a car pointed a shotgun at him after a collision on Interstate 5 Freeway about 35 miles north of Los Angeles.

The patrol car chased the two men and spotted their car parked outside a coffee shop here. The occupants of the car shot them down.

Another patrol car pulled up and also came under fire. One of the two officers in this car was killed immediately. His partner held off the gunmen for five minutes before falling mortally wounded.

Two Men Flee Scene

The two men fled in their car but abandoned it when the tires went flat on a dead end street. Thy took to the surrounding hills.

One man, identified by police as Jack W. Twinning, 35, of Winston-Salem, took refuge in the home of Glenn S. Hoag but released him unharmed after a five-hour police siege. When police charged the house with tear gas grenades a shotgun blast rang out and the man fell dead—he "blew his head off," one deputy said.

Meanwhile the second man had exchanged shots with Dan Schwartz, 40, of Chicago, who was in a camper truck. Although wounded, the man fled in the vehicle. He was arrested a short distance away and taken to the rospital.

Flags At Half Staff

The dead highway patrolmen were Roger D. Gore and Walter C. Frago, both 23, George M. Alleyn, 24, and James E. Pence Jr., 25. They left four widows and seven children.

Flags flew at half staff in the state capital of Sacramento, site of California Highway Patrol headquarters. A spokesman said it was the first multiple killing of officers in the patrol's history.

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Bernard Miller, 22, of Sault Ste. Marie, was killed Monday night when he lost control of his automobile and it overturned on U.S. 2 about a mile and a half south of the Soo.

German Measles May Alter Apollo 13 Plans

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 13 crew practiced descending to the moon today while medical specialists hurried blood tests to determine if the astronauts' exposure to German measles is going to delay the $375 million mission a month.

The space agency said it expected a report on the measles investigation late today or early Wednesday.

James A. Lovell Jr., Thomas K. Mattingly II and Fred W. Haise Jr. went ahead with their normal training schedule as if they were going to take off for the moon Saturday on schedule.

The astronauts have been exposed to German measles, usually a childhood ailment, through one of their backup pilots, astronaut Charles Duke, who broke out in a rash Sunday.

If tests show the immunity of any of the three is low, their chief physician probably will recommend that the launching be delayed a month.

Even if their immunity is high, doctors will be faced with a tough decision.

There is no medical experience in the progress of such a disease in a spacecraft environment.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, medical director for Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center, said: "We certainly would be concerned about launching them if there was a possibility they could develop the disease during the mission. It certainly could disable them during the flight."

If the launching is postponed, Lovell, Mattingly and Haise would have to wait a month for their moon trip. Saturday is the only favorable launch day in April for their intended landing area in the Fra Maure Highlands. The next opportunity is May 9.

Delay would be costly. When the Apollo 9 launch was postponed three days last year because of astronaut colds, the space agency estimated the extra cost of the mission at $500,000.

Disclosure that Duke had German measles, known medically as rubella, was made Monday. He had reported his condition to medical authorities Sunday night.

Officials said it was not known how or when Duke was exposed.

But the prime crew continued to practice in spaceship simulators, following a schedule that assumes a launching Saturday.

DeVos, Pearson And Pryal Elected To City Council

An Escanaba banker, a businessman, and a pharmacist were elected to the city council in a light turnout of voters Monday.

Only 44 per cent or 3,179 of the city's 7,242 registered voters cast ballots. This compares to 63 per cent in 1968 and 52 per cent in 1966.

Two men were elected for terms of four years. They are:

● Ronald F. DeVos of 2515 Lake Shore Drive, a resident of Escanaba for five years, who is assistant cashier at the First National Bank & Trust Co.

● Albin S. Pearson Jr., 2525 1st Ave. S.. president, A. Pearson Supply Co., a native of Escanaba, and also presently a member of the Escanaba Area Board of Education, a position he will resign.

Elected to the two-year unexpired term is:

● Richard J. Pryal, 204 N. 14th St., pharmacist and proprietor of the Goodman Drug Store. He has served on the Council by appointment for the past 15 months.

The votes cast in Monday's election will be canvassed on Thursday, and the "new" council will meet in the Civic Center at 7:30 p. m. Monday in organization session.

At that meeting will be the three new council members and the two hold - overs—Mayor Cecil B. Chase and Mayor Pro-tem Robert Bink.

To Elect Mayor

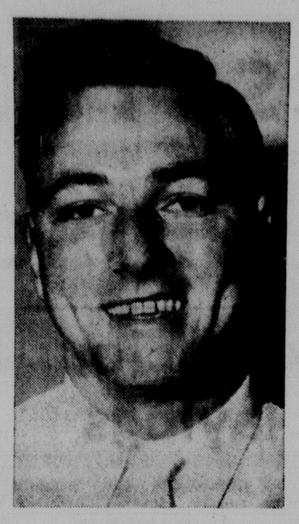
The council will elect a mayor and mayor pro-tem and if tradition is followed DeVos will be chosen as the mayor and presiding officer of the council because he polled the largest vote of any candidate on Monday.

The first regular meeting of the new council will be held on Thursday, April 17, at 8 p. m. in the Civic Center, and it will be immediately involved in a number of projects, programs and problems.

Major task before the council this spring is the 1970-71 city budget. Rising costs will bring higher budget needs and this in turn will call for additional revenues. The fiscal year will begin July 1.

Ronald F. DeVos

Albin S. Pearson Jr.



Richard J. Pryal

Another major problem facing the city is the financing of improvement and development of a water supply and sanitary sewer system, estimated to cost more than $6 million. This will be retired through user rates. About one-half the cost is anticipated from state and federal funds.

Retiring from the council this spring is Edward J. Cox who has served for 15 years; and Miles Dupuie, who was serving by appointment. Neither man was a candidate.

The New Members

New members of the council will bring to that body varied backgrounds.

DeVos was born in Chicago in 1931, graduated from high school there, attended the University of Illinois, and entered the field of banking in Chicago in 1960. He is active in civic affairs here, after coming to Escanaba in 1965. He is married and the father of two children.

Pearson has been actively identified with civic and community affairs for many years and is presently the president of the Escanaba Area Public School Board of Education. He is a graduate of Escanaba High School; belongs to service and fraternal organizations; is married and has four children.

Pryal as a council member by appointment has demonstrated a conscientious interest in city affairs and has taken an increasing leadership role. He was born in Escanaba in 1931, is an Escanaba High School graduate, served in the U. S. Navy, and graduated from Ferris Institute at Big Rapids.

L'Anse Native Top Trooper

EAST LANSING (AP)—James Daust, 35, has been chosen State Police Trooper of The Year by a three-man citizens committee.

Daust, now serving at Bridgeport, was nominated for his work in establishment of a community youth center at Gaylord.

He is the ninth winner of the annual award provided by Dr. Carl Gerstacker, Midland, chairman of the board of Dow Chemical Co.

Daust, a native of L'Anse, joined the State Police in 1963. He received a plaque and a $500 award.

Other nominees were troopers James Rambo, 41, Sault Ste. Marie; Wesley Bean, 46, Iron Mountain; and Ronald Parkinson, 29, East Lansing.

Gladiolus Society To Meet Thursday

The Upper Peninsula Gladiolus Society will meet at the Wells Township Hall Thursday at 6 p. m. A potluck supper for members and guests will be served, followed by a business meeting.

A bulb auction, bake sale and white elephant sale will also be held.

Food for the potluck supper should be at the hall by 6 p. m. and anyone wishing further information should call Mrs. Robert Jensen, 786-2845. Those attending are asked to bring their own table service.

Hostesses will be Helen Jensen, Thelma Johnson, Beatrice Shehan and Josie Thorbahn.

Soil District Meets April 17

The Annual Meeting of the Delta County Soil Conservation District will be held Friday, April 17 at 8:00 p.m. at the Legion Hall in Perkins, announced Clarence Dittrich, chairman. The meeting was postponed from a previously planned date.

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe (R-Houghton) will talk on "Pollution Control," reporting on Congressional activities, his own philosophy, and national goals as they relate to this area.

Two members will be elected to the District Board of Directors. Terms of Clarence Dittrich, chairman, of Hyde, and Elmer Lepisto, vice-chairman, of Rock, are expiring. Nominations will be received from the floor.

Presentation of a plaque honoring the Outstanding Conservationist for 1969, and a program commemorating the 20th anniversary of the founding of the Delta County Soil Conservation District also are scheduled. The first six directors elected to the Boards in 1950 and 1951 who still live in and own land in Delta County will be honored.

Entertainment will be by 4-H Club talent selected from county-wide 4-H program competition now in progress.

Inkster Chooses Negro Vs. White In Mayor Race

By The Associated Press

The racially split Detroit suburb of Inkster nominated a black man and a white man Monday to oppose each other for mayor May 18, while dozens of other municipalities chose officers to govern them for the next two to four years.

Negroes won city commission posts in both Battle Creek and Ypsilanti, leading the field in each instance.

A woman won a council spot at Walled Lake.

In a light turnout, Inkster voters nominated City Councilman John G. Mulhern, who is white, and Edward Bivens, a black former member of the Inkster School Board, from a primary field of five candidates for its run-off for mayor.

Both Mulhern and Bivens accused each other of fomenting "racism" in the campaign. Racial conflicts at the city's schools have raised tensions in the integrated community in recent months. Bivens led the field with 1,072 votes. Mulhern received 986 votes.

Council President Edward H. McNamara ousted Harvey W. Moelke in Livonia as mayor, a post Moelke had held eight years. The vote was McNamara 12,592 and Moelke 10,965.

Census Making Good Progress

District Manager Mrs. Robert Hansley today reported good progress in this area of the 1970 Census of Population and Housing.

Census takers started the house-to-house canvass April 1 to pick up questionnaires distributed earlier.

Mrs. Hansley pointed out that residents can speed up the count by having questionnaires filled out and ready for the census takers, saving time for both householder and census taker.

Answers should be made in pencil so that if a mistake is made, it can be erased. Most answers are to be made by blacking in a tiny circle beside the right answer. This makes a black dot which can be read by an electronic device at the Census Bureau, which will, in turn, speed up the processing of the information.

At every fifth houshold, the census taker asks additional questions covering population and housing characteristics which are being asked of a 20 per cent sample of the population.

Modular Homes Plant Will Be Built In U.P.

Happy Homes, Inc., a Michigan corporation, will construct a new manufacturing facility in Caspian, said R. S. Naeyaert of Warren, president of the firm.

The new 40,000 square foot facility will be used to manufacture modular homes and will be located in Caspian's Industrial Park.

Kenneth Sartorelli is vice president of manufacturing and Thomas Quayle is vice president of administration and sales of Happy Homes, Inc.

Early this year Sartorelli and Quayle resigned their positions with another modular home firm in order to actively put together an organization which they felt would move forward in the housing market for the Upper Peninsula.

People Problem Major Threat In World Pollution

A different form of pollution than we have been hearing about lately was the topic of a talk by Professor Paul Bradfield of Bay de Noc Community College to the Escanaba Kiwanis Club Monday.

The pollution of which Prof. Bradfield spoke of was "people pollution."

After posing the question "do we have too many people on earth?", Bradfield explained that at the present rate of growth, there will be more than 15 billion on earth, now inhabited by 3 billion. Also at the present rate of growth, in 1700 years the total weight of the inhabitants will be greater than the weight of the earth itself.

Bradfield explained that there must be a leveling off period, and soon, but what is an optimum size for the world and how can this be accomplished? he asked.

The other pollutions that the earth is suffering were also discussed, such as water, air, and the solid pollution problems. Metal pollutants in the water have become more and more severe of late, such as the mercury problem around the larger cities.

Also, the United States is now operating on an oxygen deficit Bradfield stated, in that we are using more than the green plants can produce. The excess oxygen is produced by the plants of the ocean, but in a case of a severe shortage, our supply could be greatly diminished. The severity of the complete pollution problem is one that must be faced soon, according to Bradfield.

In other action, the Kiwanis Club has undertaken the responsibility of sponsoring the University of Michigan Men's Glee Club, with Lowell Sundstrom, Arol Beck and Jack Foster handling the co-chairmanship.

Tickets were distributed to the members and are available from them beginning today. The performance will be on Tuesday, May 5, at the Wm. W. Oliver Auditorium.

1st Ship Loads At Port Inland

PORT INLAND—The 1970 shipping season opened here today with the arrival of the steamer Nicolet at 6:45 a. m.

The Boland-Cornelius vessel began loading an hour after its arrival at the port, about 22 miles east of Manistique. It will carry about 7,000 tons of flux stone to Inland Steel's East Chicago, Ind., harbor port when it departs sometime this afternoon.

The French-named ship is captained by Irishman James Gallagher.

Vice President and General Manager John W. Moffat said the E. J. Block, an Inland vessel, is anchored in the harbor and will begin loading flux stone, also for Indiana harbor, as soon as the Nicolet clears. The Block arrived minutes after the Nicolet.

Another steamer, the Manske, also a Boland-Cornelius vessel of the Buffalo, N. Y., American Steamship firm, is scheduled to arrive later this evening.

Moffat said all indications point to a good season of the Gulliver plant of Inland Lime & Stone Co.

Scout Roundtable Slated Thursday

The Red Buck District, Boy Scouts of America, will hold its regular monthly Leaders Roundtable at the James T. Jones School in Gladstone on Thursday.

An evening meal will be served at 7, followed by the regular business meeting. Boy Scout Troop 466 of Gladstone will host the event.

Theme discussion, ideas and suggestions for the month of May will include: Cub Scouts — "Mother Nature's Backyard;" Webelos — "Naturalist" and Boy Scouts — "Fishing Fun" highlighted by a father-son fishing derby.

Information on the annual Recognition Dinner will also be given and the Order of the Arrow chapter meeting will be held in conjunction with this Roundtable.

All registered scouters and cubbers, den leaders and assistants, institutional representatives and committee members are invited to attend.

There were 492 railway accidents which killed 236 persons in India between Feb. 1 and July 31, 1969, reported Railway Minister Ram Subhag Singh.

Five Plead Innocent To Fairport Counts

Five more men charged in connection with the commercial fishing incident at Fairport a week ago pleaded innocent to charges Monday in District Court.

All were released on personal recognizance bonds ranging from $100 to $500 for appearance Friday at which time Judge Dean Shipman is expected to set dates for trials and preliminary examinations.

The judge gave the men until Friday to obtain legal counsel.

The five men who appeared Friday and the charges against them were:

Lloyd Ranguette, Fairport, disorderly person; hindering and obstructing officers in performance of their duties;

Roger Tallman, Munising, disorderly person; failing to exhibit commercial fishing license on demand of offciers; violation of commercial fishing license provisions;

Norman Casey, Fairport, drunk and disorderly; hindering and obstructing officers;

Patrick Casey, Fairport, hindering and obstructing officers;

Royal Tallman, Munsing, disorderly person; hindering and obstructing officers.

Two other persons who appeared in District Court last Friday—Emil D. Vetter Jr., Fairport, and Leslie Ranguette, Fairport—also are expected to appear in court Friday to have trial and preliminary examination dates set.

Hindering and obstructing officers in performanuce of their duties is a Circuit Court offense.

Besides the seven men charged, another person is being sought, officers said.

All of the men were charged after a confrontation between Department of Natural Resources officers, commercial fishermen and residents of the area last Tuesday at Fairport.

Ice, Cold Slow Ore Movement

A cold and backward spring, plus harbors and channels choked with ice is making the movement of ore out of Escanaba a slow process.

The Chicago & North Western Railway reports that continued cold weather has caused ore to freeze in chunks in the stockpile and in the cars, making loading slow and difficult.

The ore is being moved, however, although the number of boats being loaded out is fewer than had been anticipated when shipping started some 10 days ago.

Vessels have been standing off the harbor at the edge of the Little Bay de Noc ice field because they are unable to turn farther in. The Coast Guard cutters failed in breaking up the mass of ice in the bay so that it moved out when the wind was favorable from the north.

The ore boat Walter A. Sterling, flagship of the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. is loading today at Escanaba after being rerouted when ice conditions prevented her from going to Marquette.

Marquette's harbor is still heavy with ice, northwest winds have shoved huge ice fields into Whitefish Bay to make passage difficult into Lake Superior, and only two carriers have reached Superior at the head of Lake Superior —the Joseph Thompson and George Murphy. Fourteen vessels were reported stuck or slowed in Whitefish Bay.

Ice conditions are said by the Coast Guard to be the most difficult since 1951.

Nels Johnson Taken By Death

Nels Johnson, 89, of Rte. 1, Escanaba died at the Superior Memorial Hospital in Superior at 5 a.m. Monday. He had made his home in Superior with his son, Roy, for the past four years.

He was born June 5, 1880 in Sweden and came to Escanaba in 1898. He began farming in the Danforth area in 1917 and owned and operated the Cloverland Dairy until his retirement in 1953.

He is survived by four sons, Iver of Milwaukee, Felix and Elmer of Rte. 1, Escanaba and Roy of Superior; one daughter, Mrs. Edith Olson of Venice, Calif.; 10 grandchildren, 16 great grandchildren and one brother, Swan, of Escanaba.

Friends may call at the Anderson Funeral Home from 4 to 9 p.m. Wednesday and complete funeral services will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the funeral home with the Rev. Karl J. Hammar officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery.

Griffith, Hart Vote Party Line On Carswell

WASHINGTON (AP) —Michigan's two U.S. Senators split along party lines Monday on the unsuccessful vote to send the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell back to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Voting not to send the nomination back was Republican Robert P. Griffin, senate minority whip. The motion lost 52-44.

In favor was Sen. Philip A. Hart, Michigan's senior senator, a Democrat.

Scout Training Course Offered

A Cub Scout Leader training course will be offered Saturday, April 11, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the First United Presbyterian Church by the training committee of the Red Buck District, Boy Scouts of America.

The morning session will include "The Cub Scout Program" and "Program Planning" and should be attended by both pack officials and den leaders and their assistants. The afternoon session will be divided into two groups. Pack officials will take "Pack Management and Pack Meeting," while den leaders and assistants will be offered "The Den Meeting and "Den Operation."

Participants are asked to bring a lunch and coffee will be provided by the training committee. Those having make-up sessions to complete are invited to attend, as well as unit leaders and assistants, den leaders and assistants, institutional representatives and committee men.

Lions Launch Fund Campaign

The Escanaba Lions Club Monday launched its annual Radio Day campaign to benefit the club's sight and blind and community service activities.

Kickoff of the fund-raising program came as the club was visited by District Gov. Ralph Anderson of Escanaba and T. Ralph Alexander of Birmingham, district governor of a three-county district in southeastern lower Michigan.

Dennis Foltman, Lions president, announced that the annual Radio Day in cooperation with station WDBC in Escanaba will be held Tuesday, May 5. On that day, Lions club members "take over" the station.

Solicitation of local businessmen for support will begin immediately. Publication and distribution of the club's 1970 "E-Z-See Phone Roll," a quick reference guide to local businesses, will follow the Radio Day program.

Alexander, who serves 63 clubs in District 11-2-A, said this was his first visit to an Upper Peninsula Lions Club and expressed interest in the club's Radio Day program.

Speaker for the meeting was James Utt, an industrial engineer at Harnischfeger Corp. who also is a practicing hypnotist. Utt described how hypnosis is used in various professions, including medicine, dentistry and athletics.

MAVERICK. $1995*...it's a little gas.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the base Maverick model. White sidewall tires are not included, they are $30 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges and state and local taxes vary, they are not included, nor is extra equipment that is specially required by state laws.

Our little Maverick is America's best selling small car. The reason is simple—solid value. Maverick is simple to drive. Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage. Simple to park. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle than the leading import. Simple to service. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications. You save time and money. Simple to repair. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself. Simple to own. Save right from the start—the Simple Machine is your Ford Dealer's lowest priced car.

For a little more...it's a GRABBER!

The new Maverick Grabber has all the same features as our Simple Machine but we've added an extra sporty flare to it. Here's what Grabber gives you: ❶ Racy bodyside tape stripes, choice of five hot Grabber colors, 14-in. whitewall tires and wheel trim rings. High excitement, yes. High price, no. ❷ 200 CID Six and 3-speed fully synchronized manual transmission. Lots of pep, but not hard to tune. Grabber adds to your fun, not your mechanical problems. ❸ Dual racing mirrors. But no high "muscle car" insurance rates. ❹ Three-spoke woodgrained steering wheel just like the racing cars. But no hard, stiff ride. Grabber's sprung for comfort, not for the track. ❺ Black-painted hood and grille. Grabber puts on a great front, but maintenance costs are low. Service is fast and simple. With lots you can do yourself. ❻ Rear deck-lid spoiler. Even an economy car can dream, can't it?

On All Levels

The responses to the City Council of Escanaba on air pollution seem to reflect quite accurately the sentiment in the state on the environmental degradation.

Gov. William Milliken, Acting Lt. Gov. Thomas Schweigert and Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) answered five questions posed by the City Council, which had been prodded by the Delta County Citizens Committee to Save Our Air to take some position relative to the county air pollution control ordinance before the Board of Commissioners. Council evaded the issue directly by deciding to ask the state if it thought the state was doing a good job enforcing the state law and whether or not the state thought the state law was effective. That move was sort of like the Council asking the Council if it thought the Council was doing a good job on Council business, but the query went out anyway.

The responses, except for that of Varnum, generally came back as one would expect — not critical, not controversial and not very constructive.

Gov. Milliken relied on the State Air Pollution Control Commission to develop the answers and reported the present air pollution control statute "is effective and substantial progress is being made in the control of significant sources of pollution which for the present at least are the most critical sources to attack." The governor, however, admitted that the state is "undermanned, especially in reference to covering all minor and local sources of air pollution."

Schweigert, also relying on the State Air Pollution Control Commission, agreed with Milliken that "substantial progress" toward control is being accomplished. He cites "economic considerations, employment factors and social implications that can occur as a result of precipitous, unreasonable action" and that Michigan should "move ahead in the control of our environment as rapidly as possible without the destruction of Michigan's economic and social base."

Varnum agreed with the main ideas of Milliken and Schweigert as might be expected (all three are Republicans) but expands his view as far as local situations are concerned, perhaps reflecting the concerns that have been voiced in the Escanaba area.

"Here in Michigan the level of acceptable air quality varies widely from one part of the state to another," he said. "Level of pollution that might be tolerable to Detroit would probably be considered a disaster in Escanaba. For this reason, a local air pollution ordinance would seem to make sense. It is also likely that quicker detection and better enforcement would be possible under local air pollution ordinances. For these reasons, I endorse the idea of local ordinances for the control of air pollution and I intend to introduce a bill in the legislature to encourage county air pollution ordinances by providing the enabling legislation."

* * *

The question Varnum deals with in his endorsement of local ordinances is what apparently has stalled action by the Board of Commissioners in Delta County. Presently, a county ordinance may not be enforceable over individual cities and townships within a county. If that's the case, it would serve little purpose to pass an ordinance that legally couldn't be enforced or could be enforced in Escanaba, for example, and not in Gladstone.

As Milliken says, the state is undermanned and must focus on the major problems first in this new era of environmental concern. Eventually, the Michigan Air Pollution Control Commission may have the staff and time to begin working on the minor and local problems, but some communities may not be satisfied to wait. Additionally, like Varnum says, areas in the Upper Peninsula should not be required to accept standards from Detroit.

In the overall picture, there is need for the broader concerns as expressed by Milliken and Schweigert, but there also is need for the local approach as endorsed by Varnum. The environmental problems are huge and if pollution is to be halted it's going to take a supreme effort on all levels of government, industry and citizenry.

Image Tarnished

Sen. Edmund Muskie, the affable Democrat from Maine who hopes to ride the pollution issue into the White House, might first clean up his own backyard, more accurately the Prestile Stream, before he lectures the rest of the country on the virtues of clean water.

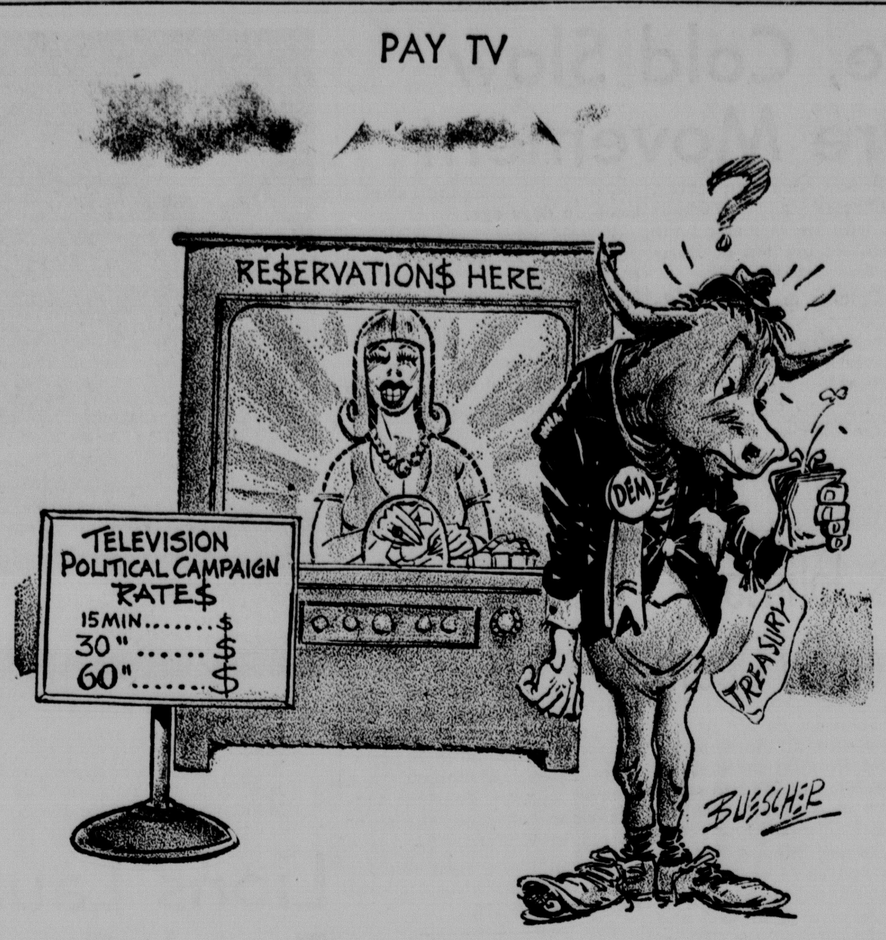
The Washington Star, after investigation, reported that Muskie's image is tarnished with some of the folks back home, and with his Canadian neighbors. Muskie some years back helped get Prestile Stream reclassified so that industrial wastes could be dumped into it from a potato plant. It became so polluted that Canada was forced to dam it at the border.

Undeterred, Muskie is now working on plans to pollute the Bay of Fundy by helping his old friends from the potato plant to establish an oceanic port and oil refinery at Machiasport. The Washington Star points out that huge oil tankers would have to navigate in 16-foot high tides, through numerous reefs and in almost constant fogs.

A wreck could endanger the Maine shoreline, a principal attraction in the state's $400 million annual tourist trade, and the Georges Bank fishing grounds where 40 per cent of American commercial fish are caught. Even if no tanker ever piled up, however, freights often spill oil, which would present almost continuous pollution. The oil port and refinery might, in effect, wreck other valuable industries which count on relatively pure water.

Muskie is in somewhat the same position as the longhairs who have suddenly latched on to the pollution issue. They demand that industry clean up the water and air while they pollute the atmosphere with the smell of their bathless bodies.

The senator from Maine should oppose pollution even when pollution helps his friends. By supporting the port-refinery he stands to dirty up the environment and his own image.



Strike, Strike, Strike Ahead For The Nation?

By JOHN CHAMEBRLAIN

Richard Nixon continues to come through in the clutch.

He took the sting out of the Vietnamese issue by his policy of combining "Vietnamization" of the war with gradual withdrawal of the U.S. ground soldiers, or "grunts" — and, as a result, the recent round of protests aimed at the nation's draft centers fell quite flat. The promise of a voluntary army has tended to silence the Spocks and the Coffins.

And now the masterly Nixon state paper on the subject of integration in the schools has removed still another problem from the temper-tantrum area in which people were unable to think clearly about combining good education with the fostering of racial tolerance.

If all goes well with the Nixon program, we shall be moving toward the tolerable society, one in which people are protected in their personal and legal rights without being forced to love each other by compulsion. De jure school segragation will get no quarter from the White House, but money that might have been spent on "buying buses, tires and gasoline to transport young children miles away from their neighborhood schools" will be allotted to providing better education where people live, with special provision for poverty-impacted areas.

The South has been assured that it is no longer a pariah region; the North has been reminded that it could do better about ending de facto segregation by encouraging a black exodus from the ghetto as well as a white. We aren't moving on the double-quick to Utopia, but we are, so one hopes, on the way toward becoming a less hyprocritical nation.

* * *

But if President Nixon has done wonders in defusing the big social issues of the Johnson era, he still has Old Man Economics to give him a plaguey time.

The way the postal crisis was handled will live to haunt him. Since the mailmen had so obviously been underpaid, the White House could hardly have fired every postal worker who broke the law that forbids strikes by public employes. There is a practical justice as well as a legal justice, and popular sentiment was on the side of practical justice for the mailmen.

The Mayor of Atlanta could get away with dismissing his refractory municipal workers, but Nixon has considerably more than a single city on his mind.

But even if it is understandable that the postmen should get amnesty plus an economic settlement, what happened must inevitably create a terrible precedent. The postal workers may now think that they can get what they want out of their federal employer without having to accept a public mail corporation. The chances for obtaining good postal reform have diminished.

Why should the bosses of a victorious mail carriers union now accept a postal reform that would deny them the right to bargain for a union shop? Or the right to strike in the future?

* * *

And who, in the federal establishment, will be the next to try the illegal resort to a work stoppage to get their way?

The air traffic controllers, who make considerably more money than the mailmen will ever make, have discovered what a "sick-out" can do. The Internal Revenue staff, made giddy by reading some of the richer income tax figures, might be moved to a sick-out on some crucial April 15. It wouldn't help the fight on inflation if nobody were around for a while to process tax returns.

This looks like the year of the strike. Or the year of the continuing wage increase. In either case, it doesn't look very propitious for lower prices.

What is predictable is that Nixon will take some temporary relaxation in the war on inflation for the sake of winning in November. He can't afford a recession at election time.

The impulse will be to see to it that the automobile workers of Michigan are fat and happy, even at the cost of an inflationary wage increase. The law of democratic politics is that inflation can only be fought in the year after the election, not the year before.

This is cynical, but in Nixon's favor it may be said that he is at least willing to fight inflation up to a point. A zigzag war on inflation is better than no war at al'

Dollar Gets New Life, Worth 90 Cents Today

By JOHN CUNNIFF

NEW YORK (AP) — After five years of reporting a steady decline in the power of the dollar we are, mercifully, going to start afresh with figures that won't hurt nearly as much.

We are, that is, going to declare the dollar of 1967 as being worth 100 cents. During the past 10 years we have measured the value of our dollar in terms of the period 1957-1959 equalling 100 per cent. That made things look real bad.

Once Worth 78 Cents

For example, some distressing calculations reveal that at the close of 1969 the dollar was equal to only a bit more than 78 cents in terms of 1957-1959. But in terms of 1967 it was worth more than 90 cents.

What can be said of the rose —a rose is a rose is a rose—cannot be said of the dollar. A dollar is as good as the base against which it is measured. And since inflation is a fact of life, there is a tendency for the dollar to be worth less as it is measured against a more distant base.

Base Period Same

The government isn't changing the base period simply to get a fresh start or to disguise the deterioration in buying power, although inevitably those will be among the effects.

The real reason, it explained, is that statistics must remain pertinent for its economic indicators, such as the consumer price index and the index of industrial production. The base, therefore, is updated every decade.

A good thing perhaps. How would you feel if the government used 1939 as the base period and you were constantly reminded that the Federal Reserve Note in your pocket was worth less than 38 cents?

The fact of the matter is that inflation is rarely absent from the economy in times of expansion. During recessions, of course, the dollar tends to hold its value, but the problem then is that too few people have enough of them.

As an economy expands it demands more workers and raw materials, and that usually means higher prices. More money gets into circulation also, and that permits customers to bid up prices.

The result is that while an economy booms, the value of its money sometimes slips. This often goes unnoticed while the purchasing power of workers continues to grow, the result of earning enough dollars to offset the erosion.

Questions Arise

The question that more and more economists are wrestling with today is: Can inflation and dollar erosion be avoided?

Theoretically, inflation isn't inevitable. In practice, however, an inflation-free economy appears very difficult to obtain. In the past decade it was received only from early 1961 to late 1964. Then prices took off.

The surest way to control the upward spiral of prices would be to toss the country into a depression. But that, of course, is not only impractical but unthinkable madness.

Inflation Danger Exists

Nevertheless, the dangers of continued inflation are considered so great that the Nixon administration did turn the country in that direction by forcing reductions in spending and demand.

Naturally it never intended to bring the economy all the way to its knees, but it clearly was willing to risk a recession, and by some measures the nation has been in one for several months now.

If recessions bring dollar stability, however, they also bring unemployment, which cannot be tolerated for long. The Employment Act of 1946 commits this country to a so-called full employment policy.

Disturbances Likely

Moreover, if any administration is willing to trade too many jobs for price stability in this day and age it is bound not only to be run out of office but to see its eviction attended by violent social disturbances.

You can bet on it: If the decision is between a little inflation and a little recession, almost any administration of the future will accept inflation—and dollar erosion.

In the year 2000 it is entirely possible that the 100-cent dollar of 1970 will be worth about 65 cents. You won't necessarily be aware of it though, because it will be measured in terms of the 1990 dollar.

Probe Fire Cause In Iron Mountain

IRON MOUNTAIN (AP) — Investigators are asking the cause of an estimated $50,000 fire which destroyed a paint shop, apartments and a Secretary of State license plate office Saturday night.

The fire broke out shortly before 8 p.m. at Zambon's Paint Shop and Snowmobile Sales on Iron Mountain's North Side. The city's entire 14 - man firefighting force kept the blaze from spreading to a portion of the building where snowmobiles are stored.

However, the paint shop on the main floor and some apartments and secretary of state's office on the second floor of the two-story wood frame structure were destroyed.

Three firemen were treated for minor injuries.

MAost players bid naturally and have the suits they bid, but there is no denying that some artificial bids can be extremely effective when the right hand comes along.

For example, I use a highly specialized singleton - showing bid in some sequences to describe a particular type of hand, and this unusual bid has many times served me well in tournament play, as it did in the nationals staged in Minneapolis in 1968.

I was North and jumped to three hearts in response to my partner's diamond overcall. This bid, by special arrangement, indicated the values for a jump raise to three diamonds and also guaranteed a singleton heart.

My partner, Dorothy Hayden, did not have much of an overcall — especially in view of my previous pass — but she realized that her hand had grown tremendously with the implied diamond raise and the singleton-showing heart bid. Accordingly, she jumped to five diamonds.

West led a club, taken in dummy with the jack. East won the heart return and led back a club. After ruffing a heart in dummy, Mrs. Hayden played a spade to her ace and ruffed another heart to produce this position:

Had Mrs. Hayden now trumped a club with the eight in order to ruff still another heart in dummy, she would have lost a trump trick eventually to West's seven. Foreseeing this danger, she led dummy's jack of spades instead, and as a result she could not be stopped from making the contract.

Rolls Royce Horns Turns Some Heads

Dear Ann Landers: I was interested in your reply to the Michigan reader who asked about the effectiveness of powdered deer horns as an aphrodisiac. You advised him to try fog horns, bass horns, shoe horns, pointing out that the results would be the same — zero.

May I tell you about a horn that really works? And you don't have to go to the trouble of powderng it. I refer to the Rolly Royce horn. No woman can resist it. It turns them on every time!—Lansing Lover.

Dear Lover: By the time most guys get to the point in life where they can afford a Rolls Royce, nothing else works. Thanks for the suggestion.

Dear Ann Landers: I got out of prison last July after five terrible years. It seemed like one hundred. Some of my friends kept in touch with me but my wife and two daughters did not. I wrote them seven letters and didn't get an answer. Then I wrote to my brother and asked him to find out if my wife and girls received my letters. Within a week I got an answer. My wife and daughters didn't want to have anything more to do with me. One month later my wife sued me for divorce.

Yesterday I received a letter from my oldest daughter. She is being married in June and wants me to give her away at the wedding. I think they only want me there for appearances. Oh yes, I ought to tell you I've made a nice comeback and have a good job and a bright future. What should I do? — Deeply Hurt

Dear Ann Landers: Here's a message from a dirty old man —age 22. I'm a college senior and the point of view I express here reflects the thinking of a lot of guys.

There is nothing so ludicrous as a chick in a thigh-high mini, sitting on a chair or sofa, tugging at her skirt, trying to pull it down to cover her status of respectability. She blushes ten shades of red and asks with eyes big as saucers, 'Am I sitting all right?" Or, "Is anything showing?"

If they don't want anything to show why don't they buy a skirt with some material in it? More than once I've gotten a dirty look because I was caught popping an eyeball.

Please tell the Great Pretenders who feign insult to come off it. The reason they go half naked is because they want to create a little unrest. Tell them that act should have been cancelled when they accepted the hike of the hem and said "To hell with decency." — U of Illinois

GOP Divided Over Meat Import Rule

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nixon administration officials are divided over whether meat import regulations should be relaxed to provide a break for consumers, particularly low income families.

On one side is the Agriculture Department, which argues that present rising prices are an indication of the cost of raising and marketing livestock. Import restrictions are needed to sustain domestic farm production, the department says.

Arguing on behalf of opening the way for more cheap imported meat to deflate current prices are the Council of Economic Advisers and presidential consumer adviser Virginia Knauer.

The Agriculture Department says the price increases should slacken soon.

But economists outside the department, mindful of the sharp meat price increases which surprised USDA analysts last year, aren't so sure.

Mrs. Larry Bryant

Christine Olson, Larry Bryant Exchange Vows

The First United Presbyterian Church of Escanaba was the setting Saturday, March 21 for the wedding of Christine Olson, 410 S. 12th St. and Larry Bryant of 25311 Parkwood Drive, Huntington Woods, Mich. The bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Henry Olson of Escanaba.

Organza, Lace

The bride's gown was of silk organza and re-embroidered Alencon lace, styled with a sheer yoke with a ruffled Victorian collar and Bishop sleeves. A mantilla of pearls and crystals caught her veil and she carried a cascade arrangement of white iris, gardenias and freezia.

The bridal attendants included, the maid of honor, Vicky Simonson and bridesmaids, the Misses Diane, Susan and Jenny Vogt.

Mothers' Attire

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Gerald Olson, wore an aqua ensemble with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Gordon Bryant's gown was of spring green silk accented by a white orchid corsage and white accessories. The bride's grandmothers, Mrs. James Christie and Mrs. Henry Olson, were also presented corsages.

Best man was Tom Traynor of Southgate, Mich. and ushers were Rick Bryant of Detroit, Tom Nos of Alma and Gerry Olson of Escanaba.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bridegroom's parents Friday evening in the King George Room of the House of Ludington. Menus printed in silver were mementos of the evening.

Reception

The reception was held in the Emerald Room of the House of Ludington which was in festive array for the occasion. After the reception, the bride threw her bouquet from the hotel stairway and it was caught by Diane Vogt. Tom Traynor, the best man, caught the bride's garter, thrown by the bridegroom.

Following the reception, the bridal pair flew to New York City for their wedding trip and they have now resumed their studies at Alma College, Alma.

With Minis, Maxis, Who Needs Costumes?

DETROIT (AP) — Monk's robes, Arabian togas, pirate pants, Apache shirts, and 400 Santa Claus suits are slow-moving items on the MoTown fashion scene.

That's the unfortunate assessment of an unhappy short, balding man with a shaggy, brown-and-silver mustache who says he used to rent a hundred costumes a week.

Murray Kane, 54, is selling the family business of 52 years, Costume Novelty Shop at 1452 Farmer, including a suit of armor and a dusty gorilla outfit, because business has turned bad.

"Hell, we used to rent a hundred costumes a week. Every week," Kane shrugged, stopping a walk through the shop at a trunk marked "Gay 90 Dresses." "Now we're lucky to get 20. I'd say business has fallen off 70 per cent in the last five years.

Kane's father opened the shop after arriving in Detroit as a Russian immigrant 52 years ego and Murray Kane didn't easily decide to sell out. Every lock, stock and barrel bears a memory.

"We've costumed some of the big ones," he says. "Burgess Meredith, Tallulah Bankhead, Molly Picon, Soupy Sales. We outfitted Jimmy Jewell — You know, the guy who invented the Lone Ranger over WXYZ radio. But it's all changed now."

In a few weeks all Kane's costumes will have been sold and he'll be an employe of a Detroit distributor for a plastic-coated carbon paper.

He plunks a Chinese mandoline and then scans rows of Kaiser Wilhelm helmets, Elizabethan crowns and plumed, medieval armor.

"How do you throw it away?" he asked.

Sander Levin Says Milliken More Like Caboose Than Engine

LANSING (AP) — Sander Levin, a Democrat who wants to be governor, told newsmen recently Republican Gov. Wm. Milliken has been "more the caboose than the engine of government."

Levin, a state senator from Berkley and one of three announced candidates for the Democratic nomination, said the basic question is one of leadership.

Levin charged Milliken has been slow to take stands on important issues, waiting until the issues become popular.

He said abortion reform was an example, that Michigan could have taken strides last year if Milliken had "raised his voice one decibel."

Levin said he would spell out during the campaign where he differs with Milliken's positions on specific issues. He acknowledged that he and the governor "agree on some things."

Both, for instance, support a wide-ranging pollution control bill which recently received a House committee's recommendation.

Levin was asked about his refusal to go along with the other Democratic candidates on a plan to limit primary campaign expenses to $50,000 each. The proposal was made jointly by Zolton Ferency, the party's 1966 candidate against George Romney, and Rep. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit.

Levin said "it costs more than $50,000 to adequately reach the public in three or four months." Based on 1968 figures, Levin added, that amount of money would buy only 30 one-minute ads on television in Detroit.

Levin said he felt he was "much better able to govern" than either Ferency or Montgomery, based on his record.

He also said he felt there should be a black candidate on the Democratic state ticket this year, but he was not ready to identify favorites for specific positions.

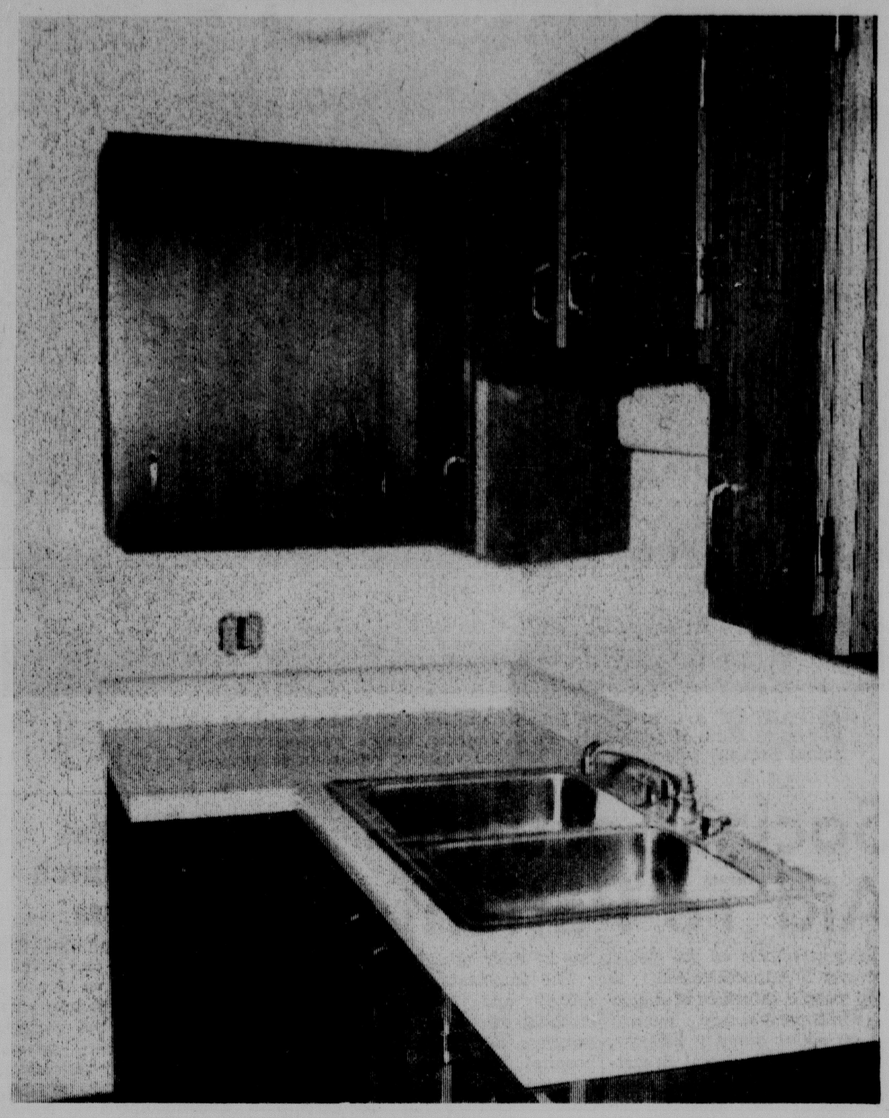
Commenting on recent troubles at the University of Michigan, Levin said he felt school president Robben Fleming handled the situation "with intelligence and restraint."

American Troop Reduction Noted

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command has announced that American troop strength in Vietnam dropped another 9,200 men last week, to 439,400. It is the lowest level in three years and results from continuance of President Nixon's third-phase withdrawal now nearing its final week.

The U.S. Command also announced that a detachment representing the 1st Infantry Division will fly Tuesday from Bien Hoa Air Base to the United States, completing the division's departure from Vietnam.

The 2,290-mile Volga River is Europe's longest river and the fifteenth longest in the world.



THIS MODEL KITCHEN is the efficient unit the senior citizens will have in their apartments in the high rise dwelling when they move in later this year, reports John Gannon, housing director. There will be 176 of these wood cabinet, preformed plastic top, stainless steel sink units — one in each of the 176 apartments in the 18-story tower which will be occupied by the elderly of low income. Controversial Issues Face State Lawmakers

LANSING (AP) — Fresh from a week-long spring break and champing at the campaign bit, Michigan lawmakers returned to Lansing today with some of the most controversial issues of the session yet to come.

Among top items on the list are abortion reform, taxes and spending — how much does who get and where is it coming from.

Little formal work is expected on the Legislature's first day in session this month, however, because of a scheduled visit by George Price, premier of Belize —a nation formerly part of British Honduras.

To Address Legislature

Price is to address a joint session of the Legislature Tuesday afternoon. His country is Michigan's "sister state" in the Partners of Alliance Program.

Neither House nor Senate is expected to act this week on the massive $1.2 billion state school aid bill or companion tax measure. The school aid proposal, which includes $22 million for parochiaid, passed the Senate at a substantially lower total.

The Senate still faces action on the House-approved amendments to the bill, but Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, has indicated there will be no action immediately.

Play Waiting Game

Senators are waiting to see what the House does with the so - called "Spencer-Ryan" tax proposal that would help pay for the school aid total—some $271 million over the total recommended by Gov. William Milliken.

The governor, who refuses to endorse any boost in the state income tax this year, turns thumbs down on the tax idea developed by Rep. Roy Spencer, R-Attica, and House Speaker William A. Ryan, D - Detroit, because of the increases it includes.

Ryan has indicated the tax proposal will not be acted upon in the lower chamber immediately. Backers still are trying to round up votes.

Abortion Reform

Meanwhile, the abortion reform question, although not yet officially before the entire Senate, already is turning into a battle.

Milliken has endorsed a sweeping reform measure that would allow a woman pregnant for three months or less to decide whether or not to have an abortion. Her doctor would be the only consultant involved.

Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, has introduced a bill incorporating nearly all Milliken's specifications. Amendments could turn the Bursley bill into an exact copy of what the governor said he would support.

Statement Criticized

But Milliken's abortion reform statement drew blasts from Sen. James Fleming of Jackson, a Republican who led the anti - abortion faction last year when the Senate turned down a reform measure.

Senate minority leader George Fitzgerald, D - Grosse Pointe, also entered the abortion fight shortly before the Easter recess. Fitzgerald, a staunch Roman Catholic, called for the Legislature to work on "bread-and-butter" issues, such as those dealing with labor, instead of concentrating on "glamour" topics like abortion reform.

Measures Studied

Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, R-Dearborn, says her Health, Social Services and Retirement Committee will begin work immediately on the question—deciding which of eight pending reform bills should be reported for floor action.

"We're going to come up with a good bill — maybe two — and we're going to be ready to answer all the questions and arguments," she says.

Left nearly unmentioned on legislative floors, meanwhile, are appropriations bills which must be passed by the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

Committees At Work

Intensive committee work has continued for weeks, but fiscal experts appear reluctant to write anything into law until they know where the money will come from.

Milliken's proposed cigarette tax increase and so - called tax "loophole" package have cleared the Legislature, practically assuring an added $65-$70 million for the state treasury.

But the governor said in his budget message that $143 million would be needed to enact all his spending recommendations.

His third proposed tax, involving partial repeal of the property tax credit on the income tax, remains stuck in the House.

All that — and a primary election just four months off.

Federal Meat Inspection Asked By Michigan Solons

By JACQUELINE KORONA

LANSING (AP)—Some Michigan legislators are tempted to dump the state's meat inspection program into the lap of the federal government.

"The Feds make the rules—let them pay for enforcing them," says one.

But State Department of Agriculture people, many operating in meat slaughtering and processing industries, don't want that to happen. Neither does the federal government.

Plants May Close

The department argues that federal inspection could mean closing of up to 50 per cent of Michigan's 192 slaughterhouses and 437 processing plants, while state inspection could keep them open and still provide high quality meat for consumers.

Debate revolved around a bill, now pending in the House Appropriations Committee, which would provide for state inspection of processing plants.

Michigan officials now inspect slaughterhouses, as well as the animals before and after they're killed. But they say they don't have the funds or manpower to fully inspect the processing plants.

Inspection Set

Federal regulations, however, call for states to have full slaughterhouse and processing plant inspection by next Dec. 15 to gain matching funds for their programs.

If both inspections are not in motion by Dec. 15, federal officials are to take over.

"If we turn this over to the federal government, we would lose any local control and many state industries are so small they could not meet the absolute federal requirements and would have to go out of business," says Dr. Charles Cole, assistant state veterinarian.

"Under federal supervision, there would be no provisions to allow any adjustment in facilities and equipment," he said.

Federal Requirement

For instance, Cole said, federal requirements call for 16-foot bleed rails and five-foot doors.

With a cooperative agreement, under which the federal government would pay half the $2.6 million program that would be carried out by Michigan, the state department director "has the right to waive requirements on facilities and equipment, so long as it does not interfere with a clean, wholesome product," Cole says.

Romney's Picture Ordered Off 1970 Election Ballot

LANSING (AP) — Michigan Republican officials have announced that the likeness of former Gov. George Romney would be removed from the party's 1970 ballot vignette.

The vignette, which appears over the column of GOP candidate names on a ballot, had carried the pictures of Romney and Abraham Lincoln.

State party chairman William McLaughlin reported today, however, that the vignette would carry only the picture of Lincoln and the word "Republican" across the top, beginning with the August primary election.

Gov. William Milliken supported the move earlier this year. State Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, who is battling Romney's wife Lenore for the party nomination for U.S. Senate this fall, had asked for the change.

"For the past several months, we have received inquiries regarding the 1970 vignette," McLaughlin said in an official statement which included no mention of Romney.

"These inquiries, coupled with discussions on the subject with people within the party, led us to a determination that there was ample interst in a change."

McLaughlin said the party commissioned its advertising agency early in January to create a new vignette.

"Authorization of the state central committee, as required by law, came last week," he reported.

"Because of the uncertainty of the mails," McLaughlin added, "we polled the 76 members by phone and, with one exception, (they) were unanimous in their approval of the new design."

Think you can't afford an Olds? Here are two reasons to think again!

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Olds costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with so-called low-priced cars. See your Olds dealer. He'll prove that you're closer to Olds than you think.

Cutlass S: The sporty Olds—priced right down with the low-priced names. Included as standard equipment: Recessed wipers. Hidden antenna. Deluxe steering wheel. Wall-to-wall carpeting. Door side-guard beams. Flo-Thru Ventilation. Rocket V-8. Bias-belted tires. Foam-padded seats.

Delta 88: The big Olds with the surprisingly modest price. Included in that price: Power steering. Power front disc brakes. Regular-gas Rocket V-8. Bigger 124-inch wheelbase for a smoother, quieter ride. All the room and comfort and luxury you could ever want.

OLDSMOBILE

"If you're unhappy with the phone company. I'll get you action."

"It happens.

"Sometimes people have a legitimate complaint against the phone company.

"But too often they go to someone else for an answer. When I should be the first to hear about it.

"I'm a service representative at Michigan Bell, and if you need an answer for a service slip up, call me first.

"We have a new way to handle complaints and unusual service requests much faster. Now if you should ever have a question for the phone company, you don't have to contact someone else.

"To take care of these hang ups, Michigan Bell has set up 'Customer Service Action Teams' in its local business offices.

"These teams are here to make sure you get what you're used to getting: the tops in service from Michigan Bell. Even on those out-of-the-ordinary requests.

" 'Customer Service Action Teams' are made up of specially trained people.

"They know the best ways to track down misplaced orders. To answer uncommon questions. To process even the most complicated service requests.

Mrs. Harold Anderson

Women Voters Pick President

Mrs. Harold Anderson was elected president of the Escanaba League of Women Voters at its annual meeting Monday night. She is library director of the Gladstone School and Public Library and is active in both school and library affairs.

Born in Ishpeming, Mrs. Anderson received her BS degree with distinction from Northern Michigan University and is presently completing requirements for a master's degree in library science at Western Michigan University.

She has been active in the MEA, having served as president of Region 17. In 1969 she received the outstanding teacher award of Region 17. She is listed in the 6th edition of "Who's Who of American Women." Mrs. Anderson also serves on the Delta County Library Board.

She is married to Harold Anderson, a teacher in the Gladstone High School, and has four sons.

Mrs. Anderson succeds Mrs. William Taylor.

Pinecrest Notes Rising Costs In Annual Report

The Pinecrest Board of Trustees in annual meeting recently heard Gene L. Marcantonio, administrator, review financial and statistical data covering the operations of Pinecrest Medical Care Facility in 1969.

Gross operating expenditures amounted to $1,080,862, compared to $1,062,838, in 1968 or an increase of almost 2 per cent. Patient care costs per patient day in 1969 amounted to $18.47 compared to $18.11 per patient day last year. The cost for medical services provided in 1969 was 22 cents per day the same as in 1968.

A wage increase negotiated with Pinecrest Employes Union plus the increased cost of health and welfare benefits accounted for the increase in expenditures in 1969.

Revenues in 1969 have increased approximately 8½ per cent over 1968, including special deficit appropriation granted by the three owner counties, Delta, Dickinson and Menominee.

Medicaid provided the largest amount of revenues for operation or $947,624, or 79½ per cent, while Medicare provided 3 per cent or $36,775.

It took $9.07 per patient day for nursing services in 1969 compared to $8.74 in 1968. All other ancillary services such as diversional therapy, physical therapy, X-ray and pharmacy amounted to approximately 74 cents per patient day in 1969 compared to 92 cents in 1968.

The patient occupancy in 1969 was 98.4 per cent compared to 98.3 per cent for 1968. Of the total days provided in 1969, 20,048 days of care were provided to Delta County residents at a cost to the county of $1.12 per patient day.

In 1969, 58 persons were admitted. Marcantonio said care is provided for 3 persons over 100 years of age and 20 persons over 90 years old, 72 are 80 years or older, while 42 are 70 years or older, 7 are age 65 to 69 and 17 are under 65 years of age.

In other business conducted by the Pinecrest Board of Trustees, Edward Murphy of Gladstone and a member of the Delta County Social Services Board was elected chairman, while Walter Veraghen of Powers and a member of the Menominee County Social Services Board was elected vice-chairman and Cliff Johnson of Kingsford and a member of the Dickinson County Social Services Board was elected to the office of Secretary.

Strawberry Crop

An area meeting for strawberry growers is scheduled for Monday, April 13 at the Chatham Experiment Station starting at 7:30 p.m. Interested growers are invited to attend.

William Thompson of Michigan State University will discuss control and other practices of importance to commercial strawberry growers.

Icefields Delay Shipping Season On Whitefish Bay

MARQUETTE — A few fishermen, braving what appeared to be dangerously thin ice, still were trying to hook lake trout in the upper harbor Sunday.

Their activities went undisturbed as the start of the iron ore shipping season, tentatively scheduled for Sunday or Monday, was delayed by monstrous icefields in Whitefish Bay.

The steamer Walter A. Sterling, flagship of the Cleveland-Cliffs fleet, was rerouted to Escanaba because of the ice barrier in the eastern end of Lake Superior after starting up the lakes for Marquette and the Lake Superior & Ishpeming Railroad loading dock at Presque Isle.

Railroad officials received word that another ship was headed this way, but didn't know when to expect it.

Conditions in Whitefish — where the ice extends far out into the lake north of Whitefish Point — were reported as the most severe since 1951.

Northwesterly winds have been blowing icefields from westerly Lake Superior and the Canadian shore toward the Whitefish Bay area.

AS PART OF A joint effort, Ralph Hamilton (left) who is patient affairs officer at Newberry State Hospital, and Fred Woelffer, claims representative of the Escanaba Social Security office, examine hospital records. Hamilton is formerly of Escanaba.

Social Security Aid To Patients

Despite efforts of the Social Security Administration to keep people informed of changes, some people are missing out on social security benefits, it is reported by Social Security.

Newberry State Hospital patients require additional attention, according to Arnold T. Williams, social security district manager in Escanaba and Dr. Cecil Baker, medical superintendent of the hospital, and they are getting it.

With the cooperation of the hospital staff, the Social Security Administration is re-screening hospital records of patients who are not presently receiving benefit payments to see if any of the recent laws reducing work requirements for younger workers or new disabled widow rules would entitled additional patients to social security checks.

The hospital is presently receiving social security benefits on behalf of over 350 patients amounting to over $200,000 a year. In addition, approximately 200 more patients have informal or legal guardians receiving and disbursing benefits in their behalf.

The importance of spending money and funds for new clothing in the day to day progress and rehabilitation of hospital patients cannot be stressed enough, Dr. Baker stated, and social security benefits are a source of these funds.

In addition, any funds over and above immediate patient needs are used to defray hospital costs and reduce the tax burden of Michigan residents.

Briefly Told

There will be public High School religion Wednesday, at 7 p.m. at Holy Name High School.

$500,000 Damages In Downstate Fire

BELLEVUE (AP) — A fire early this morning did an estimated half a million dollars damage to the American Door Manufacturing Co. in Bellevue.

Officials said they believe no one was injured in the blaze. Cause of the fire is unknown.

About 50 firemen from Bellevue, Charlotte, Olivet and Penfield fought the fire and were still on the scene at 6 a.m.

GLADSTONE

Parent-Teacher Conferences Set

Parent - teacher conferences are scheduled at the Gladstone Elementary Schools for grades 1-6 Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Gerald Danhoff, elementary principal, said "The elementary staff feels it is very important to have these conferences to enable teachers to communicate with every parent on the progress of each child within the district." Each conference will be limited from 10-15 minutes.

Staff members will be able to present parents information concerning student progress to date, possible promotion or retention, policies of the district, and general information about testing done during the school year, Danhoff said.

Children will attend regular classes in the mornings on Thursday and Friday. Students who ride the bus will be returned after school closes at the regular noon dismissal time and no hot lunch will be served to the elementary students on these days, Danhoff said.

Kindergarten students will attend regular classes on Thursday and Friday as they will not be involved in the conferences.

School To Host Suomi Singers

The Suomi Singers, a vocal and instrumental group of 31 students from Suomi College at Hancock, will appear at the Gladstone High School at 2:15 p. m. Thursday.

The Singers, directed by Kathleen K. Holyoak, will present patriotic, folk, novelty, pop, and sacred vocal and instrumental music. The group sings, using solo and sextet arrangements, guitar and drum accompaniments, and changes of costume to communicate good news through music as a joyful experience.

An international 1969 tour of the Suomi Singers to Canada was applauded at schools and churches.

Suomi is a fully accredited regional Lutheran junior college, the only pirvate college in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Students from Suomi are on their 24th annual spring tour.

Powers-Spalding

Pre-Kindergarten

Pre-registration for kindergarten students who will begin school in the fall of 1970 will be held at the Powers-Spalding Public School on Monday, April 20. Parents whose last names begin with the letters A through P should bring their youngsters to school between 8:30 and 11:30 a.m. Parents whose last names begin with the letters R through Z should come in between 1 and 3:30 p.m. A child must be 5 years old on or before Dec. 1, 1970 to be eligible for enrollment this fall.

Speech-Hearing Clinic Successful Endeavor

The pre-school Speech and Hearing Clinic, conducted by the Delta-Schoolcraft Intermediate School District, has been rated a success by the Coordinator of Speech and Hearing, Dave Featheringill.

The clinic which was originally designed to run for one week, had to be extended to two weeks and then to three weeks because of "parent interest."

During the three week clinic, 172 pre-school children, ranging in age from 6½ months to 6 years old, were evaluated for speech, language and hearing problems. Of the 172 evaluated, 78 were found to have a significant problem in one or more of the areas tested.

Thirty-five of the 78 children were found to have a significant language problem that requires consideration before kindergarten placement.

A summer program has been planned for these children. The six week program will run from June 15 to July 25. Program centers are tentatively scheduled for the Flat Rock, Gladstone, Escanaba, Rapid River, Bark River-Harris, Manistique and Big Bay de Noc areas.

The program is parent-child oriented and is designed to help the parent help the child at home. During the six weeks, the child and parent would attend two hours per day, five days a week, for the six week program. At the end of the six weeks, it is expected that the parent would continue the program for the remainder of the summer.

Those parents and children eligible for the program will be contacted some time during the first week of May when final scheduling will take place. Also included as part of the summer program will be those children repeating kindergarten because of speech and language problems.

Division Title Won By Knicks

NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Barnett, the wondrous Old Man of the New York Knicks, was skirting friendly, verbal pokes about his age and stamina.

"It's performance that counts, not my age," said the National Basketball Association veteran who's on the verge of 34. "I believe I've still got five more years in this league."

Believe, believe. He looked as agile as a startled gazelle Monday night, scoring 29 points to pace New York's 127-114 victory over Baltimore that gave the Knicks their Eastern Division semifinal series, four games to three.

The victory, before a rowdy full house of 19,500 at Madison Square Garden, shot the Knicks into the Eastern finals against Milwaukee. The best-of-7 series starts Saturday afternoon in New York.

Phoenix, holding a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 Western semifianls with Los Angeles, hosts the Lakers in the only NBA action tonight.

Barnett, guarded by Baltimore's magnificent Earl Monroe, admittedly went for the basket often "to try to put Monroe on defense more ... and maybe affect his offensive game."

Monroe wound up with a game-high 32 points, but his performance wasn't enough to offset the Knicks' well balanced effort that had Barnett crowing, "It was a heck of a team game."

The Knicks' Willis Reed agreed: "We came to play, asking ourselves if we wanted to start our vacations early ... or continue the playoffs.

"It was the best all-around game we've played in the playoffs. I wasn't going so well, so Guy hit others who had the hot hand."

Dave DeBusschere, the Knicks' graceful forward, was one of them. He scored 29 points, 18 in the second half as the Knicks blew Baltimore off the court.

Tigers Win Opener Behind Lolich, 5-0

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit lefthander Mickey Lolich, winner of 19 games in 1969, says he developed a new pitch this spring. Check with the Washington Senators if you want to know if its effective.

Lolich, filling in for the suspended Tiger ace Denny McLain, shut out the Senators 5-0 Monday in a drawn out affair played in a cold drizzle and partly in front of President Nixon.

"I call it the classified pitch," Lolich said in the dressing room after the game, adding jokingly that he would not say more about it because "The hitters may incriminate me."

Lolich said he threw the new pitch often during the rain-delayed game in which he struck out 10 while twice working his way out of bases-loaded jams.

He also said he couldn't remember when he had as much stuff on the ball as he did during the 3-hour, 43-minute affair, although he didn't know the reason for it.

"I had great stuff," he said. "The fast ball was running all over the place and the curve ball was fantastic. I would throw a curve ball at the outside and it would break three feet.

"It was a matter of getting adjusted to all that stuff," he said. "If I had that much stuff all the time, it would be great."

The Tigers got off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Willie Horton drilled a bases-loaded double down the left field line. They shoved across the three other runs in the late innings while Nixon watched.

The President had turned over the ceremonial chore of throwing out the first ball to his son-in-law, David Eisenhower, because of a crucial Senate vote on the nomination of G. Harrold Carswell to the Supreme Court.

After Nixon scored an impressive victory in a 52-44 vote, the Pres dent turned up at the ballpark in the fifth inning to join David, his two daughters, Julie and Tricia, and his wife, Pat.

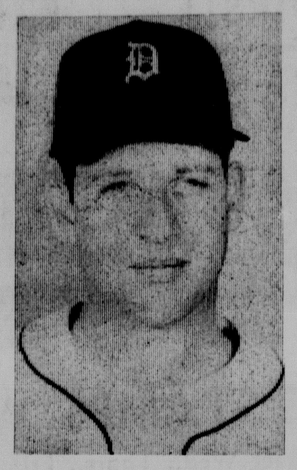
After the game, Nixon — a Washington fan-waved to the Senators as he left the park and wished them better luck during the rest of the year.

Detroit manager Mayo Smith said the victory wasn't an easy one and he was especially concerned about the number of men the Tigers left on base, 17, one less than a major league mark.

The two teams stranded a total of 29, also only one shy of the major league record.

"We've got to do better than that," Smith said, "but if we keep playing the way we have lately, we will be all right."

Washington manager Ted Williams was disappointed his team was shut out but blamed much of it on Lolich and the cold weather.



Mickey Lolich

"Lolich was tough today," Williams said, "but we've got to hit better than that. It was a cold day and it's tough to hit in this kind of weather.

"The ball didn't go today but it will be going when the sun burns off the cold. The ball has a lot of jack in it."

"It all amounted to us not making any runs and Lolich pitching a real good game," said Williams.

Cincinnati Raps Expos, Merritt Hurls 3-Hitter

CINCINNATI (AP) — Everyone has conceded the Cincinnati Reds have hitting power and, at least for the first game of the season, they also came up with the pitching which was so sadly lacking in 1969.

They put the power and the pitching together for a 5-1 victory Monday over the Montreal Expos in the 1970 National League opener before 30,124 fans, shivering from a cold wind and dampened by intermittent rain.

Jim Merritt pitched 6 1-3 innings of hitless ball before Rusty Staub slammed a triple, and the lefthander wound up with a three-hitter.

"I had fantastic control," Merritt aid. "That was the biggest thing going for me."

Merritt, who struck out eight and walked only two, has never hurled a no-hitter and commented that "I've always said that I wouldn't worry about a no-hitter until I have one out to go."

Catcher John Bench said that "this is early in the year but his control was pure July. He made only two or three bad pitches in the whole game."

The performance seemed even more outstanding since he fractured the right elbow the day before he was to leave for spring training and he saw only very limited action in exhibition games.

On the offense, Cincinnati lived up to its reputation of being a strong hitting club as Lee May, rookie Bernie Carbo and Bobby Tolan blasted homers to produce a four-run fourth inning—all the runs the Reds needed although May hit a sacrifice fly the next inning for the final tally.

"Everybody in both leagues knows they can hit the ball," said Montreal pitcher Joe Sparma who was touched for all five runs. "That wasn't a shock to me."

Bench opened the fourth with a double. May blasted one over the scoreboard that had to be a tape-measure job. It went over into Western avenue and through a runway that leads under Interstate-75.

Police and a few kids pursued it.

Carbo followed with his home run and, after two went out, Tolan knocked his into the right field edge of the right field bleachers.

A triple by Pete Rose and May's sacrifice fly produced the Reds last run.

Staub, a confirmed major - leaguer, broke Merritt's no-hit spell with a booming triple off the right centerfield wall and scored on Ron Fairly's single.

The Reds left immediately after the game for Los Angeles where they will play the Dodgers tonight with Gary Nolan of the Reds going against Claude Osteen. Osteen hails from Reading, a Cincinnati suburb, and once was with the Reds.

NHL To Study Rules Revision

MONTREAL (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said Monday the league's governors will probably take action at the annual meeting in June to change the system for determining playoff positions.

Campbell commented in the wake of an uproar over the tactics used in Sunday's windup games by New York and Montreal, who were deadlocked for the fourth and final playoff spot in the NHL Eastern Division.

Under NHL rules teams tied in game points at the end of the season break the tie by comparing their goals scored records.

New York won the playoff spot but the Rangers pulled goalie Ed Giacomin in an attempt to pile up goals against Detroit even though it would have meant giving up goals to the Red Wings. Montreal did the same thing later Sunday in an effort to outscore New York.

"The clubs were doing the right thing under existing regulations," said Campbell. "It is up to the governors to make any changes."

He said he would include his thoughts on the subject in a report to the governors in June. "I'm sure it will be subject for consideration then."

The NHL president suggested one solution might be to adopt a system similiar to the Canadian Football League, which breaks ties by considering the record of games between the deadlocked teams. If that fails, the CFL considers the scoring offense and scoring defense records between the teams in question and as a last resort, the over-all points scored and yielded.

Black Hawks Elated Over Winning Title

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks' stunning rise from the cellar to a championship in one season turned out to be one of the great uphill battles in hockey history.

Not only did they have to win their last two games from the defending champion Montreal Canadiens, but with only a quarter of the season remaining, the Hawks were in fifth place only one step away from the basement in the Eastern Division of the National Hockey League.

At the time they were worried they might not even make the Stanley Cup playoffs. But they kept plugging away, climbng notch by notch until they finally captured the whole show with a stunning 10-2 victory over the Canadiens Sunday night.

How did they do it? Coach Billy Reay starts out singing the laurels of Tony (Zero) Esposito whose goal tending feats earned him a record 15 shutouts and the Vezina Trophy.

"Then, too, there's the Pit Martin line, the kids, the willingness of the veterans and the acquisition of defenseman Bill White," said Reay, who was carried off the ice on the shoulders of his players Sunday night.

As the Hawks paraded Reay around the ice, the fans were shouting the refrain "We're No. 1, we're No. 1." A year ago the same fans were singing "Good Bye Billy."

"We weren't that bad a year ago," reflected Reay in trying to explain the Hawks' tremendous comeback. "Goal tending was our big problem and our defensive work wasn't the greatest."

Esposito took care of the goal tending and the rebuilding of the defense began with the shifting of veteran Doug Mohns from forward to defense. Rookie Keith Magnuson added a new dimension on defense and when Pat Stapleton suffered a knee injury, the Hawks acquired White in a trade with Los Angeles.

Along with Magnuson and Esposito, the Hawks also relied heavily on rookie forwards Cliff Koroll and Jerry Pinder and defenseman Paul Shmyr.

"Everyone figured the kids would collapse under pressure in the final drive," said Reay. "But instead of collapsing they kept getting stronger.

Hockey Playoff Schedule Ready

NEW YORK (AP) — The Stanley Cup quarter-final playoffs will begin April 8 with all four series running parallel, the National Hockey League announced Monday.

The quarter-finals will begin Wednesday night with Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis and Oakland at Pittsburgh. The teams will meet again at the same sites April 9. The teams then shift sites for games April 11 and .2.

If more than four games are required, game No. 5 will be played April 14 in the city in which the series started, then shift sites again for game No. 6 on April 16. If a seventh game is required it will be played in the city where the series started either April 18 or 19.

Here's the way the four series lineup at a glance:

April 8 and 9—Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis, Oakland at Pittsburgh.

April 11 and 12—Chicago at Detroit, Boston at New York, St. Louis at Minnesota, Pittsburgh at Oakland.

April 14 (if necessary)—Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis, Oakland at pittsburgh.

April 16 (if necessary)—Detroit at Chicago, New York at Boston, Minnesota at St. Louis, Oakland at Pittsburgh.

Sports In Brief

Six Tiger pitchers had perfect 1.000 fielding averages in 1969. The hurlers to go errorless were Bob Reed, Fred Scherman, Gary Taylor, Fred Lasher, Tom Timmerman and Daryl Patterson.

Michigan State senior halfback Don Highsmith played in three post-season bowl games. He saw action in the Blue-Gray, American Bowl and Senior Bowl contests.

Apprentice jockey Charlie Maffeo rode a record total of 66 winners at the recent Tropical Park meeting.

Minnesota's Williams Arena is the largest college-owned basketball facility in the world. It seats 18,025 but held 20,176 for a 1955 game with Iowa.

Canadiens Are Upset By Being Eliminated

DETROIT (AP) — Amid conflicting reports about who is and isn't mad about the Detroit Red Wings' performance in losing 9-5 against New York Sunday, the Wings prepare to take on Chicago in the Stanley Cup playoffs Wednesday and Thursday nights.

One Detroit columnist says CBS officials may have second thoughts about renewing the National Hockey League's television contract because of what he called "a black eye" suffered by the game.

A competing columnist wrote today that "nothing could be farther from the truth" and "CBS was estatic over the Rangers making the playoffs" because New York is the top television market in the country. However, he added, The Montreal Canadiens, the NHL team that New York beat out of the playoffs by piling up so many last - game goals against the Wings, "are incensed over the Red Wings' performance..."

The crux of the controversy is the way the league determines who will get into the playoffs. All else being equal, as in the case of the Rangers and Canadiens who finished with equal defeats, ties and victories, the deciding factor is who scored most points in the season. New York's drubbing of the Red Wings's second - line which played most of Sunday's game gave the Rangers a 246-to-244 season edge over Montreal.

Meanwhile, in Chicago the Black Hawks are more interested in what lies ahead than who's telling the truth about last Sunday. They want to take the Stanley Cup with them when they switch from the NHL Eastern Division to the Western Division under the expansion program of the 1970-71 season.

"We're not going over there as second - rate citizens," crowed general manager Tommy Ivan after the Hawks 10-2 win over Montreal Sunday night to give them the Eastern Division crown.

The Hawks, who became the first team in NHL history to climb from last to first, haven't won the Stanley Cup since 1961.

"This club is ready," said Stan Mikita. "Three years ago I was more elated and we had a bigger celebration because it was the first time we had won the championship. This time we'll hold off the big celebration for later.

"The last time we won it big," continued Mikita. "When the playoffs started, we were flat and Toronto didn't have much trouble with us. But this year we've had to battle all the way. We're mentally sharp and in good shape physically, too."

Bobby Hull, who like Mikita is a holdover from the 1961 Stanley Cup champions, feels the Hawks can go all the way this time.

"This is the greatest team I've ever played with," said the Golden Jet. "We might have had better individuals in other years but for hustle, spirit and pride this has to be one of the greatest teams in league history."

Pit Martin, the big hero in the Black Hawk resurgence who climaxed it with a hat trick in the final victory, claims, "We're No. 1 and we're going to stay that way. The way we're playing now, there's no reason why we can't go all the way."

Manager Preston Gomez of the San Diego Padres broke into organized baseball with the 1944 Washington Senators. He played eight games and spent the rest of his playing days as a minor league shortstop.

Esky Bowlers Shine Sunday At Green Bay

GREEN BAY — Escanaba Bowlers were one of the top attractions Sunday afternoon in the annual Press-Gazette Individual Bowling Championships at the Fox River Lanes.

Dolores Annear swept into sixth place in the women's standings with a 535-52—587, including the best women's game to date, a 235. Her 235 game and 535 series were both season highs for her, as her best previous effort was a 530 in the Holiday Bowl's Thursday Night League.

Mrs. Annear's 235 game was built around eight strikes, including four straight in the opening four frames.

Tom Gregoire was high among the men with a 556-92—648, which included a big 231 game. Following Gregoire were Ed McCarthy, 542-72—614; Jack Annear, 517-92—609; Ed Larche, 505-56—561; Bob Corriveau, 510-48—558 and Ray Moran, 446-108—554.

Other top women scorers were Millie Jensen, 449-120—569; Romona Abel, 471-94—565; Ruth Stade, 431-120—551; Gaye Corriveau, 424-106—530; Parma Martineau, 422-98—520; Pat McCarthy 415-90—505 and Vera Issacson of Gladstone, 425-80—505.

Split pickers were Bud Stade, 5-6 and 3-10; Ed Larche 5-10 and 3-10; Bob Corriveau 9-10 and 3-10 and Marian Tibergien of Gladstone, 4-5 and 3-10.

In addition, Dolores Annear, Carol Gregoire and Pat McCarthy won steak dinners for getting four strikes in succession.

MILWAUKEE WELCOMES BREWERS — Some 8,000 Milwaukee Brewers baseball fans jam Milwaukee airport to welcome their new team late Sunday night. Many persons carried children and signs and one even carried an old Milwaukee Braves pennant. (AP Wirephoto)

Brewers Go On Display In Season Opener Today

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The second edition of "the Milwaukee story" unveiled here today when the Milwaukee Brewers and the California Angeles squared off to open their 1970 American League baseball season.

More than 30,000 fans were expected to be on hand for Milwaukee's first American League team since 1901, and the city's first major league team since the Braves fled to Atlanta after the 1965 season.

Baseball also rolled out its big guns for the opener, including Commissioner and Mrs. Bowie Kuhn and the Angels' big brass.

The opener caps a flurry of activity that started just a week ago today when Seattle bankruptcy referee Sidney C. Volinn gave permission to the Brewers to buy the financially-embarrassed Seattle Pilots.

The purchase ended a five-year search by Milwaukee Brewers Baseball Club Inc. for a major league franchise. The organization was formed after the National League gave the Braves permission to abscond to Atlanta.

But a court order stayed the Braves' move for one year and the Hank Aaron-led team still drew 555,584 fans.

Brewers officials said Monday the shortness of time may prevent a complete sell-out of the 47,000-seat County Stadium. Because of the court action, which was not completed until Thursday, single-game tickets did not go on sale until Friday.

Allan H. (Bud) Selig, Brewers president, announced Monday night that 3,349 season tickets had been sold, in addition to 19,275 single-game tickets for games today and Wednesday.

The frenzied pace to prepare for the opening of the season was noted by Brewers general manager Marvin Milkes, who said: "We have four months of work to do in four days."

The "dream came true" ends an arduous search by Selig and his group. The Brewers first applied unsuccessfully for American and National League expansion franchises in August, 1965.

Then the corporation sponsored an exhibition game between the Chicago White Sox and the Minnesota Twins in 1968 that drew a crowd of 51,144, the largest sports audience ever at County Stadium.

In 1968, the White Sox played nine American League season games in Milwaukee, then upped their schedule here in 1969 to 11 championship games.

Following the 1968 season, the corporation applied for a National League expansion franchise, and once again was turned down.

When the Pilots were toppled by financial problems, the Brewers went to the rescue, buying the Seattle club for a reported $10.8 million.

The baseball team arrived in its new home Sunday night, with the players being welcomed by an estimated 8,000 persons.

Ishpeming Pair Second In ABC

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Two Ishpeming, Mich., brothers — Bob and Don Maki — whose combined age is 37 rolled their way into second place of regular doubles standings of the American Bowling Congress Tournament Monday by registering 1,310.

Bob, a 17-year-old senior at Ishpeming High who has been bowling only two years, racked up a 682 series for his highest ever and Don contributed a 628.

Leroy Langanger of Minneapolis, Minn., grabbed sixth place in regular singles by posting 688, Langanger also is 20 years old.

The leaders after Monday afternoon competition included Frito Lay's Potato Chips, Lansing, Mich., in first place among regular teams, with 3,057 points, followed by AAA Trucking Corp., Scranton, Pa., with 3,052.

Among the regular singles, Lee Anderson of Muskegon, Mich., stood in third place with 711 points.

In regular all-events, Paul Moore, Warren, Mich., was fourth with 1,947 points.

All-State Star To Attend NMU

MARQUETTE (AP)—All-State football player Bruce Remington of Bay City Central has signed a letter of intent to enroll at Northern Michigan University. Remington, a 6-foot-1, 192-pound fullback, ranks No. 1 in his graduating class.

NMU, meanwhile, has announced that Mike Matter of Royal Oak and Tom Schwab of Waukegan, Ill., will cocaptain next year's swimming team.

Boys' Table Tennis Champ Is Crowned

Glenn Wangerin captured the 1970 Intermediate Boys Table Tennis Championships at the Bonifas Civic Center last night when he defeated Dave Moberg 16-21, 21-17 and 23-21 in the title contest. Wangerin had previously defeated Mike Olson 21-16, 21-17; and Bill Tellefson 21-15, 24-22.

Moberg took second by defeating Dan Possi 21-8, 21-10; and Tom Kangas 21-13, 21-14; before bowing to Wangerin.

Third place went to Bill Tellefson, who defeated Dan Bougie 21-8, 21-11; lost to Wangerin; and then defeated Tom Kangas 21-12, 21-15 in the consolation match.

Kangas took fourth by defeating Bob Nygaard 21-19, 17-21, 21-17 before bowing to Moberg and Tellefson.

Table Tennis competition will continue at the Bonifas Civic Center tonight with the Junior Boy's tournament beginning at 6:30 p.m. Senior Men's competition will be held on Wednesday, and the Girls Open on Thursday. Entries will be accepted until tournament time.

Beard, Hill To Challenge Establishment In Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Two of golf's emerging superstars, Frank Beard and Dave Hill, are ready to challenge the pro game's establishment for the coveted green jacket that goes to the winner of the Masters.

Those two, tour veterans in their early 30's, came into their own last year and, as much as anyone else dominated the pro tour. Neither, however, has won a major title.

But now, they say, they're ready.

"I guess you could say it's more of an obsession with me now than ever before," said the soft-spoken Beard, a relatively bland, colorless character in the mold of a Billy Casper.

Like Casper, about the only thing outstanding about him is his golf game. It brought him to titles in 1969 along with $177,000 that made him the leading money winner.

"Sure, I'm shooting for it, more than ever before," the flamboyant, outspoken Hill said after a practice round Monday. "I've been off for four weeks just practicing for it."

Hill, a thin, dark young man who came up from the caddie ranks and spent years of obscurity on the tour, won three events last year, captured the Vardon Trophy for the best stroke average and was second on the money list.

Both are among the favorites in this first of the world's four major championships, a 72-hole test that begins Thursday on the famed Augusta National Golf Club course.

And each said his game is whipping into shape.

"I'm playing pretty good right now," said Beard, a Louisville, Ky., native who took one of his rare week's off just prior to the Masters to rest.

"I'm playing a lot better than I have in some time," he said. "Maybe not as good as I'd like to, but better.

"Yes, you could say I'm gunning for tis one. It's not that I'm doing anything differently, but with the accomplishments I was fortunate enough to achieve last year, well, winning a major title or possibly the Vardon Trophy is about all that's left.

"So my desire for a major title has increased. That sort of thing does as the years go by."

Hill, sporting a new pair of granny, wire-rimmed glasses — "It's a whole new world for ol' Davy out there now that he can see it"—has been in Augusta since Friday sharpening his considerable skills.

Former NBA Cage Star, Stokes, Dies

CINCINNATI (AP) — A long, "courageous" battle has ended for former National Basketball Association star Maurice Stokes who had lived basketball from his hospital bed since being stricken by encephalities in 1958.

"He was always watching or listening to games," Jack Twyman, Stokes' guardian and one-time teammate said of the "Mighty Mo" who died Monday from a heart attack. "We talked a lot about the days when he was an active player."

Stokes, 36, was named the NBA's rookie of the year in the 1955 season when he played for the old Rochester Royals who moved to Cincinnati in 1958. He was headed toward becoming one of the sport's greats when he was stricken following an injury in a game.

Encephalaties, a brain injury, left him parlyzed and bedridden most of the time but he managed to regain the ability to feed himself, write, and type.

"You'll never know, meet or read about anybody as courageous as Maurice," Twyman said. "I never heard the man complain in 12 years of lying on his back.

"To everybody that knew Maurice it was a great loss and he was a great man. "I'm better for having know him. It's hard to put down on paper the way I feel. Ernest Hemingway couldn't do it."

"Stokes averaged over 15 points a game and 15 rebounds in his last season. He was selected to the all-NBA second team all three years.

Before turning pro, Stokes played at St. Francis College in Loretto, Pa.

Only a few weeks ago, he received one of the thrills of his life. He was voted by fans to the Cincinnati Royals' Hall of Fame.

Visitation will be at the auditorium at Good Samaritan Hospital from 6 to 9 p. m. Wednesday. Mass of the Resurrection will be celebrated Thursday at the St. Francis College chapel and burial will be in the Franciscan Community Cemetery on campus.

He is survived by his mother, a brother and a sister.

Bovin, Smith Elected To Commission Seats

Douglas Bovin, incumbent commissioner and a Holy Name High School teacher, and William Smith, owner of the Shorewood Motel, won election to three-year terms on the City Commission in Gladstone's Municipal election Tuesday.

Bovin polled a total of 562 votes to lead the field of five candidates. Smith ran a close second with 526 votes.

They were followed by Thomas Elegeert Jr. with 477, Elmer Caron with 375 and Constance Verhamme with 227.

Bovin, 1607 Lake Shore Dr., was first named to the commission two years ago to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Frank Stupak. He won election last year to complete the remainder of the unexpired term and now has been elected to his first full term.

Smith has been a resident of Gladstone since purchasing the Shorewood Motel nearly three years ago. This was his first try at an elective office in the city.

Use Machines

A total of 47.9 per cent of the 2,353 registered voters in the city turned out at the polls with 1,127 residents voting for the first time on the city's new voting machines and under a reorganized two-precinct system.

Election officials reported there were 51 absentee ballots tallied.

Workers Reduced

Little difficulty with the voting machines was noted in the voting as demonstration machines were set up to assist voters before entering the polling machines. City officials noted that only 10 workers, including two to demonstrate the machines, were needed to conduct the election, compared with 16 under the four-precinct, paper ballot system. Results were available at 8:30 p.m. Monday night, well in advance of the time they were reported when paper ballots had to be counted.

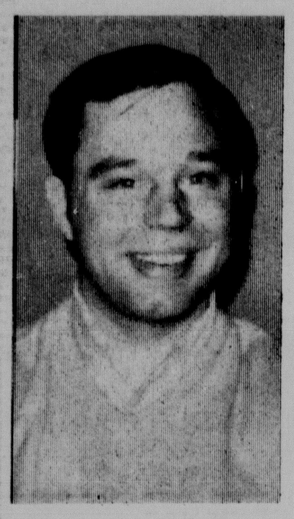
MANISTIQUE

Newcomer, Incumbent Voted To City Council



Douglas Rose

Thor Reque

City voters chose newcomer Douglas Rose and incumbant Thor Reque to four-year terms on the City Council in Monday's Municipal election.

Rose proved to be the top voter getter, leading the field of four candidates with 546 votes. Reque was second with 528.

Daniel C. Barber placed third with 439 votes and Raymond Krusic was fourth with 324.

Reque and Rose will be seated next Monday night. Rose could be the Council's choice for mayor for the next two years since the honorary title sometimes goes to the leading candidate in each election.

Rose, 26, is a switchman with General Telephone Co. and has been a resident of Manistique since 1967. He resides at 111 Intake Park Rd. This was his first try for elective office.

Reque, a retired schoolteacher who is being returned for a second term on the city council, lives at 631 Oak St.

More than half of the city's 2,224 registered voters stayed home during the election. A total of 981 voters went to the polls, according to City Clerk Ralph Ekstrom. There were 55 absentee ballots tallied.

The Board of Canvassers meets tonight in the courthouse to certify the result.

An unofficial breakdown of the vote, by precincts:

	Precinct 1 Lincoln School	Precinct 2 Youth Center	Precinct 3 Lakeside School	TOTALS (Including Absentees)
Barber	179	104	140	439
Krusic	151	88	78	324
Rose	281	113	172	576
Reque	179	130	197	528

Legal War Near End?

Schools May Get State's $127,000

The Manistique Area public schools' lengthy legal battle with the State Department of Education may be resolved with the district some $127,000 richer in back state aid payments.

The schools and their legal counsel, Herbert and Wood, were notified Monday that the Michigan Supreme Court had denied the State Department of Education's right to appeal a ruling in favor of the district.

The department filed for an appeal last August after a State Court of Appeals decision that the Manistique district should be reimbursed for additional 1966-67 and 1967-68 state aid payments. The suit originally was filed in May, 1968, in the Court of Appeals in Lansing.

Attorney William F. Hood, now a circuit judge, represented the district.

Challenge State

The hassel arose when the area schools challenged the State Department of Education on its interpretation of the state's 1965 School Reorganization Act. Manistique was the only school district in the state to file a suit questioning the interpretation.

At issue was a provision stipulating that each reorganized district not receive less state aid as a total district than it would have received in the same year had it not reorganized. Through voter approval, Manistique became a consolidated district July 25, 1966, joining with every township in the county except Inwood and Seney.

Can Seek Hearing

Shortly after the favorable Appeals decision, the Attorney General's office offered to settle the matter with a $7,000 plus payment based, they said, on their interpretation of the judgment. The district then filed a request with the Appeals Court for reimbursement based on $126,376 which was approved.

The State Department of Education may yet apply for a rehearing on its application for rights for appeal before the State Supreme Court. There has been no indication that such action is contemplated. The application must be filed before April 19.

Hit, Run Driver Injures Cyclist

An 18-year old youth was injured and required hospitalization afer a motorcycle he was riding was struck by a hit-and-run driver at 11:30 Monday morning.

Public Safety officers said Leon A. Brunner, 120 S. Mackinac Ave., was riding his cycle across the Siphon Bridge and turning onto E. Elk St. when an unknown motorist pulled from the stop sign at E. Elk and River Sts. and struck the cycle on its right side. The motorist did not stop after the mishap.

The boy was taken by city police to the hospital. The accident is under investigation by city officers.

Hospital

Admitted to the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital over the weekend were Genevra Ruggles, Melvin Dixon, David Marks, Timothy Rose, Patricia Stapleton and Fern Streeter.

Discharged were Conrad Jahn, Carl Anderson, Edith Mortenson, Albert Kokesh, Joseph VanDyke, Melvin Dixon, Sonja Gehrett and baby, Ronald Rosie, Steven Wayne, Patricia Stapleton and Demaris Jewett.

We Can't Resist...

. . . the urge to merge! Beginning on April 8, the Four Seasons, a member of the Fair Store family and one of Upper Michigan's truly finest women's apparel stores, will be located on the second floor of the Fair Store.

Now, let us be more specific. The Four Seasons will be closed and all the great brands of the Four Seasons will now be available at the Fair Store. Your favorites such as "Aileen", "Russ Togs", "Personal", "Donnkenny", "Juniorite", "Exquisite Form", "Davenshire" and "Northlander" will now be available for one-stop shopping at the ever changing and ever growing Fair Store.

For Escanaba and Upper Michigan this means the largest and finest selection of ladies' apparel to be found anywhere in your shopping area. The second floor of the Fair Store will be remodeled to accommodate this exciting expansion.

Just one advantage will be that the finest brands can now be purchased with one charge account.

Everyone at the Fair Store and the Four Seasons is looking forward to this exciting merger. We believe you, too, will enjoy this shopping bonanza. Stop in soon . . . but give yourself plenty of time . . . there's so much to see.

We have heard you ask "What's going into the Four Seasons building?" WE ARE, with a new type of shop that we expect will delight you. Watch for our announcement.
